The General's Wife M. Hamilton,1916 The General's Unexpected Wife Theresa Yasses,2025-06-24 Song Shengsheng had a nightmare and realized that she was the cannon fodder female supporting character in a period drama the evil ex wife of the male lead who died early In the story she was nothing but a beautiful woman with no other talents To escape her husband she wrote a denunciation letter accusing her military officer husband of having questionable political background Not only that When her husband traveled thousands of miles to chase her and beg her to come home she rejected him without hesitation and even mocked him saying he would never amount to anything in his life In the end her husband s family was exonerated and his father and brothers were restored to their former positions He himself rose through the ranks and upon returning to the capital became a powerful figure in high office As for her the cruel female supporting character who abandoned her husband and children she met a tragic end by taking her own life Song Shengsheng who had awakened from her dream To avoid such a tragic ending she could only keep her head down and strive to be a good person She waited for the turbulent years to pass hoping to divorce the male lead peacefully and each go their separate ways to a happy life Days passed Her husband just like in the book rose higher and higher in his career Song Shengsheng waited and waited but he never initiated the divorce But Song Shengsheng had had enough Once she felt confident enough she said without hesitation Fu Cheng I want a divorce After all these years of working tirelessly to clean up her messes Fu Cheng was taken aback The female lead is a great actress she s just pretending to love him The male lead truly loves her he s just a man of few words      The General's Wife Jennifer Jessen,2015-07-14

Disfranchised and Disinherited Robert Francis Engs,1999 Best remembered as the founder of Hampton Institute and mentor of Booker T Washington Samuel Chapman Armstrong played a crucial role in white philanthropy and educational strategies toward nonwhite people in late nineteenth century America Until now however there has been no scholarly biography of Armstrong his story has usually been subsumed within that of his famous protégé In Educating the Disfranchised and Disinherited Robert Francis Engs illuminates both Armstrong s life and an important chapter in the history of American race relations Armstrong was the son of missionaries to Hawaii and as Engs makes clear his early experiences in a multiracial predominantly non European society did much to determine his life s work the uplift of backward peoples After attending Williams College Armstrong commanded black troops in the Civil War and served as a Freedmen s Bureau agent before founding Hampton in 1869 At the institute he implemented a unique combination of manual labor education and teacher training creating an educational system that he believed would enable African Americans and other disfranchised peoples to rise gradually toward the level of white civilization Recent studies have often blamed Armstrong for miseducating an entire generation of African Americans and for Washington s failings as a race leader Indeed as Engs notes Armstrong s educational designs were paternalistic in the extreme and in addressing certain audiences he could sometimes sound like a consummate racist On the other hand he frequently expressed a deep devotion to the ultimate equality of African Americans and incorporated the best of his black graduates into the Hampton staff Sorting through the complexities and contradictions of Armstrong s character and vision Engs s masterful biography provides new insights into the failures of emancipation and into the sometimes flawed responses of one heir to antebellum abolition and egalitarian Christianity The Author Robert Francis Engs is associate professor of history at the University of Pennsylvania and the author of Freedom s First Generation Black Hampton Virginia 1861 1890
