The Genre Of Argument

John W. Du Bois, Lorraine Edith Kumpf, William J. Ashby

The Genre Of Argument:

The Genre of Argument Irene L. Clark, THE GENRE OF ARGUMENT is a rhetoric that defines the distinguishing characteristics of the argument paper which students can understand easily once they are aware of its context and purpose By looking at argument as a genre students gain insight into how purpose influences many features of successful argumentative writing Students are led to find the problem within a topic and develop a position or thesis in response to that situation The overt consideration of genre will help students to apply generic conventions in a multiplicity of contexts

Preferred Argument Structure John W. Du Bois, Lorraine Edith Kumpf, William J. Ashby, 2003-01-01 Preferred Argument Structure offers a profound insight into the relationship between language use and grammatical structure In his original publication on Preferred Argument Structure Du Bois 1987 demonstrated the power of this perspective by using it to explain the origins of ergativity and ergative marking systems Since this work the general applicability of Preferred Argument Structure has been demonstrated in studies of language after language In this collection the authors move beyond verifying Preferred Argument Structure as a property of a given language They use the methodology to reveal more subtle aspects of the patterns for example to look across languages diachronically or synchronically to examine particular grammatical relations and to examine special populations or particular genres This volume will appeal to linguists interested in the relationship of pragmatics and grammar generally in the typology of grammatical relations and in explanations derived from data and corpus based approaches to analysis The Argument Handbook K. J. Peters, 2018-11-15 The Argument Handbook is a classroom text for first year composition that is designed to help students understand complex rhetorical situations and navigate the process of transforming private thoughts into persuasive public writing The book is organized around three key lenses of argumentation that help students focus on the practical challenges of persuasive writing invention audience and authority Its modular organization makes it easier for students to find what they need and easier for instructors to assign the content that fits their course The Anthropology of Argument Christopher W. Tindale, 2020-12-30 This innovative text reinvigorates argumentation studies by exploring the experience of argument across cultures introducing an anthropological perspective into the domains of rhetoric communication and philosophy The Anthropology of Argument fills an important gap in contemporary argumentation theory by shifting the focus away from the purely propositional element of arguments and onto how they emerge from the experiences of peoples with diverse backgrounds demonstrating how argumentation can be understood as a means of expression and a gathering place of ideas and styles Confronting the limitations of the Western tradition of logic and searching out the argumentative roles of place orality myth narrative and audience it examines the nature of multi modal argumentation Tindale analyzes the impacts of colonialism on the field and addresses both optimistic and cynical assessments of contextual differences The results have implications for our understanding of contemporary argumentative discourse in areas marked by deep disagreement like politics law and social policy The book will interest scholars and upper level students in communication philosophy argumentation theory anthropology rhetoric linguistics and cultural studies The Practice of Argumentation David Zarefsky,2019-09-19 Explores how we justify our beliefs and try to influence those of others both soundly and effectively The Literary Structure of Scientific Argument Peter Dear,2015-08-12 In this volume seven historians of science examine the historical creation and meaning of a range of scientific textual forms from the seventeenth to the late nineteenth centuries They consider examples from the fields of chemistry medicine physics zoology physiology and mathematics exposing the rich possibilities for a new historically rooted approach to our scientific cultural heritage Peter Dear presents the case for taking texts seriously asking historians of science to confront issues and techniques moving to the forefront in a number of disciplines and asking literary scholars and literary minded intellectual historians not to put science quietly to one side or treat it as a mere source of cultural metaphors but to understand it in terms of historically specific textual construction The Literary Structure of Scientific Argument will interest historians philosophers and sociologists as well as literary scholars concerned with science

Genre Anis S. Bawarshi,Mary Jo Reiff,2010-03-08 GENRE AN INTRODUCTION TO HISTORY THEORY RESEARCH AND PEDAGOGY provides a critical overview of the rich body of scholarship that has informed a genre turn in Rhetoric and Composition including a range of interdisciplinary perspectives from rhetorical theory applied linguistics sociology philosophy cognitive psychology and literary theory Multimodal Approaches to Research and Pedagogy Arlene Archer,Denise Newfield,2014-03-14 This book brings together social semiotics cultural studies multiliteracies and other approaches in order to theorize very different learning environments giving visibility to the modal effect in a range of disciplines It highlights the ideological nature of discursive practices examines questions of access and argues for transformation of these practices with a constant eye on issues of social justice and equity Contributors argue that we can harness learners representational resources through making these resources visible and creating less regulated spaces in the curriculum in which they can be used Examples from primary education through to adult continuing education are used throughout the text Writing Theology Well Lucretia B. Yaghjian,2006-11-24 In its creative integration of the disciplines of writing rhetoric and theology Writing Theology Well provides a standard text for theological educators engaged in the teaching and mentoring of writing across the theological curriculum As a theological rhetoric it will also encourage excellence in theological writing in the public domain by helping to equip students for their wider vocations as writers preachers and communicators in a variety of ministerial and professional contexts Corpora and Rhetorically Informed Text Analysis David West Brown,Danielle Zawodny Wetzel,2023-06-15 Corpora and Rhetorically Informed Text Analysis explores applications of rhetorically informed approaches to corpus research Bringing together contributions from scholars in a variety of fields it takes up questions of how theories and traditions in rhetorical analysis can be integrated with corpus techniques in order to enrich our understanding of language use variation and history The studies included in this volume shed light on areas as diverse as student academic writing political discourse and the digital humanities These studies all make use of a dictionary based tagger called DocuScope which recognizes tens of millions of words and phrases and slots them into categories based on their rhetorical functions While DocuScope provides a through line that both links the studies various analytical procedures and primes their rhetorical insights the volume is about more than the explanatory power of a single tool It demonstrates how rhetorically informed approaches can complement more established corpus methodologies underscoring their combined potential

Multimodal Argumentation and Rhetoric in Media Genres Assimakis Tseronis, Charles Forceville, 2017-12-15 This collection advances the study of context dependent characteristics of argumentative discourse by examining a variety of media genres in which text and image and other semiotic modes combine to create meaning The chapters have been written by an international group of senior and junior scholars researching multimodal argumentation in the last two decades In each chapter a specific approach to argumentation and rhetoric is combined with insights from visual studies metaphor theory scientific visualization cognitive science semiotics conversation analysis or documentary film theory in order to explain how multimodal genres function argumentatively and rhetorically Together the chapters present a state of the art in the analysis of multimodal argumentation in such diverse genres as print advertisements news photographs scientific illustrations political cartoons documentaries film trailers political TV advertisements public debates and political speeches The volume will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in argumentation studies rhetoric and multimodal communication

The Fiction of Autobiography Micaela Maftai, 2013-07-04

Writing autobiography is a complicated often fraught activity for both writer and reader We can find many recent examples of the way such writing calls into question the author s truthfulness or their authority to present as definitive their version of a particular event or portion of their lives Drawing upon a wide range of late twentieth and early twenty first century autobiographical writing The Fiction of Autobiography examines key aspects of autobiography from the interrelated perspectives of author reader critic and scholar to reconsider how we view this form of writing and its relationship to the way we understand and construct identity Maftai considers recent cases and texts such as Didion s The Year of Magical Thinking and Frey s A Million Little Pieces alongside older texts such as Proust s In Search of Lost Time Nabokov s Invitation of a Memory and Stein s The Autobiography of Alice B Toklas In part this is to emphasise that key issues reappear and arise over decades and centuries and that texts distanced by time can speak to each other thoughtfully and poignantly

Teaching the Content Areas to English Language Learners in Secondary Schools Luciana C. de Oliveira, Kathryn M. Obenchain, Rachael H. Kenney, Alandeom W.
