Social Structure and Self-direction Melvin L. Kohn, 1993 Social Structure, Work, and Personality Melvin L. Kohn, 1990 Parental well-being Barbara Holthus, Hans Bertram, 2018-10-17 Pursuing happiness is not only idealistic it is the world's best and perhaps only hope to avoid global catastrophe Global Happiness Policy Report 2018 With that the report argues for happiness as overarching policy goal This volume argues that parental well being is well qualified to assume a central role for governments of industrially advanced nations that are in need of coping with the challenges of low fertility and societal aging More than 4000 mothers and fathers of young children in Germany and Japan have been surveyed in regard to their well being and satisfaction with many aspects related to their work and family lives The volume brings together 13 scholars to analyze this unique dataset The chapters fall into three main parts 1 parenting and childcare 2 self social relatedness and social structures and 3 family policy well being A particular focus lies on the well being of mothers in contrast to fathers The volume uses a multidimensional concept of parental well being with each chapter highlighting one dimension ranging from health education employment and family policy satisfaction to partnership social network and childcare satisfaction National differences are in several aspects superseded by gender class and personality types The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union Organised by discipline it covers the arts humanities social sciences life sciences and technology Parents' Jobs and Children's Lives Toby Lee Parcel, Elizabeth G. Menaghan, Parents Jobs and Children's Lives considers the effects of parental working conditions on children's cognition and social development It also investigates how parental work affects the home environments that parents create for their children and how these home environments influence the children directly The theoretical underpinnings of the book draw from both sociology and economics in addition the authors make use of literature derived from developmental psychology Theoretically eclectic they rely on the personality and social structure framework developed by Melvin Kohn and his colleagues on arguments regarding the importance of family social capital developed by James Coleman as well as on ideas from Gary Becker's new home economics as guides to model specification The empirical basis for Parcel and Menaghan's study is a series of multivariate analyses using data drawn from the 1986 and 1988 waves of the National Longitudinal Survey's Child Mother data set This data set matches longitudinal data on mothers derived from the National Longitudinal Survey of Youth with data on the children of these mothers born as of 1986 Children aged 3 to 6 were given age appropriate developmental assessments every two years in order to assess the influence of parental work on short term changes in their cognition and social behavior The authors also devote considerable attention to the effects of fathers work and family structure on the well being of their children Parcel and Menaghan's work brings evidence to bear on both the theoretical perspectives guiding the analyses and on current policy debates regarding the nexus of work and family
