The Gate City Lawrence Harold Larsen, 1997-01-01 Lawrence Larsen and his wife Barbara Cottrell have written a marvelous urban biography They have done what other historians often fail to do relate local happenings to the larger regional and national picture And Larsen and Cottrell have skillfully used sophisticated historical works and concepts incorporating them in an understandable fashion Throughout this book the authors write in a delightful manner they make you want to visit Omaha North Dakota History The authors organize their splendid urban biography around a limited number of events of national magnitude The husband wife team take as their story s major units the building of the transcontinental railroad the penetration of the Great Plains by homesteaders the establishment of the meat packing industry and the creation of an elaborate national defense system They fill in their story with intriguing descriptions of the push and pull factors that brought diverse ethnic groups to Omaha in the years since 1854 the years when town promoters first settled at the Missouri River ferry landing in the newly established Nebraska territory Because their narrative is so well organized their treatment of political social and cultural affairs is clear and cohesive while their discussion of urban unrest vice and crime remains tightly linked to the general outlines of their lively portrait of Omaha s history Business History Review Lawrence H Larsen is a professor of history at the University of Missouri Kansas City He is the author of The Urban South A History 1990 Federal Justice in Western Missouri The Judges the Cases the Times 1994 and other books Barbara J Cottrell is a historian with the National Archives Central Plains Region Harl A Dalstrom is a professor of history at the University of Nebraska at Omaha
