New Media, Politics and Society in Israel

Gideon Doron, Azi Lev-On, 2014-06-11 This book addresses the social and political landscape of Internet usage in Israel and studies the formation of a networked information society in the hi tech nation As Israel is considered a highly technologically developed country it could serve as a model to assess and compare the performance and prospects of the Internet in other countries as well Chapters address a range of issues including the diffusion of the Internet to Israel religion and the Internet in the Israeli Jewish context Internet based planned encounters between Israeli Jews and Palestinians and between Jews and Arabs in Israel online journalism and user generated content Israeli public relations online Internet usage by Israeli parliamentarians parties and candidates as well as audiences and the facilitation of personalized politics through personal sites of politicians This book was originally published as a special issue of Israel Affairs

Competitive Political Regime and Internet Control Liu Yangyue, 2014-06-02 Why are policies of internet control adopted in a democratic state while internet freedom is guaranteed in a more authoritarian context In this work on the comparative politics of internet control it is argued that regime type per se is not the direct determinant of the internet control outcome Instead the book proposes an alternative model that addresses the intensity of online transgressiveness and the capacity of online civil society While online transgressiveness propels governments to seek internet control strategies online civil society represents an inhibiting force the cohesiveness of which determines the extent to which societal resistance against internet censorship might succeed Through detailed studies of Malaysia Thailand and Indonesia Competitive Political Regime and Internet Control shows that online transgressiveness and civil society capacity collectively shape the outcomes of internet control In this way the book provides a new framework for understanding the practice of internet control which has become a hot topic in the study of internet politics and regime types more generally It also speaks to the broad literature on Southeast Asian politics as well as that on democratization
