The Genuine Shona Survival Values Of An African Culture:

The Genuine Shona Michael Gelfand,1992      The Genuine Shona Michael Gelfand,1992      The genuine Shona M. Gelfand,1976      Mawere: African Cultures, Memory and Space Munyaradzi Mawere,R. Mubaya,2014-07-17 African Cultures Memory and Space is an impeccable volume that powerfully grapples with a gamut of cultural heritage issues challenges and problems from a vista of inter and multi disciplinary approach The book which is designed as a foundational text to the study of culture in ever changing environments makes an important argument that the dynamism of culture in highly globalised societies such as that of Zimbabwe can be studied from any perspective but most importantly through careful examination of cultural elements such as memory oral history and space among others While the book makes special reference to Zimbabwe it profoundly and audaciously dissect and cut across different geographical and cultural spaces through its penetrating interrogation and scrutiny of different issues commonplace in many African contexts and even beyond The book written by scholars from different backgrounds and orientations should appeal to scholars researchers and students from various disciplines which include but not limited to Cultural Heritage Studies Policy Studies Social Cultural Anthropology Sociology Development Studies and African Studies      African Values, Ethics, and Technology Beatrice Dedaa Okyere-Manu,2021-04-30 This book charts technological developments from an African ethical perspective It explores the idea that while certain technologies have benefited Africans the fact that these technologies were designed and produced in and for a different setting leads to conflicts with African ethical values Written in a simple and engaging style the authors apply an African ethical lens to themes such as The Fourth Industrial Revolution the moral status of technology technology and sexual relations and bioethics and technology      Indigenous Shona Philosophy Pascah Mungwini,2017-12-29 Some of the most provocative questions confronting philosophers in Africa are grounded in the historical memory of conquest and the peripheralisation the continent Mungwini offers a critical reconstruction of indigenous Shona philosophy as an aspect of the African intellectual heritage held hostage by colonial modernity In this comprehensive work he lays bare the thoughts of the Shona who are credited with the founding of the ancient Great Zimbabwe civilisation Retracing the epistemic thread in the fabric of Shona culture and philosophy he explores the assumptions that inform their thinking The exchange of such knowledge is fundamental to the future of humanity      Ubuntu Philosophy and Disabilities in Sub-Saharan Africa Oliver Mutanga,2023-11-03 This book uses Ubuntu philosophy to illuminate the voices of people with disabilities from Sub Saharan Africa Disability literature is largely dominated by scholars and studies from the Global North and these studies are largely informed by Global North theories and concepts Although disability literature in the Global South is now fast growing most studies continue to utilise conceptual theoretical and philosophical frameworks that are framed within Global North contexts This presents two major challenges Firstly the voices of people with disabilities in the Global South remain on the fringes of disability discourses Secondly when their voices are heard their realities are distorted This edited book consisting of 11 chapters provides case studies from Botswana Ghana Lesotho Uganda and South Africa explores disability in various fields Inclusive education higher education environment Open Distance Learning and Technical and Vocational Education and Technical Colleges The book contributes to the ways in which disability is understood and experienced in the Global South thereby challenging the Western hegemonic discourses on disability This collection of contributions will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies development studies medical sociology and African studies Lobola (Bridewealth) in Contemporary Southern Africa Lovemore Togarasei, Ezra Chitando, 2021-02-03 This volume explores the multiple meanings and implications of lobola in Southern Africa The payment of lobola often controversially translated as bridewealth is an entrenched practice in most societies in Southern Africa Although having a long tradition of late there have been voices questioning its relevance in contemporary times while others vehemently defend the practice This book brings together a range of scholars from different academic disciplines national contexts institutions genders and ethnic backgrounds to debate the relevance of lobola in contemporary southern African communities for gender equality

Toward a Theory of Cultural Linguistics Gary B. Palmer, 1996 Imagery broadly defined as all that people may construe in cognitive models pertaining to vision hearing touch taste smell and feeling states precedes and shapes human language In this pathfinding book Gary B Palmer restores imagery to a central place in studies of language and culture by bringing together the insights of cognitive linguistics and anthropology to form a new theory of cultural linguistics Palmer begins by showing how cognitive grammar complements the traditional anthropological approaches of Boasian linguistics ethnosemantics and the ethnography of speaking He then applies his cultural theory to a wealth of case studies including Bedouin lamentations spatial organization in Coeur d Alene place names and anatomical terms Kuna narrative sequence honorifics in Japanese sales language the domain of ancestral spirits in Proto Bantu noun classifiers Chinese counterfactuals the non arbitrariness of Spanish verb forms and perspective schemas in English discourse This pioneering approach suggests innovative solutions to old problems in anthropology and new directions for research It will be important reading for everyone interested in anthropology linguistics cognitive science and philosophy Combating School-Based Violence Using African Indigenous Knowledge Systems Mfundo Mandla Masuku, Nomakhosi Nomathemba Sibisi, 2025-05-12 Using African epistemologies to understand contributing social and cultural factors around African school violence this book investigates various kinds of school based violence suffered by learners and teachers in order to further research into the impact of educational interventions on crime prevention in African schools Investigating various kinds of school violence including gender based violence and gang violence the book uses African Indigenous Knowledge Systems and the philosophy of Ubuntu for example to tackle important concerns surrounding school violence social cohesion community engagement and role of education in fostering sustainable communities Chapters demonstrate a qualitative research approach that encompasses empirical and conceptual studies to provide an in depth exploration of violence in educational settings the book draws on human experiences and emotions as well as teachers learners communities and other relevant stakeholders perceptions of school violence This highly interdisciplinary volume will be of immense value to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of sociology of education philosophy of education and educational psychology Curriculum developers involved with module design may also find the volume of use

Religion and the COVID-19 Pandemic in Southern Africa Fortune Sibanda,Tenson Muyambo,Ezra Chitando,2022-02-24 This book investigates the role of religion in the context of the COVID 19 pandemic in Southern Africa Building on a diverse range of methodologies and disciplinary approaches the book reflects on how religion politics and health have interfaced in Southern African contexts when faced with the sudden public health emergency caused by the pandemic Religious actors have played a key role on the frontline throughout the pandemic sometimes posing roadblocks to public health messaging but more often deploying their resources to help provide effective and timely responses Drawing on case studies from African indigenous knowledge systems Islam Rastafari and various forms of Christianity this book provides important reflections on the role of religion in crisis response This book will be of interest to researchers across the fields of African Studies Health Politics and Religious Studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Slavery by Any Other Name Eric Allina,2012-03-09 Based on documents from a long lost and unexplored colonial archive Slavery by Any Other Name tells the story of how Portugal privatized part of its empire to the Mozambique Company In the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries the company governed central Mozambique under a royal charter and built a vast forced labor regime camouflaged by the rhetoric of the civilizing mission Oral testimonies from more than one hundred Mozambican elders provide a vital counterpoint to the perspectives of colonial officials detailed in the archival records of the Mozambique Company Putting elders voices into dialogue with officials reports Eric Allina reconstructs this modern form of slavery explains the impact this coercive labor system had on Africans lives and describes strategies they used to mitigate or deflect its burdens In analyzing Africans responses to colonial oppression Allina documents how some Africans succeeded in recovering degrees of sovereignty not through resistance but by placing increasing burdens on fellow Africans a dynamic that paralleled developments throughout much of the continent This volume also traces the international debate on slavery labor and colonialism that ebbed and flowed during the first several decades of the twentieth century exploring a conversation that extended from the backwoods of the Mozambique Zimbabwe borderlands to ministerial offices in Lisbon and London Slavery by Any Other Name situates this history of forced labor in colonial Africa within the broader and deeper history of empire slavery and abolition showing how colonial rule in Africa simultaneously continued and transformed past forms of bondage

Between Rhetoric and Reality Munyaradzi Mawere,Samuel Awuah-Nyamekye,2015-04-03 Since time immemorial indigenous peoples around the world have developed knowledge systems to ensure their continued survival in their respective territories These knowledge systems have always been dynamic such that they could meet new challenges Yet since the so called enlightenment period these knowledges have been supplanted by the Western enlightenment science or colonial science hegemony and arrogance such that in many cases they were relegated to the periphery Some Euro centric scholars even viewed indigenous knowledge as superstitious irrational and anti development This erroneous view has since the colonial period spread like veld fire to the extent of being internalised by some political elites and Euro centric academics of Africa and elsewhere However for some time now the potential role that indigenous peoples and their knowledge can play in addressing some of the global problems haunting humanity across the world is increasingly emerging as part of international discourse This book presents an interesting and insightful discourse on the state and role that indigenous knowledge can play in addressing a tapestry of problems of the world and the challenges connected with the application of indigenous knowledge in enlightenment science dominated contexts The book is not only useful to academics and students in the fields of indigenous studies and anthropology but also those in other fields such as environmental science social and political ecology development studies policy studies economic history and African studies

Power in Contemporary Zimbabwe Erasmus Masitera, Fortune Sibanda, 2018-04-20 In recent years the Zimbabwe crisis rendered the country and its citizens to be a typical case of failed states the world over Zimbabwean society was and is still confronted with different challenges which include political economic and social problems Attempts to overcome these challenges have thrown light on the power that rests within individuals and or groups to change and even revolutionize their localities communities states and ultimately the world at large Through experience individuals and groups have promoted ideas that have aided in changing mentalities attitudes and behaviors in societies at different levels This book brings together contributors from various academic disciplines to reflect on and theorize the contours of power including the intrinsic and or extrinsic models of power which pertain to individuals communities and or groups in order to transform society Reflections are on various groups such as political movements environmental movements religious groups advocacy groups gender groups to mention but a few as they struggle against marginalization discrimination exploitation and other forms of oppression showing their agency or compliance

Crafting Identity in Zimbabwe and Mozambique Elizabeth MacGonagle, 2007 Crosses conventional theoretical temporal and geographical boundaries to show how the Ndau of southeast Africa actively shaped their own identity over a four hundred year period

Gender and Mobility in Africa Kalpana Hiralal, Zaheera Jinnah, 2018-07-10 This volume examines gender and mobility in Africa though the central themes of borders bodies and identity It explores perceptions and engagements around borders the ways in which bodies and women s bodies in particular shape and are affected by mobility and the making and reproduction of actual and perceived boundaries in relation to gender norms and gendered identity Over fourteen original chapters it makes revealing contributions to the field of migration and gender studies Combining historical and contemporary perspectives on mobility in Africa this project contextualises migration within a broad historical framework creating a conceptual and narrative framework that resists post colonial boundaries of thought on the subject matter This multidisciplinary work uses divergent methodologies including ethnography archival data collection life histories and narratives and multi country survey level data and engages with a range of conceptual frameworks to examine the complex forms and outcomes of mobility on the continent today Contributions include a range of case studies from across the continent which relate either conceptually or methodologically to the central question of gender identity and relations within migratory frameworks in Africa This book will appeal to researchers and scholars of politics history anthropology sociology and international relations

Black and White Agnieszka Piotrowska,2016-10-04 In Black and White Agnieszka Piotrowska presents a unique insight into the contemporary arts scene in Zimbabwe an area that has received very limited coverage in research and the media The book combines theory with literature film politics and culture and takes a psychosocial and psychoanalytic perspective to achieve a truly interdisciplinary analysis Piotrowska focuses in particular on the Harare International Festival of the Arts HIFA as well as the cinema featuring the work of Rumbi Katedza and Joe Njagu Her personal experience of time spent in Harare working in collaborative relationships with Zimbabwean artists and filmmakers informs the book throughout It features examples of their creative work on the ground and examines the impact it has had on the community and the local media Piotrowska uses her experiences to analyse concepts of trauma and post colonialism in Zimbabwe and interrogates her position as a stranger there questioning patriarchal notions of belonging and authority Black and White also presents a different perspective on convergences in the work of Doris Lessing and iconic Zimbabwean writer Dambudzo Marechera and how it might be relevant to contemporary race relations Black and White will be intriguing reading for psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychotherapeutically engaged scholars film makers academics and students of post colonial studies film studies cultural studies psychosocial studies and applied philosophy

African Women Writers and the Politics of Gender Sadia Zulfiqar,2016-09-23 This work examines the work of a group of African women writers who have emerged over the last forty years While figures such as Chinua Achebe Ben Okri and Wole Soyinka are likely to be the chief focus of discussions of African writing female authors have been at the forefront of fictional interrogations of identity formation and history In the work of authors such as Mariama B Senegal Buchi Emecheta Nigeria Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Nigeria Tsitsi Dangarembga Zimbabwe and Leila Aboulela Sudan there is a clear attempt to subvert the tradition of male writing where the female characters are often relegated to the margins of the culture and confined to the domestic private sphere This body of work has already generated a significant number of critical responses including readings that draw on gender politics and colonialism but it is still very much a minor literature and most mainstream western feminism has not sufficiently processed it The purpose of this book is three fold First it draws together some of the most important and influential African women writers of the post war period and looks at their work separately and together in terms of a series of themes and issues including marriage family polygamy religion childhood and education

Second it demonstrates how African literature produced by women writers is explicitly and polemically engaged with urgent political issues that have both local and global resonance the veil Islamophobia and a distinctively African brand of feminist critique Third it revisits Fredric Jameson s claim that all third world texts are national allegories and considers these novels by African women in relation to Jameson s claim arguing that their work has complicated Jameson s assumptions
