All Y'all Heidi Siegrist, 2024-11-11

The South is often perceived as a haunted place in its region's literature one that is strange deviant or queer The peculiar often sexually charged literary worlds of contemporary writers like Fannie Flagg Monique Truong and Randall Kenan speak to this connection between queerness and the South Heidi Siegrist explores the boundaries of negotiating place and sexuality by using the concept of Southernness a purposefully fluid idea of the South that extends beyond simple geography eschewing familiar ideas of the Southern canon When the connection between queerness and Southernness becomes apparent Siegrist shows a Southern branded queer deviance can not only change the way we think about literature but can also change Southern queer people's lived experiences Siegrist gathers a bevy of undertheorized writers from Kenan and Truong to Dorothy Allison and even George R R Martin showing that there are many queer Souths Siegrist offers these multiverses as a way to appreciate a place that is often unfriendly even deadly to queer people But as Siegrist argues none of these Souths from the terrestrial to the imaginary would be what they are without the influence and power of queer literature

Lyzette Wanzer, 2022-10-04 A Library Journal Best Social Science title of 2022 Black women continue to have a complex and convoluted relationship with their hair From grammar and high schools to corporate boardrooms and military squadrons Black and Afro Latina natural hair continues to confound transfix and enrage members of White American society Why in 2022 is this still the case Why have we not moved beyond that perennial racist emblem And why are women so disproportionately affected Why does our hair become most palatable when it capitulates and has been subjugated to resemble Caucasian features as closely as possible Who or what is responsible for the web of supervision and surveillance of our hair Who in our society gets to author the prevailing constitution of professional appearance Particularly relevant during this time of emboldened White supremacy racism and provocative othering this work explores how writing about one of the still remaining systemic biases in schools academia and corporate America might lead to greater understanding and respect

Reconceptualizing Literacy in the New Age of Multiculturalism and Pluralism Patricia Ruggiano Schmidt, Peter B.

Mosenthal, 2001-07-01 This book offers a array of essays with challenging ideas and provoking new analyses of power asymmetries multiple epistemologies and vital concerns for the education of a different America the America of new immigrants people of color with other cultures languages and values The new American that many want to ignore and is becoming the only America This book also forces us to reflect on the educational challenges we must face especially in teacher education and the preparation of intellectual leaders None of the major agenda items associated with a new era of social justice can be either comprehended or accomplished without a profound understanding of multicultural literacy and of its relationship to ethnic racial cultural and linguistic diversity While in previous decades we used frequently a rhetoric of multiculturalism at a safe distance today we are living multiculturalism and practicing ethnic cultural and racial diversity in our daily lives as we seek a marriage partner a business associate a friend a church Most of all we must live multiculturalism as we go school and see children's faces There is no way to escape the reality of ethnic racial and linguistic diversity as it comes entangled with many other cultural and class differences between and within each group we encounter Suddenly an abrupt awakening for many mainstream educators what was peculiar of some areas in the Southwest has become common scenario in most metropolis and large cities The present volume brings us face to face with issues and challenges we can no longer sweep under the rug This outstanding volume lays down a solid general conceptual foundation that permits us to link our theoretical past with the post modern era It also provides a clear context for the discussion of contrasting notions of monocultural literacy and the relationship of literacy and power The volume goes on to deal with the relationship of literacy and culture actually to specific cultures especially African American At this point the discourse turns to strategies for incorporating minority perspectives into the literacy curriculum and including the home cultures of disenfranchised peoples The last section of the book offers help on the practical issues of teacher education for student populations often ignored and linkages between schools and homes in order to empower the disenfranchised and isolated In the Life and in the Spirit

Marlon Rachquel Moore, 2014-11-06 Taking up the perceived tensions between the LGBTQ community and religious African Americans Marlon Rachquel Moore examines how strategies of antihomophobic resistance dovetail into broader literary and cultural concerns In the Life and in the Spirit shows how creative writers integrate expressions of faith or the supernatural with sensuality desire and pleasure in a way that highlights a spectrum of black sexualities and gender expressions Through these fusions African American writers enact queer spiritualities that situate the well known work of James Baldwin into a broader community of artists including Bruce Nugent Ann Allen Shockley Alice Walker Langston Hughes Jewelle Gomez Becky Birtha and Octavia Butler In these texts from 1963 to 1999 Moore identifies a pervasive affirming stance toward LGBTQ people and culture in African American literary production Images of the Modern Vampire Barbara Brodman, James E. Doan, 2013-10-04 In the predecessor to this book The Universal Vampire Origins and Evolution of a Legend Brodman and Doan presented discussions of the development of the vampire in the West from the early Norse draugr figure to the medieval European revenant and ultimately to Dracula who first appears as a vampire in Anglo Irish Bram Stoker's novel Dracula published in 1897 The essays in that collection also looked at the non Western vampire in Native American and Mesoamerican traditions Asian and Russian vampires in popular culture and the vampire in contemporary novels film and television The essays in this collection continue that multi cultural and multigeneric discussion by tracing the development of the post modern vampire in films ranging from Shadow of a Doubt to Blade The Wisdom of Crocodiles and Interview with the Vampire the male and female vampires in the Twilight films Sookie Stackhouse novels and TrueBlood television series the vampire in African American women's fiction Anne Rice's novels and in the post apocalyptic I Am Legend vampires in Japanese anime and finally to bring the volumes full circle the presentation of a new Irish Dracula play adapted from the novel and set in 1888 Savage Horrors Corinna Lenhardt, 2020-04-02 The American Gothic novel has been deeply shaped by issues of race and raciality from its origins in British Romanticism to the American Gothic novel in the twenty first century Savage Horrors delineates an intrinsic raciality that is discursively sedimented in the Gothic's uniquely binary structure Corinna Lenhardt uncovers the destructive and lasting impact of the Gothic's anti Black racism on the cultural discourses in the United States At the same time Savage Horrors traces the unflinching Black resistance back to the Gothic's intrinsic raciality The African American Gothic however does not originate there but in the Black Atlantic roughly a decade before the first Gothic novel was ever written on American soil Mouths of Rain Briona Simone Jones, 2021-02-23 Winner Lambda Literary Award in LGBTQ Anthology Winner Judy Grahn Award for Lesbian Nonfiction Publishing Triangle Awards A Ms magazine Refinery29 and Lambda Literary Most Anticipated Read of 2021 A groundbreaking collection tracing the history of intellectual thought by Black Lesbian writers in the tradition of The New Press's perennial seller Words of Fire African American lesbian writers and theorists have made extraordinary contributions to feminist theory activism and writing Mouths of Rain the companion anthology to Beverly Guy Sheftall's classic Words of Fire traces the long history of intellectual thought produced by Black Lesbian writers spanning the nineteenth century through the twenty first century Using Black Lesbian as a capacious signifier Mouths of Rain includes writing by Black women who have shared intimate and loving relationships with other women as well as Black women who see bonding as mutual Black women who have self identified as lesbian Black women who have written about Black Lesbians and Black women who theorize about and see the word lesbian as a political descriptor that disrupts and critiques capitalism heterosexism and heteropatriarchy Taking its title from a poem by Audre Lorde Mouths of Rain addresses pervasive issues such as misogynoir and anti blackness while also attending to love romance coming out and the erotic Contributors include Barbara Smith Beverly Smith Bettina Love Dionne Brand Cheryl Clarke Cathy J Cohen Angelina Weld Grimke Alexis Pauline Gumbs Audre Lorde Dawn Lundy Martin Pauli Murray Michelle Parkerson Mecca Jamilah Sullivan Alice Walker Jewelle Gomez

Contemporary American Fiction in the European Classroom Laurence W. Mazzeno, Sue Norton, 2022-04-06 This book offers insight into the ways students enrolled in European classrooms in higher education come to understand American experience through its literary fiction which for decades has been a key component of English department offerings and American Studies curricula across the continent and in Great Britain and Ireland The essays provide an understanding of how post World War II American writers some already elevated to canonical status and some not are represented in European university classrooms and why they have been chosen for inclusion in coursework The book will be of interest to scholars and teachers of American literature and American studies and to students in American literature and American studies courses

Engaging Bodies Ann Cooper Albright, 2013-12-03 Winner of the Selma Jeanne Cohen Prize in Dance Aesthetics 2014 For twenty five years Ann Cooper Albright has been exploring the intersection of cultural representation and somatic identity in dance For Albright dancing is a physical inquiry a way of experiencing and participating in the world and her writing reflects an interdisciplinary approach to seeing and thinking about dance In her engagement as both a dancer and a scholar Albright draws on her kinesthetic sensibilities as well as her intellectual knowledge to articulate how movement creates meaning Throughout Engaging Bodies movement and ideas lean on one another to produce a critical theory anchored in the material reality of dancing bodies This blend of cultural theory and personal circumstance will be useful and inspiring for emerging scholars and dancers looking for a model of writing about dance that thrives on the interconnectedness of watching and doing gesture and thought Hardcover is un jacketed
