Socio Political Theatre In Nigeria:

Socio-political Theatre in Nigeria Iremhokiokha Peter Ukpokodu, 1992 This work is a study of Nigerian drama from the eve of independence to the 1980s with supportive materials from Nigeria's socio political history It examines the appropriateness and usage of the term Nigerian Drama and sets limits on its meaning It also looks at what influences the Negritude movement and independence had on Nigerian drama and why it is important to study Nigerian drama of socio political concern It examines pre Colonial Nigeria the style of politics and electioneering that marked the first Republic the Marxist phenomenon in drama the effects of the civil war and the drama that resulted It includes play synopses and biographies of playwrights The Revolutionary Drama and Theatre of Femi Osofisan Chima Osakwe, 2018-11-07 This book is an extensive and captivating study of the work of Femi Osofisan one of Nigeria's most important dramatists and postcolonial playwrights It explores a variety of his plays to gather together insights on the role of art in social change and discusses the relationship between literature and politics Nigeria's Cultural and Creative Industries Ikechukwu Obiaya, Kizito Ogedi Alakwe, Emmanuel Nzeaka, 2025-12-08 This book offers a compelling exploration of Nigeria's vibrant cultural and creative industries unpacking their core components challenges institutional frameworks and transformative potential for national development From the role of government and regulatory bodies to the power of local innovation the volume provides a timely and strategic assessment of how Nigeria's creative economy is shaping a new narrative for growth As Africa's most populous country Nigeria boasts a rich cultural mosaic and a growing generation of dynamic creatives making waves both locally and globally With Nollywood Afrobeats and indigenous fashion now commanding international attention creative output is fast overtaking oil as Nigeria's most influential export Through sector specific case studies the book critically examines this shift highlighting high impact sectors like film fashion music and visual arts while also shining a light on underexplored industries such as publishing advertising and hospitality It asks bold questions about whether the right structures are in place to truly harness Nigeria's soft power for economic and social impact Providing a thorough and nuanced analysis of Nigeria's creative landscape this book will be an important read for researchers students and policymakers with an interest in the future of African culture innovation identity and industry The Palgrave Handbook of African Education and Indigenous Knowledge Jamaine M. Abidogun, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-02 This handbook explores the evolution of African education in historical perspectives as well as the development within its three systems Indigenous Islamic and Western education models and how African societies have maintained and changed their approaches to education within and across these systems African education continues to find itself at once preserving its knowledge while integrating Islamic and Western aspects in order to compete within this global reality Contributors take up issues and themes of the positioning resistance accommodation and transformations of indigenous education in relationship to the introduction of Islamic and later Western education Issues and themes raised acknowledge the contemporary development and positioning of indigenous education within African societies and provide understanding of how indigenous education works within individual societies and national frameworks as an essential part of African contemporary society

Contemporary Voices From The Margin Peter Ukpokodu, Omiunota N. Ukpokodu, 2012-06-01 Traditionally American educators and communities have looked to Europe and Asia for ideas for rethinking and reforming education for America's diverse children. This book Contemporary Voices from the Margin: African Educators on African and American Education brings together new voices of diverse African born teacher educators and Africanist scholars who share personal experiences as well as research-based perspectives about education in Africa and America that will be valuable to rethinking and reforming education for America's struggling schools. The book is a comprehensive work of experienced educators and scholars in the field of teacher education and African Studies. The editors of the book invited a diverse group of African born teacher educators and scholars from different countries of Africa who teach in the U.S. The contributors share a common African experience but they are geographically diverse in countries of origin and research. Their knowledge about African communal living as well as colonial powers and imperialism as they operated in various African countries enables them to compare and contrast various educational models and practices including traditional ones. They are also diverse in their fields of specialization but have expertise in multicultural education, urban education and culturally responsive pedagogy that have become the focus of U.S. discourses in public education and teacher preparation programs. Given that these scholars were born or socialized and educated in as well as taught schools and colleges in their respective African countries before settling in the United States, they bring a wealth of experience and insights into what it means to successfully educate children and youth. The book is divided into three parts. Part 1 examines African processes and practices of education both formal and informal as contributing authors share perspectives about African indigenous education including cultural socialization and formal western type education and organization of schools. Part 2 focuses on patterns and structures of formal western type education in selected African countries. Part 3 explores cross cultural perspectives on American education. The contributors provide chapters of stimulating and rich perspectives that will engage the discourse on rethinking and reforming education and schooling for America's diverse students.

World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre Ousmane

Diakhate, Hansel Ndumbe Eyoh, Don Rubin, 2013-10-18 Now available in paperback for the first time, this edition of the World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre series examines theatrical developments in Africa since 1945. Entries on thirty-two African countries are featured in this volume, preceded by specialist introductory essays on Anglophone Africa, Francophone Africa, History and Culture, Cosmology, Music, Dance, Theatre for Young Audiences and Puppetry. There are also special introductory general essays on African theatre written by Nobel Prize Laureate Wole Soyinka and the outstanding Congolese playwright Sony Labou Tansi before his untimely death in 1995. More up to date and more wide ranging than any other publication, this is undoubtedly a major ground breaking survey of contemporary African theatre.
