

An aerial photograph of a wide river valley. The foreground and middle ground are filled with dense trees displaying vibrant autumn colors, primarily oranges, reds, and yellows. The river flows through the center of the valley, its surface reflecting the sky. In the background, rolling hills and distant mountains are visible under a clear, light blue sky. The overall scene is a beautiful representation of a natural landscape in fall.

Beidleman, 2006-03-02 In California's Frontier Naturalists Richard Beidleman has eloquently chronicled the history of explorations and discovery that revealed the grand legacy of California's biodiversity. Naturalist's Guide to the Americas Nature Conservancy (U.S.), 1926      The Ottawa Naturalist, 1895      The Road of a Naturalist Donald Culross Peattie, 2013-10-10 The Road of a Naturalist is a fascinating autobiographical wonder written by one of America's most beloved naturalists at the height of his fame. A scientist, a philosopher, and a poet, Donald Culross Peattie takes us on a confessional journey across the landscape of his life. Told in flashbacks of years past and interspersed with impressions of a journey by motorcar across the American West, it is intensely personal. It is American in the best sense of the word. From saying goodbye to the trees at his childhood home on Lake Michigan to a man formed via Harvard and New York City, finally discovering a belief in the nature of things in a cabin in the Grand Teton, it is not told as a linear life story but rather an adventure in living, in science, in thought.
