The History of British Film (Volume 7) Rachael Low, 2020-03-26 This set is one of the cornerstones of film scholarship and one of the most important works on twentieth century British culture Published between 1948 and 1985 the volumes document all aspects of film making in Britain from its origins in 1896 to 1939 Rachael Low pioneered the interpretation of films in their context arguing that to understand films it was necessary to establish their context Her seven volumes are an object lesson in meticulous research lucid analysis and accessible style and have become the benchmark in film history

Hollywood Gothic David J. Skal, 2004-10-18 A fully updated edition of David J Skal's Hollywood Gothic The ultimate book on Dracula Newsweek The primal image of the black caped vampire Dracula has become an indelible fixture of the modern imagination Its recognition factor rivals in its own perverse way the familiarity of Santa Claus Most of us can recite without prompting the salient characteristics of the vampire sleeping by day in its coffin rising at dusk to feed on the blood of the living the ability to shapeshift into a bat wolf or mist a mortal vulnerability to a wooden stake through the heart or a shaft of sunlight In this critically acclaimed excursion through the life of a cultural icon David J Skal maps out the archetypal vampire's relentless trajectory from Victorian literary oddity to movie idol to cultural commodity digging through the populist veneer to reveal what the prince of darkness says about us all includes black and white Illustrations throughout plus a new Introduction

Transatlantic Crossings Sarah Street, 2002-01-01 Transatlantic Crossings is the first major study of the distribution and exhibition of British films in the USA Charting the cross cultural reception of many British films Sarah Street draws on a wide range of sources including studio records film posters press books and statistics While the relative strength of Hollywood made it difficult for films that crossed the Atlantic Street's research demonstrates that some strategies were more successful than others She considers which British films made an impact and analyzes conditions that facilitated a positive reception from critics censors exhibitors and audiences Case studies include Nell Gwyn 1926 The Private Life of Henry VIII 1933 The Ghost Goes West 1935 Henry V 1946 Black Narcissus 1947 The Red Shoes 1948 Ealing comedies The Horror of Dracula 1958 Tom Jones 1963 A Hard Days Night 1964 Goldfinger 1964 The Remains of the Day 1993 Four Weddings and a Funeral 1994 and Trainspotting 1996 Against a background of the economic history of the British and Hollywood film industries Transatlantic Crossings considers the many fascinating questions surrounding the history of British films in the USA their relevance to wider issues of Anglo American relations and to notions of Britishness on screen

The Classical Hollywood Reader Steve Neale, 2012-11-12 The Classical Hollywood Reader brings together essential readings to provide a history of Hollywood from the 1910s to the mid 1960s Following on from a Prologue that discusses the aesthetic characteristics of Classical Hollywood films Part 1 covers the period between the 1910s and the mid to late 1920s It deals with the advent of feature length films in the US and the growing national and international dominance of the companies responsible for their production distribution and exhibition In doing so it also deals with film making practices aspects of style the changing roles played by women in an increasingly business oriented environment and the different audiences in the US for which Hollywood sought to cater Part 2 covers the period between the coming of sound in the mid 1920s and the beginnings of the demise of the studio system in late 1940s In doing so it deals with the impact of sound on films and film production in the US and Europe the subsequent impact of the Depression and World War II on the industry and its audiences the growth of unions and the roles played by production managers and film stars at the height of the studio era Part 3 deals with aspects of style censorship technology and film production It includes articles on the Production Code music and sound cinematography and the often neglected topic of animation Part 4 covers the period between 1946 and 1966 It deals with the demise of the studio system and the advent of independent production In an era of demographic and social change it looks at the growth of drive in theatres the impact of television the advent of new technologies the increasing importance of international markets the Hollywood blacklist the rise in art house imports and in overseas production and the eventual demise of the Production Code Designed especially for courses on Hollywood Cinema the Reader includes a number of newly researched and written chapters and a series of introductions to each of its parts It concludes with an epilogue a list of resources for further research and an extensive bibliography
