Society Without Fathers Or Husbands:

A Society Without Fathers Or Husbands Cai Hua, 2001-01-05 A fascinating account of the Na society which functions without the institution of marriage Unhitched Judith Stacey, 2011-05-02 Judith Stacey 2012 winner of the Simon and Gagnon Lifetime Achievement Award presented by the American Sociological Association A leading expert on the family explores varieties of love and counters the one size fits all vision of family values A leading expert on the family Judith Stacey is known for her provocative research on mainstream issues Finding herself impatient with increasingly calcified positions taken in the interminable wars over same sex marriage divorce fatherlessness marital fidelity and the like she struck out to profile unfamiliar cultures of contemporary love marriage and family values from around the world Built on bracing original research that spans gay men s intimacies and parenting in America to plural and non marital forms of family in South Africa and China Unhitched decouples the taken for granted relationships between love marriage and parenthood Countering the one size fits all vision of family values Stacey offers readers a lively in person introduction to these less familiar varieties of intimacy and family and to the social political and economic conditions that buttress and batter them Through compelling stories of real families navigating inescapable personal and political trade offs between desire and domesticity the book undermines popular convictions about family gender and sexuality held on the left right and center Taking on prejudices of both conservatives and feminists Unhitched poses a powerful empirical challenge to the belief that the nuclear family whether straight or gay is the single best way to meet our needs for intimacy and care Stacey calls on citizens and policy makers to make their peace with the fact that family diversity is here to stay On Our Minds Eric M. Gander, 2004-12-01 There is no question more fundamental to human existence than that posed by the nature versus nurture debate For much of the past century it was widely believed that there was no essential human nature and that people could be educated or socialized to thrive in almost any imaginable culture Today that orthodoxy is being directly and forcefully challenged by a new science of the mind evolutionary psychology Like the theory of evolution itself the implications of evolutionary psychology are provocative and unsettling Rather than viewing the human mind as a mysterious black box or a blank slate evolutionary psychologists see it as a physical organ that has evolved to process certain types of information in certain ways that enables us to thrive only in certain types of cultures In On Our Minds Eric M Gander examines all sides of the public debate between evolutionary psychologists and their critics Paying particularly close attention to the popular science writings of Steven Pinker Edward O Wilson Richard Dawkins and Stephen Jay Gould Gander traces the history of the controversy succinctly summarizes the claims and theories of the evolutionary psychologists dissects the various arguments deployed by each side and considers in detail the far reaching ramifications social cultural and political of this debate Gander s lucid and highly readable account concludes that evolutionary psychology now holds the potential to answer our oldest and most profound moral and philosophical questions fundamentally changing our self perception as a species Mystifying

China's Southwest Ethnic Borderlands Yuqing Yang, 2017-12-28 The Confucian notion of Harmony with difference he er bu tong has great political and cultural resonance in contemporary China which propagates the quest for a pluralist harmony between cultural and ethnic components of society In an attempt to examine a range of responses to this state envisioned ideal of accommodating ethnic differences this book analyzes the literary and cultural discourses that surround three minority regions in Southwest China Dali which was once the location of the ancient Nanzhao and Dali Kingdoms the homeland of the matrilineal Mosuo known as the Country of Women and the Tibetan areas associated with utopian Shangri La This book borrows Foucault's concept of heterotopia to address the contradictory and often simultaneously existing views of the minority region as rich treasure house of tradition and as intractable barrier to modern development which combine to give rise to productive tensions in scholastic and artistic creations Through reconstituting and performing the myths and legends of or about minority culture the representations of the three places turn into heterotopias which are posed between the mythical and the real in different ways Functioning as a self reflective mirror they simultaneously offer images of the actual habitats of the ethnic other which have been subject to socialist projects of modernity and become a viable means by which to exert material effects on the real landscape Products of a fascination with alternative social spaces the three mystified lands all contain conceptualizations of harmony be it spiritual gender based or ecological that are conceivably absent in the imperfect actuality of the Chinese heartland In conclusion these aesthetically constructed spaces of the other negotiate and enrich the discourse of Harmony with difference reacting to ethnic politics in PRC history and creating an audience that grows attentive to the traditions of minorities

The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier, 2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists
