Developing Teaching Skills in the Primary School Jane Johnston, John Halocha, Mark Chater, 2007-10-16 Teaching is a complex process which involves the development and utilization of subject knowledge and teaching skills. Containing reflective and practical skills, this book supports such development focusing specifically on teaching skills, considering what they are, how they develop, and how they differ between age and subject. The book contains three sections: Planning, Doing, and Reviewing, which demonstrate effective classroom practice. It uses examples of practitioners at different stages of their professional development to link theory and practice and includes discussions on contemporary issues in primary education such as Constructivist teaching and learning, Thinking skills, Creativity, Teaching and learning styles, Child-centred learning. The authors provide a critical analysis of the issues, practice, and problems faced by primary school teachers, which is supported by reflective tasks throughout the book. Emphasizing the child as a partner in the learning process and highlighting the importance of teaching for child-centred learning, the book ultimately develops and strengthens the teacher's skills.

Developing Teaching Skills in the Primary School provides essential guidance and support to trainee, beginner, and developing primary school teachers.

A Practical Guide to Teaching Citizenship in the Secondary School Liam Gearon, 2006-11-22 Ideal for students and NQTs, this practical and accessible workbook is designed to develop basic teaching skills and increase teachers' knowledge and understanding of teaching citizenship. Filled with practical activities and materials to encourage users to analyze their own learning and performance and underpinned with research findings, this personal workbook can be written in directly to provide a useful record of progress. It also includes case studies, examples of current good practice, and a range of tried and tested strategies for inspiration and guidance.

Complementing Learning to Teach Citizenship in the Secondary School this workbook can be used as part of an integrated course or independently as a standalone self-study book.

Educational Issues in the Learning Age Catherine Matheson, David Matheson, 2000-09-01 Education and its context are both changing rapidly. In a world characterized by postmodernism and globalization, even the discourses that we use to discuss education are changing. This raises fundamental questions concerning the relationship of education to culture, identity, society, and power. To understand education in the twenty-first century, we need a new map. By considering issues both fundamental and topical, from citizenship to lifelong learning, from school effectiveness to learning outside the school, this book provides a comprehensive, multi-disciplinary guide to education in the new era.

Learning to Teach in the Secondary School Susan Capel, Marilyn Leask, 2003-09-02 Designed to support student secondary school teachers through the school-based element of their initial training courses, this new edition of a best-selling text includes reworked tasks for individual use and revised sections on growth and development, moral development, and values, special educational needs, and assessment. There is also a new chapter on ICT. Units include the student teacher's role, planning lessons and schemes of work motivating pupils teaching and learning styles assessment and recording working as part of a team With general updating throughout in the light of developments in legislation the book will continue to be the standard for secondary teachers in training
