Metropole Ferenc Karinthy, 2012-05-28 On his way to a linguists conference in Helsinki Budai finds himself in a strange city where he can't understand a word anyone says One claustrophobic day blurs into another as he desperately struggles to survive in this vastly overpopulated metropolis where there are as many languages as there are people Fearing that his wife will have given him up for dead he finds comfort in an unconventional relationship with the elevator operator in the hotel A suspenseful and haunting Hungarian classic and a vision of hell unlike any other imagined With time Metropole will find its due place in the twentieth century library on the same shelf as The Trial and 1984 G O Chateaufort In the same way that Kafka becomes relevant again every time you renew your driver's license Karinthy captures that enduring horrifying and exhilarating state of being at the mercy of an unfamiliar land NPR Triptych Margit Liesche, 2013-10-01 Budapest 1956 In this darkest year in the modern history of Hungary a national uprising against Soviet occupiers and their reign of terror is underway Eleven year old Evike and her firebrand mother steal deep into battle zones in support of civilian freedom fighters armed only with primitive weapons and desperate courage against the heavy artillery of trained Russian troops Taken in for interrogation by the secret police little Evike spins a story to deflect attention from her mother's revolutionary activities A story that will irrevocably alter a number of lives and reach its tentacles thirty years later into the life of Ildiko Palmay Chicago 1986 Ildiko 37 a librarian and ESL teacher the American born daughter of Hungarian refugees is caught in a web of guilt and regret over her mother's mystifying death Unsettled by her life and her romantic failures she finds herself suddenly and unexpectedly drawn back to her roots first to the Hungarian neighborhood of her youth in Chicago and eventually to the Russian occupied city of Budapest Along the way she meets a magnetic man who may not be what he seems uncovers a trail of secrets and betrayals that eventually intersect with the tangled knot of the mother daughter participants in the Revolution and she discovers the shocking truth about her mother's death Triptych is the suspenseful unfolding of two parallel stories of mother and daughter relationships forged in the brutalities of the 1956 Hungarian revolution Triptych is about survival displacement the corrosive power of secrets and ultimately the healing power of forgiveness Short Story Index: 1959-1963 , 1965 Paperbound Books in Print , 1982 A History of Europe in 12 Cafés Monica Porter, 2024-06-30 Since the seventeenth century the caf or coffee house in Europe has been the key gathering place of innovators and mavericks the writers artists philosophers and political figures who formed influential affiliations and gave birth to revolutionary movements that still affect our lives today It was the type of establishment ideally suited for this role Unlike the tavern pub or bar where one's senses grow ever duller from alcohol one can sit for hours in a caf with like minded companions consuming the coffee that sharpens wits and conversations No wonder so many new ideas were generated in the legendary caf's of Paris and Vienna Rome and Venice Prague Budapest and other major European cities In her latest book Monica Porter leads the reader on an entertaining waltz through six centuries nine European countries plus America and a wealth of historic episodes featuring some of the most intriguing and noteworthy people who ever lived As she reveals playing its vital part in all their stories at times in the background at times front and centre is that enticing venue the caf The twelve venerable establishments of the book's title the oldest dating from 1686 the newest from 1911 are all still in existence And so after learning about their fascinating historical associations readers can experience these places for themselves which makes the volume an ideal companion for history buffs travellers and caf lovers alike
