Cooper,2006-02-02 Why do gardens matter so much and mean so much to people That is the intriguing question to which David Cooper seeks an answer in this book Given the enthusiasm for gardens in human civilization ancient and modern Eastern and Western it is surprising that the question has been so long neglected by modern philosophy Now at last there is a philosophy of gardens Not only is this a fascinating

subject in its own right it also provides a reminder that the subject matter of aesthetics is broader than the fine arts that ethics is not just about moral issues but about the good life and that environmental philosophy should not focus only on wilderness to the exclusion of the humanly shaped environment David Cooper identifies garden appreciation as a special human phenomenon distinct from both from the appreciation of art and the appreciation of nature He explores the importance of various garden practices and shows how not only gardening itself but activities to which the garden especially lends itself including social and meditative activities contribute to the good life And he distinguishes the many kinds of meanings that gardens may have from representation of nature to emotional expression from historical significance to symbolization of a spiritual relationship to the world Building on the familiar observation that among human beings creations the garden is peculiarly dependent on the co operation of nature Cooper argues that the garden matters as an epiphany of an intimate co dependence between human creative activity in the world and the mystery that allows there to be a world for them at all A Philosophy of Gardens will open up this subject to students and scholars of aesthetics ethics and cultural and environmental studies and to anyone with a reflective interest in things horticultural

The Essential Earthman Henry Clay Mitchell, 2003-01-24 The most soul satisfying gardening book in years New York Times March 1982 reviewing the 1981 cloth edition from IU Press Genuinely a classic Los Angeles Times on the occasion of Houghton Mifflin's paperback edition which came out in 1994 Is there anyone alive with the slightest interest in gardening who doesn't know that Henry Mitchell is one of the funniest and most truthful garden columnists we've got Allen Lacy Mitchell is a joy to read He has tried and failed persevered and triumphed and he has many sound recommendations for us fumblers and failures Celestine Sibley in the Atlanta Constitution Henry Mitchell is one of America's most entertaining and enlightening garden writers Garden writer fails in truth to describe this man He gardens and he writes the former if we take him at his word with lust and loathing foolhardiness and finesse the latter with gentle irony and consummate skill Pacific Horticulture Mitchell mixes practical advice encouragement philosophic consolation and wit He is the neighbor you wish you could talk to over the back fence House and Garden Henry Mitchell was to gardening what Izaak Walton was to fishing The Essential Earthman is a collection of the best of his long running column for the Washington Post Although he offered invaluable tips for novice as well as seasoned gardeners at the heart of his essays were piquant observations on keeping records the role of trees in gardens they don t belong there how a gardener should weather the winter on shrubs bulbs and fragrant flowers and about observation itself Here s one example Marigolds gain enormously in impact when used as sparingly as ultimatums Henry Mitchell came to his subject with reverence passion humor and a contagious enthusiasm tempered only by his sober knowledge of human frailty The Essential Earthman is for all who love gardening even those who only dream of doing it

Public Garden Management: a Global Perspective BIJAN DEHGAN,2014-04-15 Public Gardens Management

A Global Perspective provides essential information about public gardens and what is involved in designing managing and maintaining one. Although suitable as a textbook its audience will include anyone with direct or peripheral responsibility for administration or supervision of a complex organization that requires scientific knowledge as well as public relations and business acumen. It may also prove useful for homeowners for there is no fundamental difference between growing plants in a public garden or a home garden a fact reflected in the extensive reference citations. The topic is multidisciplinary and as old as the beginning of human civilization when the concept of mental and physical restoration was realized by early man while he/she was in a natural but well ordered garden environment. Thus began the art of garden making. Many volumes have been written on every applicable subject discussed in this and similar publications. Indeed the voluminous literature on history design horticulture and numerous related subjects is nothing short of overwhelming. Accordingly anyone involved in management of public gardens whether as a director or area supervisor and irrespective of the type and size of such facility would have to have familiarity with various aspects of garden organization and administration. However despite the enormous number and diversity of such publications there are very few books that deal with the multiplicity of the topics in such a manner as to be practical in approach and cover most relevant and unified issues in a single book. These volumes provide the essential background information on plants animals management maintenance fundraising and finances as well as history art design education and conservation. They also cover a host of interrelated subjects and responsible organization of such activities as creating a children's garden horticultural therapy conservatories zoological gardens and parks hence administration of multidimensional public gardens. Nearly 500 full color plates representing illustrations from gardens in more than 30 countries are provided to assist and guide students and other interested individuals with history and the fundamental issues of public garden management. The 15 chapters begin with the need for public gardens types of public gardens historical backgrounds as well as design diversity. Numerous quotations are included from many garden lovers landscape architects philosophers and others. The authors primary aim in writing this book was based on the confidence that a relevant reference between the encyclopedic nature of some and the specific subject matter of others could be used to provide fundamental information for management of public as well as private gardens. The boundary between botanical and zoological gardens and parks is no longer as distinct as it once was. In part it is because a garden is not a garden without plants and in part it has become apparent that for all practical intents and purposes all animals need plants for their survival. Visitors of zoological gardens expect to see more than just animals zoos are landscaped grounds. Moreover most communities find it financially difficult to simultaneously operate a botanical garden or an arboretum as well as a zoological garden and city parks. A number of public gardens are currently referred to as botanical and zoological garden. Population density and the public's desires and expectations as well as financial requirements are among the reasons for some major city parks such as Golden Gate in San Francisco Central Park in New York City and Lincoln Park in Chicago which integrate botanical or zoological divisions as well as museums and recreational facilities While this book attempts to provide basic principles involved in public garden management it does not claim to be a substitute for broader familiarity Gardening for Love Elizabeth Lawrence, 1988-06-27 Elizabeth Lawrence occupies a secure place in the pantheon of twentieth century gardening writers that includes Gertrude Jekyll and Vita Sackville West of Great Britain and Katherine S White of the United States Her books such as A Southern Garden 1942 and The Little Bulbs 1957 remain in print continuing to win praise from critics and to delight an ever widening circle of readers In Gardening for Love Lawrence reveals another world of garden writing the world of the rural women of the South with whom she corresponded extensively from the late 1950s into the mid 1970s in response to their advertisements for herbs and ornamental perennials in several market bulletins published by state departments of agriculture for the benefit of farmers It was Eudora Welty who awakened Elizabeth Lawrence's interest in this fascinating topic by putting her name on the mailing list of The Mississippi Market Bulletin a twice monthly collection of classified advertisements founded in 1928 and still published today Lawrence soon discovered market bulletins from the Carolinas and other Southern states as well as similar bulletins published privately in the North She began ordering plants from the bulletins and there ensued a lively exchange of letters with the women who sold them Gardening for Love is Lawrence's exploration of this little known side of American horticulture and her affectionate tribute to country people who shared her passion for plants Drawing on the letters she received sometimes a great many of them from the same persons over many years she delves into traditional plant lore herbal remedies odd and often highly poetic vernacular plant names peculiar to particular regions of the South and the herb collectors of the mountains of the Carolinas and Georgia She focuses primarily on the Southeast and the Deep South but her wide knowledge of both literature and botany gives Gardening for Love a dimension that transcends the category of regional writing Waterstone's Guide to Books Waterstone & Co., Ltd, 1989 Gardening Companion Gertrude Jekyll, 2006 Gertrude Jekyll grew up wanting to be a painter But she turned to gardening instead where her love of plants allied to her eye for colour and for the architectural structure of a garden produced a revolution in 20th century garden design This is a posthumous collection of her notes and articles written over a period of nearly forty years Smithsonian Makers Workshop Smithsonian Institution, 2020 Explores the history of crafts cooking decorating and gardening in America with projects included in each section Includes visual timelines profiles of important creators in each area and insight into the evolution of the domestic arts Carpe Ma ana Leonard Sweet, 2003 A naturalization manual to help Christians become leaders in the new world of postmodern culture Through nine naturalization classes Leonard Sweet an outside the box thinker offers strategies for leaders to put their faces not their backs to the future Country Life , 1915 The Gardener's Magazine , 1908
