Society From The Inside Out Anthropological Perspectives Of The South Asian Household:

Society from the Inside Out John N. Gray, David J. Mearns, 1989 Women, Education, And Family Structure In India Carol C Mukhopadhyay, 2021-11-28 Five decades of independence have produced dramatic increases in women's educational achievements in India but education for girls beyond a certain level is still perceived as socially risky. Based on ethnographic data and historical documents, this book explores the origins of that paradox. Contributors probe the complex relationships between traditional Indian social institutions: the joint family, arranged marriage, dowry, and purdah or sexual segregation and girls' schooling. They find that a patrifocal family structure and ideology are often at the root of different family approaches to educating sons and daughters and that concern for marriageability still plays a central role in women's educational choices and outcomes. Matrilineal Communities, Patriarchal Realities Kanchana N. Ruwanpura, 2006 A study of Muslim Sinhala and Tamil households in Sri Lanka that examines the commonality of the patriarchal structures and economic problems in such households. Living Well Together? Settlement and Materiality in the Neolithic of South-East and Central Europe Alasdair Whittle, Daniela Hofmann, Douglass W. Bailey, 2008-03-15 Living Well Together investigates the development of the Neolithic in southeast and central Europe from 6500-3500 cal BC with special reference to the manifestations of settling down. A collection of reports and comments on recent fieldwork in the region, Living Well Together provides 14 tightly written and targeted papers presenting interpretive discussions from important excavations and reassessments of our understanding of the Neolithic. Each paper makes a significant contribution to existing knowledge about the period, and the book like its companion Unsettling the Neolithic Oxbow 2005 will be a benchmark text for work in this region. The reports in Living Well Together play out the critical questions posed in the earlier volume: how should one interpret settlement? what of the difference between tells and flat sites? what do we mean by permanent occupation? can we avoid the assumptions that underlie claims for year-round residence or seasonal occupation? why in some regions and at some times did people maintain residence for so many generations that monumental tell settlements grew to dominate the visual and social landscape? what would a viewshed analysis of tells reveal? what are the dynamics of households in Neolithic Greece? how should we see the emergence of pottery in terms of material culture and what were the origins of the LBK and how can we understand its development? The volume's authors have succeeded in attacking existing thought, in provoking new discussion, and in creating new paths to understanding the nature of human existence in the Neolithic. Together they set a new agenda for studying the Neolithic across and beyond southeastern and central Europe. Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Sri Lanka Kanchana N. Ruwanpura, Amjad Mohamed Saleem, 2024-07-18 The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Sri Lanka offers a comprehensive survey of issues facing the island country and an overview delineating some key moments in the country's contemporary polity, economy, and sociality. This book outlines aspects and influences foundational to understanding a country defined by its economic and political turmoil and rift with public distrust in today's shifting geopolitics Chapters by various established scholars highlight this book's pivotal contribution in situating Sri Lanka's turmoil and deprivation in this current conjuncture The handbook is structured in seven parts Nations and Nationalism Politics State and Institutions Economy and Political Economy Work and Life Environment and Environmental Politics Society Social Systems and Culture Moment of Flux Looking Ahead Each part includes on average six chapters covering the social sciences and humanities to survey emerging and cutting edge areas of the study of Sri Lanka Multi disciplinary in focus the book also includes an introductory section and concluding section which creates the space and platform for senior mid ranking and junior academics to engage in dynamic conversation with each other about contemporary Sri Lanka Including scholarship from Sri Lankan experts the handbook creates academic output which chimes with broader calls in academia on decolonising the academic landscape An important reference work this handbook will be of interest to scholars and students from wideranging academic disciplines and a focus on Sri Lanka Asian and South Asian studies sociology environmental politics development labour management political economy and anthropology The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Women, Gender and Everyday Social Transformation in India Kenneth Bo Nielsen, Anne Waldrop, 2014-08-01 The pace of socioeconomic transformation in India over the past two and a half decades has been formidable This volume sheds light on how these transformations have played out at the level of everyday life to influence the lives of Indian women and gender relations more broadly Through ethnographically grounded case studies the authors portray the contradictory and contested co existence of discrepant gendered norms values and visions in a society caught up in wider processes of sociopolitical change Women Gender and Everyday Social Transformation in India moves the debate on gender and social transformation into the domain of everyday life to arrive at locally embedded and detailed ethnographically informed analyses of gender relations in real life contexts that foreground both subtle and not so subtle negotiations and contestations

Changing India Robert W. Stern, 2003-02-26 The revised edition of Robert Stern's book brings India's story up to date Since its original publication in 1993 much has altered and yet central to the author's argument remains his belief in the remarkable continuity and vitality of India's social systems and its resilience in the face of change This is a colourful readable and comprehensive introduction to modern India In a journey through its family households and villages the author explains its long lived and little understood caste and class systems its venerable faiths and extraordinary ethnic diversity its history as the jewel in the crown of British imperialism and its post Independence career as a major agricultural and industrial nation While paradoxes abound in an India which is constantly transforming Stern demonstrates how and why it remains the largest and most enduring democracy in the developing world

Kinship, Honour and Money in Rural Pakistan Alain Lefebvre, 2014-03-05 International migration is favoured by the governments of many poorer countries despite often well publicized abuses affecting individual migrant workers Not only is local unemployment reduced but also it is expected that the migrants will learn new skills with many even becoming entrepreneurs on their return home Meantime they are seen as a source of foreign remittances providing needed capital for economic development Such is the attitude in Pakistan from where thousands of migrant workers leave every year for the Gulf states especially An anthropological study approaching this issue from a local village level this book focuses on two areas of the Punjab Describing the historical passage of rural life from pre colonial times to the present it shows how the rural economy of the Punjab was not transformed by the green revolution on the contrary it is still a subsistence economy The resulting poverty combined with Pakistan's labour market policies forces many Punjabi men to seek work abroad in turn bringing changes to the economic role of the women left behind Remittances from abroad have brought further changes on the economic and social life of the villages but not as expected to bring economic development let alone capital or entrepreneurialism to the area
