Classical Taste in the Architectural World of Thomas Jefferson Alley Marie Jordan, 2025-06-12. Reaching beyond politics and law, this book focuses on Thomas Jefferson as an aesthetic classicist. Jefferson embraced the influence of antiquity through his adoption of classical architecture in his Virginia residences in order to establish Rome as an ancestor to America. In a time of significant political and cultural change, he aligned himself with a Greco-Roman legacy that represented knowledge, power, and art. Alley Marie Jordan studies the architectural and landscape spaces of Jefferson's classical taste, which include the villas of Monticello and Poplar Forest, as well as the University of Virginia. An examination of these places exposes his deeply entrenched views of the importance of classics in Virginia and reveals them as expressions of admiration of classical antiquity. Seeking to uncover an underexplored side of his character, Jordan deconstructs his identity through a classical lens and illustrates his influence on American culture, as well as his desire to reform it via the classics. By dislodging Jefferson from American politics, this study redefines his worldview and motivations for inventing an American virtue based on Horace's utile dulci. Although his participation in acquiring classical taste was not unique for his time, he did accomplish a unique aim with classicism: the blending of the American landscape with classical culture to create a new American virtue.

Bramante's Tempietto, the Roman Renaissance, and the Spanish Crown Jack Freiberg, 2014-11-10 This groundbreaking book situates Bramante's Tempietto at the center of an arts program that exalted Spain's quest for Christian hegemony The Boundaries of Art and Social Space in Rome Frederick Jones, 2016-10-06 This volume focuses on four cultural phenomena in the Roman world of the late Republic: the garden, a garden painting, tapestry, and the domestic caged bird. They accept or reject a categorisation as art in varying degrees but they show considerable overlaps in the ways in which they impinge on social space. The study looks therefore at the borderlines between things that variously might or might not seem to be art forms. It looks at boundaries in another sense too. Boundaries between different social modes and contexts are embodied and represented in the garden and paintings of gardens reinforced by the domestic use of decorative textile work and replicated in the bird cage. The boundaries thus thematised map on to broader boundaries in the Roman house, city and wider world becoming part of the framework of the citizen's cognitive development and individual and civic identities. Frederick Jones presents a novel analysis that uses the perspective of cognitive development in relation to how elements of domestic and urban visual culture and the broader world map on to each other. His study for the first time understands the domestic caged bird as a cultural object and uniquely brings together four disparate cases under the umbrella of art.

Classical Sculpture Irene Bald Romano, 2011-01-01 This first complete published catalogue of one of the most important classical sculpture collections in the United States includes 154 works from Italy, Greece, Cyprus, Asia Minor, North Africa, Roman Syria and Palestine, Egypt and Babylonia ranging in date from the late seventh century B.C. to the fourth century A.D. Each piece receives a complete description with measurements and report of condition, a list of the previous published sources and a commentary reflecting the most recent scholarship along with extensive photographic documentation. Various audiences will appreciate the accessibility of the scholarship presented here: students may engage in further study on some of the topics raised by individual pieces or groups of sculptures and the scholarly community will welcome a work that provides an up-to-date and comprehensive examination of a significant classical sculpture collection in one of the world's great archaeology museums.

The Moving City Ida Ostenberg, Simon Malmberg, Jonas Bjørnebye, 2015-08-27 The Moving City: Processions, Passages and Promenades in Ancient Rome focusses on movements in the ancient city of Rome exploring the interaction between people and monuments. Representing a novel approach to the Roman cityscape and culture and reflecting the shift away from the traditional study of single monuments into broader analyses of context and space, the volume reveals both how movement adds to our understanding of ancient society and how the movement of people and goods shaped urban development. Covering a wide range of people, places, sources and times, the volume includes a survey of Republican, imperial and late antique movement: triumphal processions of conquering generals, seditious violent movement of riots and rebellion, religious processions and rituals and the everyday movements of individual strolls or household errands. By way of its longue durée, dense location and the variety of available sources, the city of ancient Rome offers a unique possibility to study movements as expressions of power, ritual, writing.

communication mentalities trade and also as a result of a massed populace violent outbreaks and attempts to keep order The emerging picture is of a bustling lively society where cityscape and movements are closely interactive and entwined

Guarding the Caesars Rose Mary Sheldon, 2023-08-29 Guarding the Caesars is the story of the survival of the Flavian emperors in Rome The dynasty produced three of the most famous and productive rulers in the Roman Empire Vespasian built the Colosseum Titus won the Great Jewish War of 66 70 and his men were responsible for the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem Domitian perhaps Rome s greatest builder is responsible for many of the buildings we connect with Rome today He was without a doubt among the most controversial of all Roman rulers and the subject of much debate still today The Flavian dynasty begins with the death of the four successors to the Julio Claudians and ends with the dramatic assassination of Domitian in his own palace In between there are numerous attempts to kill the sitting emperor Seventy five percent of all Roman emperors died of assassination the highest rate of any monarchy in the world This is the story of how the emperors security services tried to keep three of them alive

A Poetics of Postcolonial Biblical Criticism Aliou Cissé Niang, 2019-12-18 Telling in current biblical postcolonial discourse that draws insights from the works of Aime Cesaire Frantz Fanon and postcolonial theorists is the missing contribution of Leopold Sedar Senghor the architect of Negritude If mentioned at all Senghor is often read through conclusions drawn by his critics or dismissed altogether as irrelevant to postcolonialism Restored to its rightful place Senghorian Negritude is a postcolonial lens for reading Scripture and other faith traditions with a view to reposition conscientize liberate and rehabilitate the conquered and enable them to reclaim their faith traditions and practices that once directed a mutual relationship between God human and nature a delicate symbiosis before the French colonial advent in West Africa A keen eye for cross cultural analysis and contextualization enriched this volume with an intriguing reading of scripture Ancient Near Eastern and Greco Roman texts in conversation with other faith traditions particularly Senegalese Diola Religion As a Poetics of Postcolonial Biblical Criticism Negritude is an optic through which people of faith may look around themselves critically reread their sacred texts reassess their vocation and practice mutuality with God and nature on the heels of chilling climate change Enshrined in this innovative argument is a call for introspection and challenge for people of faith to assume their vocation human participatory agency

The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture Elise A. Friedland, Melanie Grunow Sobocinski, Elaine K. Gazda, 2015 The study of Roman sculpture has been an essential part of the disciplines of Art History and Classics since the eighteenth century Famous works like the Laocoön the Arch of Titus and the colossal portrait of Constantine are familiar to millions Again and again scholars have returned to sculpture to answer questions about Roman art society and history Indeed the field of Roman sculptural studies encompasses not only the full chronological range of the Roman world but also its expansive geography and a variety of artistic media formats sizes and functions Exciting new theories methods and approaches have transformed the specialized literature on the subject in recent decades Rather than creating another chronological catalogue of representative examples from various periods genres and settings The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture synthesizes current best practices for studying this central medium of Roman art situating it within the larger fields of Art History Classical Archaeology and Roman Studies This comprehensive volume fills the gap between introductory textbooks and highly focused professional literature The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture conveniently presents new technical scientific literary and theoretical approaches to the study of Roman sculpture in one reference volume while simultaneously complementing textbooks and other publications that present well known works in the corpus The contributors to this volume address metropolitan and provincial material from the early republican period through late antiquity in an engaging and fresh style Authoritative innovative and up to date The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture will remain an invaluable resource for years to come

Virgin Sacrifice in Classical Art Anthony F. Mangieri, 2017-09-22 The Trojan War begins and ends with the sacrifice of a virgin princess The gruesome killing of a woman must have captivated ancient people because the myth of the sacrificial virgin resonates powerfully in the arts of ancient Greece and Rome Most scholars agree that the Greeks and Romans did not practice human sacrifice so why then do the myths of virgin sacrifice appear persistently in art and literature for over a millennium Virgin Sacrifice in Classical Art Women Agency and the Trojan

War seeks to answer this question This book tells the stories of the sacrificial maidens in order to help the reader discover the meanings bound up in these myths for historical people In exploring the representations of Iphigeneia and Polyxena in Greek Etruscan and Roman art this book offers a broader cultural history that reveals what people in the ancient world were seeking in these stories The result is an interdisciplinary study that offers new interpretations on the meaning of the sacrificial virgin as a cultural and ideological construction This is the first book length study of virgin sacrifice in ancient art and the first to provide an interpretive framework within which to understand its imagery

Rome's Patron Emily Gowers,2024-02-27 The story of Maecenas and his role in the evolution and continuing legacy of ancient Roman poetry and culture An unelected statesman with exceptional powers a patron of the arts and a luxury loving friend of the emperor Augustus Maecenas was one of the most prominent and distinctive personalities of ancient Rome Yet the traces he left behind are unreliable and tantalizingly scarce Rather than attempting a conventional biography Emily Gowers shows in Rome s Patron that it is possible to tell a different story one about Maecenas s influence his changing identities and the many narratives attached to him across two millennia Rome s Patron explores Maecenas s appearances in the central works of Augustan poetry written in his name Virgil s Georgics Horace s Odes and Propertius s elegies and in later works of Latin literature that reassess his influence For the Roman poets he supported Maecenas was a mascot of cultural flexibility and innovation a pioneer of gender fluidity and a bearer of imperial demands who could be exposed as a secret sympathizer with their own values For those excluded from his circle he represented either favouritism and indulgence or the lost ideal of a patron in perfect collaboration with the authors he championed As Gowers shows Maecenas had and continues to have a unique cachet in the fantasies that still surround the gardens buildings and objects so tenuously associated with him in literature from Ariosto and Ben Johnson to Phillis Wheatley and W B Yeats and in philanthropy where his name has been surprisingly adaptable to more democratic forms of patronage
