

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

November 19, 1863

At the Dedication of the Soldiers' National Cemetery in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania:

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate – we can not consecrate – we can not hallow – this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us – that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion – that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain – that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom – and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Religion among We the People Franklin I. Gamwell, 2015-10-07 Explores democracy with religious freedom and its dependence on theism Franklin I Gamwell holds that democracy with religious freedom is dependent on metaphysical theism Democratic politics can be neutral to all religious convictions only if its constitution establishes a full and free discourse about the ultimate terms of justice and their application to decisions of the state and the divine good is the true ground of justice Notably Gamwell's view challenges virtually all current accounts of democracy with religious freedom This uncommon position emerges through a series of essays in which Gamwell engages a variety of conversation partners including Thomas Jefferson David Strauss Abraham Lincoln Jürgen Habermas Alfred North Whitehead Reinhold Niebuhr and Iris Murdoch Discussions of Jefferson Lincoln and the US Constitution illustrate the promise of neoclassical metaphysics as a context for interpreting US history Gamwell then defends his metaphysics against both modern refusals of metaphysics and accounts of ultimate reality offered by Niebuhr and Murdoch

We are Not One People Michael J. Lee, R. Jarrod Atchison, 2022 E pluribus unum was suggested for the national seal in 1776 but national oneness has been haunted by its opposite ever since We Are Not One People demonstrates how the persistence of separatist movements in American history reveals as much about the nation's politics as it does the would-be separatists Each chapter explores how great swaths of Americans of every ideological stripe in good times and bad in and beyond the South have disputed the nation's oneness and stressed its divisibility Trumpeted in American myths, mottos, movies, and songs separatism is omnipresent in American political culture Separatist rhetoric has shaped Americans' experience of what it means to be an American and we can learn much about the durable appeal and enduring fragility of the United States from those who tried to leave it As one Vermont separatist quips leaving is as American as apple pie We Are Not One People is a bold pathbreaking and far-reaching account of disunionists from 1776 to the present who wanted as phrased in the Declaration of Independence to dissolve the political bands connecting them to other Americans

We the Fallen People Robert Tracy McKenzie, 2021-09-21 The success and survival of American democracy have never been guaranteed Arguing that we must take an unflinching look at the nature of democracy and therefore ourselves historian Robert Tracy McKenzie explores the ideas of human nature in the history of American democratic thought from the nation's Founders through the Jacksonian Era and Alexis de Tocqueville other Pennsylvanian towns From July 1 3 Robert E Lee s Confederate Army of Northern Virginia tried everything in its power to decisively defeat George Meade s Union Army of the Potomac unleashing ferocious assaults that inflicted nearly 50 000 casualties in all When a crowd came to Gettysburg in November 1863 to commemorate the battle fought there 4 months earlier and dedicate a new national cemetery they came to hear a series of speeches about the Civil War and the events of that battle Today it may seem obvious to invite the president to such an occasion but Lincoln was initially an afterthought and though he did come to deliver remarks he was not in fact the keynote speaker Instead the man chosen to give the keynote speech was Edward Everett a politician and educator from Massachusetts Everett had already been a Congressman the 15th Governor of Massachusetts Minister to Great Britain and Secretary of State and by the Civil War he was considered perhaps the greatest orator in the nation making him a natural choice to be the featured speaker at the dedication ceremony Everett is still known today for his oratory but more for the fact that he spoke for over two hours at Gettysburg immediately before President Lincoln delivered his immortal two minute Gettysburg Address Everett would later say I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes At the time however Lincoln and many others present at the event thought his speech fell flat and was ultimately a failure that would be consigned to the dustbin of history Perhaps Lincoln s most impressive feat is that he was able to convey so much with so few words after Everett spoke for hours at Gettysburg Lincoln s Gettysburg Address only took a few minutes but in those few minutes Lincoln invoked the principles of human equality espoused by the Declaration of Independence In the process he redefined the Civil War as a struggle not merely for the Union but as a new birth of freedom that would bring true equality to all of its citizens ensure that democracy would remain a viable form of government and would also create a unified nation in which states rights were no longer dominant 150 years later Lincoln s speech is still considered arguably the greatest in American history yet the exact wording of the speech is disputed The five known manuscripts of the Gettysburg Address differ in a number of details and also differ from contemporary newspaper reprints of the speech In fact at the time few Americans knew the president had even given a speech at Gettysburg and the Gettysburg Address was not widely covered in newspapers The irony is lost on few given that the Gettysburg Address continues to represent a concise and eloquent statement on the very purpose of the United States
