The Gift Imagination And The Erotic Life Of Property:

The Gift Lewis Hyde, 1983 Discusses the argument that a work of art is essentially a gift and not a commodity The Gift Lewis Hyde, 1983 The Gift Lewis Hyde, Bonnie P. O'Connell, 1991 The Gift Lewis Hyde, 2009-07-01 A manifesto of sorts for anyone who makes art and cares for it Zadie Smith The best book I know of for talented but unacknowledged creators A masterpiece Margaret Atwood No one who is invested in any kind of art can read The Gift and remain unchanged David Foster Wallace By now a modern classic The Gift is a brilliantly orchestrated defense of the value of creativity and of its importance in a culture increasingly governed by money and overrun with commodities This book is even more necessary today than when it first appeared An illuminating and transformative book and completely original in its view of the world The Gift is cherished by artists writers musicians and thinkers It is in itself a gift to all who discover the classic wisdom found in its pages The Gift Lewis Hyde, 2019-09-24 If you want to write paint sing compose act or make films read The Gift from the Introduction by Margaret Atwood A modern classic cherished by many of the greatest artists of our time and a brilliant life changing defense of the value of creative labor Drawing on examples from folklore and literature history and tribal customs economics and modern copyright law Lewis Hyde demonstrates how our society governed by the marketplace is poorly equipped to determine the worth of artists work He shows us that another way is possible the alternative economy of the gift which allows creations and ideas to circulate freely rather than hoarding them as commodities Illuminating and transformative The Gift is a triumph of originality and insight an essential book for anyone who has ever given or received a work of art Gypsy Scholars, Migrant Teachers and the Global Academic Proletariat Rudolphus Teeuwen, Steffen Hantke, 2007 Once adjunct teaching was considered a temporary solution to faculty shortages in institutions of higher education Now it a permanent and indispensable feature of such institutions not just in the U S but worldwide This book takes stock of this new development concentrating primarily on the situation in the humanities It looks at its impact on the lives of the highly educated scholars and teachers from many parts of the world scholars waking up to the sobering fact that higher education presents them with a two tiered labour market in which they themselves are permanently barred from moving up to the higher tier To them being an adjunct teacher means experiencing frustration and humiliation All essays in this book offer personal accounts of adjuncts experiences together with critical reflections on institutional conditions and suggestions for their improvement In turn defiant poignant analytical exasperated and sardonic these essays are always incisive and revealing Their inside view a view from below shows higher education as a world different from how it appears to tenured professors and university administrators different from that presented in most college brochures For all those who care about the current state and the future of higher education no matter if they are teachers scholars students parents or administrators this book will offer valuable insights into the working world of academic teaching BOOK JACKET Time and Commodity Culture John Frow, 1997 Time and Commodity Culture is a set of four linked essays on the cultural systems of postmodernity Rather than taking modernity and postmodernity as real historical epochs however it understands them as strategies for organizing time and social order by means of a nostalgic division within them Each essay explores a particular dimension of this organization of time especially in relation to the anxieties and the possibilities created by the commodification of culture The central essay Gift and Commodity studies two areas in which the speed of commodification has increased markedly in recent years That of the person and that of information Using a mix of anthropological legal economic and historical materials it investigates the privatization of the commons in information by way of such things as the development of markets in human DNA the trade in human organs and the creation of property rights in personality What Was Postmodernism analyses the structured anxiety about the commodification of culture that is called postmodern theory A further essay explores tourism as a figure of modernity and a final essay on memory explores the phenomena of recovered memory and of Holocaust remembrance as ways of constructing temporally ordered forms of the real

The Love of Nature and the End of the World Shierry Weber NicholSEN, 2003-02-28 A psychological exploration of how the love of nature can coexist in our psyches with apathy toward environmental destruction Virtually everyone values some aspect of the natural world Yet many people are surprisingly unconcerned about environmental issues treating them as the province of special interest groups Seeking to understand how our appreciation for the beauty of nature and our indifference to its destruction can coexist in us Shierry Weber NicholSEN explores dimensions of our emotional experience with the natural world that are so deep and painful that they often remain unspoken The Love of Nature and the End of the World is a gathering of meditations and collages Its evocations of our emotional attachment to the natural world and the emotional impact of environmental deterioration are meant to encourage individual and collective reflection on a difficult dilemma NicholSEN draws on work in environmental philosophy and ecopsychology the writings of psychoanalytic thinkers such as Wilfred Bion Donald Meltzer and D W Winnicott and ideas from Buddhist and Sufi traditions She shows how our emotional responses to the vulnerabilities of the natural world range from intense caring and compassion through grief and outrage to diffuse depression Individual chapters focus on silence and the process whereby we move from the unspoken to the spoken the love of nature the perceptual reciprocity with the natural world to which we might mature beauty in the human and natural realms the psychological impact of the destruction of the natural world and reflections on the future

Gaia's Gift Anne Primavesi, 2004-03-01 Gaia's Gift the second of Anne Primavesi's explorations of human relationships with the earth asks that we complete the ideological revolution set in motion by Copernicus and Darwin concerning human importance They challenged the notion of our God given centrality within the universe and within earth's evolutionary history Yet as our continuing exploitation of earth's resources and species demonstrates we remain wedded to the theological assumption that these are there for our sole use and benefit Now James Lovelock s scientific understanding of the existential reality of Gaia s gift of life again raises the question of our proper place within the universe It turns us decisively towards an understanding of ourselves as dependent on rather than in control of the whole earth community

Free Gifts Alyssa Battistoni,2025-08-19 A timely new critique of capitalism s persistent failure to value nature Capitalism is typically treated as a force for relentless commodification Yet it consistently fails to place value on vital aspects of the nonhuman world whether carbon emissions or entire ecosystems In Free Gifts Alyssa Battistoni explores capitalism s persistent failure to value nature arguing that the key question is not the moral issue of why some kinds of nature shouldn t be commodified but the economic puzzle of why they haven t been To understand contemporary ecological problems from biodiversity collapse to climate change she contends we have to understand how some things come to have value under capitalism and how others do not To help us do so Battistoni recovers and reinterprets the idea of the free gift of nature used by classical economic thinkers to describe what we gratuitously obtain from the natural world and builds on Karl Marx's critique of political economy to show how capitalism fundamentally treats nature as free for the taking. This novel theory of capitalism's relationship to nature not only helps us understand contemporary ecological breakdown but also casts capitalism's own core dynamics in a new light. Battistoni addresses four different instances of the free gift in political economic thought each in a specific domain: natural agents in industry, pollution in the environment, reproductive labor in the household, and natural capital in the biosphere. In so doing, she offers new readings of major twentieth-century thinkers including Friedrich Hayek, Simone de Beauvoir, Garrett Hardin, Silvia Federici, and Ronald Coase. Ultimately, she offers a novel account of freedom for our ecologically troubled present, developing a materialist existentialism to argue that capitalism limits our ability to be responsible for our relationships to the natural world and imagining how we might live freely while valuing nature's gifts.

Creating Nonfiction Jen Hirt, Erin Murphy, 2016-03-01 A diverse collection of essays and companion interviews that offer insight into the inspiration, drafting, and revision process. With a title that suggests both the genre and the process of composing it, Creating Nonfiction is a collection of essays and interviews that aims to open readers and writers' eyes to the formal possibilities of creative nonfiction. Included are memoirs, personal essays, literary journalism, graphic essays, and lyric essays, and the content is equally diverse with topics ranging from childbirth to child labor, from dandelions to domestic violence. Whereas most anthologies leave readers to speculate about the evolution of each contribution, Creating Nonfiction provides companion interviews that offer insight into the inspiration, drafting, and revision process that produced the essays. Cheryl Strayed talks about how working as a reporter for her hometown newspaper influenced her later writings. Dinty W. Moore reflects on the delicate balance between observation and judgment when writing about subjects whose values differ from your own. Kristen Radtke explains how she decides between textual and visual images when creating a graphic essay. Although they offer an eclectic mix of voices and styles, what these essays all have in common is that ultimately, as contributor Faith Adiele observes, truth becomes art. The selections in Creating Nonfiction are fresh, diverse, and inspiring.

Lisa Knopp, author of What the River Carries: Encounters with the Mississippi, Missouri, and Platte. An excellent collection of essays by some of our best contemporary essayists. Ned Stuckey French, coauthor of Writing Fiction: A Guide to Narrative Craft, Ninth Edition.
