The Gift of the Face Shamoon Zamir,2014-08-14 Edward S Curtis s The North American Indian is the most ambitious photographic and ethnographic record of Native American cultures ever produced Published between 1907 and 1930 as a series of twenty volumes and portfolios the work contains more than two thousand photographs intended to document the traditional culture of every Native American tribe west of the Mississippi Many critics have claimed that Curtis s images present Native peoples as a vanishing race hiding both their engagement with modernity and the history of colonial violence But in this major reappraisal of Curtis s work Shamoon Zamir argues instead that Curtis s photography engages meaningfully with the crisis of culture and selfhood brought on by the dramatic transformations of Native societies This crisis is captured profoundly and with remarkable empathy in Curtis s images of the human face Zamir also contends that we can fully understand this achievement only if we think of Curtis s Native subjects as coauthors of his project This radical reassessment is presented as a series of close readings that explore the relationship of aesthetics and ethics in photography Zamir s richly illustrated study resituates Curtis s work in Native American studies and in the histories of photography and visual anthropology

The Gift of Water Sebastian Zug,2014 Pierre Bourdieu conceptualizes the social as an economy With an empirical example of free water transfers between water rich and water poor neighbours this book demonstrates the relevance of moral considerations in habitualized everyday practice Using Luc Boltanski s work on Justifications the analysis introduces economic imperfection into Bourdieu's perfect Economy of Symbolic Goods By presenting a Political Ecology of the neighbourly waterscape from the perspective of water consumers this book is a scientific plea for a holistic analysis of water beyond the scale of policy making Publisher's description

The Gift Economy David Cheal, 2015-07-03 Until recently we have known more about gift giving practices in pre industrial societies than about those of industrial western society In this book first published in 1988 David Cheal shows that the process of present giving and receiving is a vital element in contemporary social life relevant to some of the most important theoretical traditions in sociology particularly those of Durkheim and Weber and to the social constructionism of Peter Berger and Thomas Luckmann This volume is the result of a major study of gift rituals carried out by David Cheal and his associates in which general themes are richly illustrated with details from individual case histories gathered during the research It is highly significant that in western society women are more active gift givers than men and while their voices explain how emotions and interests are interrelated within the gift economy the author shows how that in turn is related to current theories about family gender and religion
