Feldstein, 2014-01-02. First published in 1987. An attractive feature of nonverbal communication as a research area is that it has captured the interest of scholars of different disciplinary backgrounds: psychologists, linguists, anthropologists, psychiatrists, and sociologists, with each discipline bringing to the area its peculiar theoretical and methodological perspectives and biases. Each of these disciplines also tends to have a favorite topic or problem area within the general domain of nonverbal communication. Along with the varying yet overlapping topical concerns that the different disciplines bring to the area of nonverbal communication are major differences in methodology. The sections into which the book is divided roughly organize the chapters in terms of their concerns with the bodily structures and zones that are involved in nonverbal behavior. Nonverbal Communication Judee K. Burgoon, Valerie Manusov, Laura K. Guerrero, 2016-01-08.

Drawing significantly on both classic and contemporary research, Nonverbal Communication speaks to today's students with modern examples that illustrate nonverbal communication in their lived experiences. This new edition, authored by three of the foremost scholars in nonverbal communication, builds on the approach pioneered by Burgoon, Buller, and Woodall, which focused on both the features and the functions that comprise the nonverbal signaling system. Grounded in the latest multidisciplinary research and theory, Nonverbal Communication strives to remain very practical, providing both information and application to aid in comprehension. Nonverbal Behavior in Clinical Settings Pierre Philippot, Robert Stephen Feldman, Erik J. Coats, 2003. This volume presents in an integrated framework contemporary perspectives on the role of nonverbal behavior in psychological regulation, adaptation, and psychopathology and includes both empirical and theoretical research that is central to our understanding of the reciprocal influences between nonverbal behavior, psychopathology, and therapeutic processes.
