The first tier assumptions, which reflect the system of beliefs or worldview complex held by the researcher or practitioner, shape the thinking behind tier two (development of the overall framework/strategy for the work) and tier three (the means of specific technologies/methods seen as appropriate to the methodology). The overall strategy in tier two in turn shapes the specific methods selected and how they are adapted for use in a specific project.

The framework is useful for understanding, assessing and evolving the thinking that can create and evolve a regenerative methodology. By tracing the thinking further “upstream”, i.e., from source (worldview/paradigm) to application, it also can enrich the dialogue taking place among advocates for a sustainable built environment.

The example of a regenerative methodology presented here is drawn from an actual practice.¹⁰ Using the methodology framework as a lens, some of the key underlying premises and concepts are explored further.
