Morray-Jones, 2021-10-11 In Jewish hekhalot mysticism one who ascends to the heavenly temple may see something which looks like but is not water Should he be deceived by this illusion he betrays his unworthiness and exposes himself to retribution Detailed examination of the water vision discovers that its real object is the celestial pavement separating the fiery divine realm from the watery world of impure organic matter This pavement is Ezekiel's firmament of hashmal a luminous crystalline substance seen by the visionary from above Further investigation finds that the water vision continues an ancient tradition of exegesis of Ezekiel 1 as an account of a heavenly ascent in which water signifies materiality femininity and impurity The wide and profound influence of these ideas is encountered in a variety of Jewish Christian and Gnostic sources     History, Narrative, and Testimony in Amitav Ghosh's Fiction Chitra Sankaran, 2012-03-12 This is the first collection of international scholarship on the fiction of Amitav Ghosh Ghosh's work is read by a wide audience and is well regarded by general readers critics and scholars throughout the world Born in India Ghosh has lived in India the United Kingdom and the United States His work spans genres from contemporary realism to historical fiction to science fiction but has consistently dealt with the dislocations violence and meetings of peoples and cultures engendered by colonialism The essays in this volume analyze Ghosh's novels in ways that yield new insights into concepts central to postcolonial and transnational studies making important intertextual connections and foregrounding links to prevailing theoretical and speculative scholarship The work's introduction argues that irony is central to Ghosh's vision and discusses the importance of the concepts of testimony and history to Ghosh's narratives An invaluable interview with Amitav Ghosh discusses individual works and the author's overall philosophy     A User's Guide to Postcolonial and Latino Borderland Fiction Frederick Luis Aldama, 2010-01-01 Why are so many people attracted to narrative fiction How do authors in this genre reframe experiences people and environments anchored to the real world without duplicating real life In which ways does fiction differ from reality What might fictional narrative and reality have in common if anything By analyzing novels such as Arundhati Roy's The God of Small Things Amitav Ghosh's The Glass Palace Zadie Smith's White Teeth and Hari Kunzru's The Impressionist along with selected Latino comic books and short fiction this book explores the peculiarities of the production and reception of postcolonial and Latino borderland fiction Frederick Luis Aldama uses tools from disciplines such as film studies and cognitive science that allow the reader to establish how a fictional narrative is built how it functions and how it defines the boundaries of concepts that appear susceptible to limitless interpretations Aldama emphasizes how postcolonial and Latino borderland narrative fiction authors and artists use narrative devices to create their aesthetic blueprints in ways that loosely guide their readers' imagination and emotion In A User's Guide to Postcolonial and Latino Borderland Fiction he argues that the study of ethnic identified narrative fiction must acknowledge its active engagement with world narrative fictional genres storytelling modes and techniques as well as the way such fictions work to move their audiences      Experience and Conflict: The Production of Urban Space Panu Lehtovuori, 2016-12-05 When designing planning and building urban spaces many contradictory and conflicting actors practices and agendas coexist This book propounds that at present this process is conducted in an artificial reality Concept City characterized by a simplified and outdated conception of space It provides a constructive critique of the concepts underlying the practices of planning and architecture and in order to facilitate more dynamic inclusive and subtle practices it formulates a new theory about space in general and public urban space in particular The central notions in this theory are temporality experiment and conflict which are grounded on empirical observations in Helsinki Manchester and Berlin While the book contextualizes Lefebvre s ideas on urban planning and architecture it is in no way limited to Lefebvrian discourse but allows insights to new theoretical work including that of Finnish and Swedish authors In doing so it suggests and develops exciting new approaches and tools leading to experiential urbanism

Memories of My Town Åström Anna-Maria, Korkiakangas Pirjo, Olsson Pia, 2018-06-15 The volume Memories of my Town is an exploration into how town dwellers experience their environment in a complicated way As people in urban milieus relate themselves to the environment this takes place on many levels where especially the time level becomes problematic The urban buildings and settings can be looked upon as a kind of collective history as carriers or witnesses of times past But it is only the town dwellers that experience urban time itself the time they live in but through their memories also times past In this past some elements take symbolically dense expressions Through reliving and narrating their experiences the symbolically important factors in the this urban relationship will be outlined for investigations concerning three towns Helsinki the capital Viborg the ceded and lost Carelian town and Jyväskylä a town with dense commercial and civilisatory dimensions in the middle of Finland The symbolic aspects are the kern in all the articles of the book Memories of my Town The aim of the book and its articles has been to use different theoretical concepts as guidelines in analysing the different narrative texts Thus the articles are to be seen as independent contributions to the scientific discussion about places urbanism memories and narratives The ethnological outlook is on the other hand an outcome of the joint project Town Dwellers and their Places whereby the articles substantially relate to one another Thus the book can also be seen as a joint result of this urban project which was sponsored by the Finnish Academy      Memories of My Town Anna-Maria
