The Golden Of Theology:

The Golden Book of Theology Billy J. Tolson, 1978-10-01      The Golden Bough: A Study in Magic and Religion (Third Edition, Vol. 09 of 12) James Frazer, 2021-12-02      The Palace Beautiful Timothy M. Haupt, 2025-06-23 John Bunyan is best known as the author of The Pilgrim's Progress his immortal allegory of the Christian life as well as for his influential spiritual autobiography Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners Less known is that Bunyan's doctrine of the church drew the ire of seventeenth century Baptists and thrust him into a controversy over the terms of church membership and communion that helped to define the boundaries of Baptist identity In The Palace Beautiful Timothy Haupt offers a historical and systematic analysis of Bunyan's ecclesiology a comprehensive examination of the communion controversy and a thorough investigation of seventeenth century Baptist identity Was Bunyan a Baptist Haupt argues that the communion controversy was not a debate among fellow Baptists over a secondary issue of church practice but a dispute over fundamentally different ecclesiologies      Water and Life Ruth M. Lynden-Bell, Simon Conway Morris, John D. Barrow, John L. Finney, Charles Harper, 2010-05-21 Reflecting a rich technical and interdisciplinary exchange of ideas Water and Life: The Unique Properties of H<sub>2</sub>O focuses on the properties of water and its interaction with life The book develops a variety of approaches that help to illuminate ways in which to address deeper questions with respect to the nature of the universe and our place within it      Bible and Canon Luc Zaman, 2008-05-31 Several decades ago canonical criticism came to dominate the study of the canon and even indeed all of biblical studies by its emphasis on the biblical canon's dogmatic content An investigation of this canonical criticism brings its weak points to light most notably the insufficient attention that is given to the canon's historical development This new historical study begins with the earliest stages of the process of forming the canon rather than its final stages as most studies do It shows how the canon in essence was already formed in the early stages of its historical development It is essentially synchronically an authoritative unification of a range of traditions within the faith community and diachronically the guide that draws the dynamics of these traditions beyond their discontinuities to produce a continuity      The Journal of Religion, 1923 Includes section Book reviews      Mediaeval Commentaries on the Sentences of Peter Lombard Evans, 2002-01-01 This volume deals with the development of a major phenomenon of the medieval academic world the adoption after initial uncertainties of the Sentences of the twelfth century Peter Lombard as the standard textbook of medieval theology and the growth of a huge literature of commentary upon it from the thirteenth century The first of two projected volumes is a survey of this literature and a series of studies of authors and their commentaries in the principal centres of Paris and Oxford and elsewhere by modern scholars at the leading edge of current research This should prove an indispensable resource for the future bringing together as it does the status quaestionis on this literature      Christianity in the Twentieth Century Brian Stanley, 2018 This book charts the transformation of one of the world's great religions during an age marked by world wars genocide nationalism decolonization and powerful ideological currents many of them hostile to Christianity Amazon com      The Science of Religion in Britain, 1860-1915 Marjorie Wheeler-Barclay, 2010-10-21

Marjorie Wheeler Barclay argues that although the existence and significance of the science of religion has been barely visible to modern scholars of the Victorian period it was a subject of lively and extensive debate among nineteenth century readers and audiences She shows how an earlier generation of scholars in Victorian Britain attempted to arrive at a dispassionate understanding of the psychological and social meanings of religious beliefs and practices a topic not without contemporary resonance in a time when so many people feel both empowered and threatened by religious passion and provides the kind of history she feels has been neglected Wheeler Barclay examines the lives and work of six scholars Friedrich Max Müller Edward B Tylor Andrew Lang William Robertson Smith James G Frazer and Jane Ellen Harrison She illuminates their attempts to create a scholarly non apologetic study of religion and religions that drew upon several different disciplines including anthropology sociology the classics and Oriental studies and relied upon contributions from those outside as well as within the universities This intellectual enterprise variously known as comparative religion the history of religions or the science of religion was primarily focused on non Christian religions Yet in Wheeler Barclay s study of the history of this field within the broad contexts of Victorian cultural intellectual social and political history she traces the links between the emergence of the science of religion to debates about Christianity and to the history of British imperialism the latter of which made possible the collection of so much of the ethnographic data on which the scholars relied and which legitimized exploration and conquest Far from promoting an anti religious or materialistic agenda the science of religion opened up cultural space for an exploration of religion that was not constricted by the terms of contemporary conflicts over Darwin and the Bible and that made it possible to think in new and more flexible ways about the very definition of religion

Theology in a Global Context Hans Schwarz, 2005-11 In this book Hans Schwarz leads us into the web of Christian theology s recent past from Kant and Schleiermacher to Mbiti and Zizoulas pointing out all the theologians of the last two hundred years who have had a major impact beyond their own context With an eye to the blending of theology and biography Schwarz draws the lines of connection between theologians their history and wider theological movements Publisher

Moral Demands and Personal Obligations Josef Fuchs, 1993 In this collection of recent essays 1988-92 all but one previously unavailable in English noted theologian Josef Fuchs SJ examines key issues in normative morality Identifying two strains one based on natural law and a more situational one based on the Golden Rule he explores the need for plurality in both individual and societal ethics and the problem of universal versus only general validity Central ideas that Fuchs develops are the concept of innovative morality as the individual s responsible search for God s will in personal situations and the significance of the conscience in the face of official statements by the church s magisterium Among the topics he considers are marriage and sexuality the beginning and end of life and international solidarity and social justice      The Golden Rule Jeffrey Wattles, 1996-12-05 The golden rule Do to others as you would have others do to you is widely assumed to have a single meaning shared by virtually all the world's religions. It strikes the average person as intuitively true though most modern philosophers reject it or recast it in more rational form. Wattle's surveys the history of the golden rule and its spectrum of meanings in diverse contexts ranging from Confucius to Plato and Aristotle from classical Jewish literature to the New Testament. He then moves on to consider medieval Reformation and modern theological and philosophical responses and objections to the rule. In addition Wattle explores the use of the rule by some early twentieth century American leaders and examines various psychological theories about the imaginative role reversal the rule suggests. Wattle concludes by offering his own synthesis of these varied interpretations arguing that the rule can form the foundation for a contemporary ethics of relationships while retaining its religious appeal as the principle of the practice of the family of God.

Life Under the Baobab Tree Kenneth N. Ngwa, Aliou Cissé Niang, Arthur Pressley, 2023-09-05 Life Under the Baobab Tree Africana Studies and Religion in a Transitional Age is a compendium of innovating essays meticulously written by early and later diaspora people of African descent. Their speech arises from the depth of their experiences under the Baobab tree and offers to the world voices of resilience, newness, resurrection, hope, and life. Resolutely journeying on the trails of their ancestors, they speak about setbacks and forward-looking movements of liberation, social transformation, and community formation. The volume is a carefully woven conversation of intellectual substance and structure across time, space, and spirituality that is quintessentially Africana in its centering of methodological, theoretical, epistemological, and hermeneutical complexity that assumes nonlinear and dialogical approaches to developing liberating epistemologies in the face of imperialism, colonialism, racism, and religious intolerance. A critical part of this conversation is a reconceptualization and reconfiguration of the concept of religion in its colonial and imperial forms. Life Under the Baobab Tree examines how Africana peoples understand their corporate experiences of the divine not as religion apart from its intimate connections to social realities of communal health, economics, culture, politics, environment, violence, war, and dynamic community belonging. To that end, Afro-Pessimistic formulations of life placed in dialogic relation with Afro-Optimism. Both realities constitute life under the Baobab tree and represent the sturdiness and variation that anchors the deep ruptures that have affected Africana life and the creative responses. The metaphor and substance of the tree resists reductionist, essentialist, and assured conclusions about the nature of diasporic lived experiences both within the continent of Africa and in the African Diaspora.

Material Eucharist David Grumett, 2016-09-22 Material Eucharist interprets the Eucharist through its material elements of bread and wine. Drawing upon a rich variety of biblical, patristic, medieval, and modern texts and traditions, David Grumett brings together theological reflection and liturgical action and shows their mutual dependence. For both theologians and liturgists, a central concern is the matter out of which the created order has been made from which issues of community and social justice are inseparable. The ingredients of bread and wine anticipate in their harvesting and manufacture the formal church liturgy which is extended back into the world by the transformative priestly action of laypeople. Indeed, the transforming presence of Christ in the Eucharist as flesh and substance is theologically grounded in his transformative presence in the wider created order as expressed in eucharistic giving and exchange between churches and their wider communities Rooting the Eucharist in materiality suggests its primary context to be the death and resurrection of Christ in the power of the Spirit in which its recipients may share The many aspects of theology and liturgy with which the book deals have large implications for how the Eucharist is understood in a range of academic disciplines and for how it is celebrated in churches today Post Colonialism Subalterns and Community M. Stephen, 2015-01-01 This book Post colonialism Subalterns and Community deals with the Issues of the poor and marginalized The issues of the struggling and suffering people like dalits tribes women transgenders migrants and the poor are discussed in this book The empowerment of the Subaltern groups is essential for the progress of any country It brings challenges against the oppressive structures that dehumanize the people This book can also provide some insight into the issues of the transgenders in order that we can evolve a community based on justice and peace

The Religion of Modern Spiritualism and Its Phenomena Dr. William Cleveland, 1896 Fullness of Life and Justice for All Thomas Eggenberger, Ulrich Engel, Manuela Kalsky, Ellen Van Stichel, 2020-09-01 Poverty inequality violent conflicts climate change migration racism burn out are just a few of the symptoms showing how living life to the fullest is out of reach for so many people in our world Is then seeking fullness of life and justice for all not a too ambitious project For nothing less than the wellbeing of humanity and in extension the whole of creation is at stake On the other hand we see people responding acting and struggling for justice liberation and a more sustainable world How to make sense of the ideas of fullness of life and justice for all in light of the many crises humanity currently faces but also the glimpses of positive and hopeful responses Even more so how to make sense theologically In this volume twenty authors reflect on how the notions of fullness of life and justice for all are theoretically conceived and have practically taken form from within Dominican theology and spirituality The contributions on youth spirituality contemplation art as a means to community building gender pluralization populism and management discuss the fullness of life in both its material and spiritual dimensions The question on justice for all is raised in confrontation with issues such as poverty migration ecological threats and the role of virtues in society In this way the book aims to uncover a variety of Dominican perspectives as valuable contributions to a broader dialogue on the fullness of life and justice for all The Concept of Biblical Theology James Barr, 2009-12-01 A major overview and provocative analysis from a premier Old Testament scholar Radical Religion and Violence Jeffrey Kaplan, 2015-11-19 Jeffrey Kaplan has been one of the most influential scholars of new religious movements extremism and terrorism His pioneering use of interpretive fieldwork among radical and violent subcultures opened up new fields of scholarship and vastly increased our understanding of the beliefs and activities of extremists This collection features many of his seminal contributions to the field alongside several new pieces which place his work within the context of the latest research developments Combining discussion of the methodological issues alongside a broad array of case studies this will be essential reading for all students and scholars of extremism religion and politics and terrorism      The “Essays and Reviews,” Examined, on the Principles of Common Sense ... By One who Wishes to Ascertain what is “True Faith of a Christian.” ,1861
