The Power of Everyday Politics Benedict J. Kerkvliet, 2005 Ordinary people's everyday political behavior can have a huge impact on national policy that is the central conclusion of this book on Vietnam. In telling the story of collectivized agriculture in that country, Benedict J. Kerkvliet uncovers a history of local resistance to national policy and gives a voice to the villagers who effected change. Not through open opposition but through their everyday political behavior, villagers individually and in small unorganized groups undermined collective farming and frustrated authorities' efforts to correct the problems. The Power of Everyday Politics is an authoritative account based on extensive research in Vietnam's National Archives and in the Red River Delta countryside of the formation of collective farms in northern Vietnam in the late 1950s, their enlargement during wartime in the 1960s and 1970s, and their collapse in the 1980s. As Kerkvliet shows, the Vietnamese government eventually terminated the system but not for ideological reasons. Rather, collectivization had become hopelessly compromised and was ultimately destroyed largely by the activities of villagers. Decollectivization began locally among villagers themselves; national policy merely followed. The power of everyday politics is not unique to Vietnam, Kerkvliet asserts. He advances a theory explaining how everyday activities that do not conform to the behavior required by authorities may carry considerable political weight.

The Everyday Politics of Resources Nga Dao, 2025-05-15 The Everyday Politics of Resources explores the impact of development processes on the lives, livelihoods, and landscapes of the people of Northwest Vietnam. Over the past two decades, the homes and farms of hundreds of thousands of people have been appropriated to make way for dams, rubber plantations, and mining operations. While this development has enriched the state and private enterprises, it has also resulted in widespread hardship, impoverishment, and long-term environmental destruction Nga Dao draws on more than twenty years of on the ground research in the region to show how these developments have affected people in vastly uneven ways creating wealth and stability for some while dispossessing others Filled with poignant and sometimes angry narratives by those who have lost their land and traditional livelihoods as well as more triumphant stories from those who have prospered under the capitalist transformation of the region The Everyday Politics of Resources is a timely urgent examination of modernization s benefits and costs Tracks and Traces Philip Hirsch,Nicholas Tapp,2010 This volume traces the threads that tie together an understanding of Thailand as a dynamic and rapidly changing society through an examination of the work of one major scholar of the country Andrew Turton Turton s anthropological studies of Thailand cover a wide spectrum from politics and economy to ritual and culture and have been crucial in shaping evolving understandings of Thai society In this collection ten leading specialists on Thailand from a variety of disciplines critically consider aspects of Turton s work in relation to the changing nature of different aspects of Thai society The book tracks the links between past and present scholarship examines the contextuality of scholarship in its times and sheds light on the current situation in Thailand Tradition, Revolution, and Market Economy in a North Vietnamese Village, 1925-2006 Hy Van Luong,2010-08-15 Tradition Revolution and Market Economy in a North Vietnamese Village examines both continuity and change over eight decades in a small rural village deep in the North Vietnamese countryside Son Duong a community near the Red River experienced firsthand the ravages of French colonialism and the American war as well as the socialist revolution and Vietnam s recent reintegration into the global market economy In this revised and expanded edition of his 1992 book Revolution in the Village Hy V Luong draws on newly available archival documents in Hanoi narratives by villagers and three field seasons from the late 1980s to 2006 He situates his finely drawn village portrait within the historical framework of the Vietnamese revolution and the recent reforms in Vietnam The richness of the oral testimony of surviving villagers enables the author to follow them throughout political and economic upheavals compiling a wealth of original data as they actively restructure their daily lives In his analysis of the implications of these data for theoretical models of agrarian transformation Luong argues that local traditions have played a major role in shaping villagers responses to colonialism socialist policies and the global market economy His work spanning eight decades of sociocultural change will interest students and scholars of the Vietnamese revolution agrarian politics peasant societies French colonialism and socialist transformation The Everyday Political Economy of Southeast Asia Juanita Elias,Lena Rethel,2016-08-18 In this empirically rich collection of essays a team of leading international scholars explore the way that economic transformation is sustained and challenged by everyday practices across Southeast Asia Drawing together a body of interdisciplinary scholarship the authors explore how the emergence of more marketized forms of economic policy making in Southeast Asia impacts everyday life The book s twelve chapters address topics such as domestic migration trade union politics in Myanmar mining in the Philippines halal food in Singapore Islamic finance in Malaysia education reform in

Indonesia street vending in Malaysia regional migration between Malaysia Indonesia and Cambodia and Southeast Asian domestic workers in Hong Kong This collection not only enhances understandings of the everyday political economies at work in specific Southeast Asian sites but makes a major theoretical contribution to the development of an everyday political economy approach in which perspectives from developing economies and non Western actors are taken seriously

Gender, Household and State in Post-Revolutionary Vietnam Jayne Werner,2009-01-21 Examining gender in post revolutionary Vietnam focusing in particular on gender relations in both the family and state since the onset of economic reform in 1986 this book argues that as in the socialist era current gender relations bear the imprint of state gender policies and discourses

Humans, Animals and Biopolitics Kristin Asdal,Tone Druglitrø,Steve Hinchliffe,2016-07-01 Human animal co existence is central to a politics of life how we order societies and to debates about who we humans think we are In other words our ways of understanding and ordering human animal relations have economic and political implications and affect peoples everyday lives By bringing together historically oriented approaches and contemporary ethnographies which engage with science and technology studies STS this book reflects the multi sited multi species multi logic and multiple ways in which lives are and have been assembled disassembled practised and possibly policed and politicized Instead of asking only how control and knowledge are and have been extended over life the chapters in this book also look at what happens when control fails at practices which defy orders escape detection fail to produce or only loosely hang together In doing so the book problematises and extends the Foucauldian notion of biopolitics that has been such a central analytical concept in studies of human animal relations and provides a unique resource of cases and theoretical refinements regarding the ways in which we live together with more than human others

Speaking Out in Vietnam Benedict J. Tria Kerkvliet,2019-06-15 Since 1990 public political criticism has evolved into a prominent feature of Vietnam s political landscape So argues Benedict Kerkvliet in his analysis of Communist Party ruled Vietnam Speaking Out in Vietnam assesses the rise and diversity of these public displays of disagreement showing that it has morphed from family whispers to large scale use of electronic media In discussing how such criticism has become widespread over the last three decades Kerkvliet focuses on four clusters of critics factory workers demanding better wages and living standards villagers demonstrating and petitioning against corruption and land confiscations citizens opposing China's encroachment into Vietnam and criticizing China Vietnam relations and dissidents objecting to the party state regime and pressing for democratization He finds that public political criticism ranges from lambasting corrupt authorities to condemning repression of bloggers to protesting about working conditions Speaking Out in Vietnam shows that although we may think that the party state represses public criticism in fact Vietnamese authorities often tolerate and respond positively to such public and open protests
