The Power Of Geography How Territory Shapes Social Life:

The Power of Geography Jennifer R. Wolch, Michael J. Dear, 1989 A collection of essays focusing on how territory defined as geographically organized human activity shapes social life and exploring some of the consequences It shows how routine practices of daily living are effective in maintaining and reproducing the social order of capitalist society

The Power of Geography (RLE Social & Cultural Geography) Jennifer Wolch, Michael Dear, 2014-01-23 This book illuminates the profound influence of geography on everyday life Concentrating on the realm of social reproduction gender family education culture and tradition race ethnicity the contributors provide both an articulation of a theory of territory and reproduction and concrete empirical analyses of the evolution of social practices in particular places At the core of the book's contribution is the concept of society as a time space fabric upon which are engraved the processes of political economic and socio cultural life A second distinctive feature of the book is its substantive focus on the relation between territory and social practice Thirdly it represents a significant step in the redefinition of the research agenda in human geography

The Geography of United States Poverty Wendy Shaw, 2015-11-19 Until this book was originally published in 1996 there had been little detailed research concerning the geographic location of the poor in America The book examines the spatial distribution of the poor within the US and discusses the general characteristics of the poverty population It explores the complex web of theory pertaining to poverty presenting different categories no fault theories individual responsibility theories societal responsibility theories governmental and institutional responsibility theories and responsibility of the economic system theories Information on poverty from the 1980s and 90s in the US is provided as well as historical background The problems and complexities associated with defining and measuring poverty are also discussed

Changing Suburbs Richard Harris, Peter Larkham, 2003-09-02 A multidisciplinary team of specialists list historical and contemporary research on suburbanization with particular emphasis on the UK North America Australia and South Africa

Metroburbia, USA Paul L. Knox, 2008 Decades of economic prosperity in the United States have redefined the American dream Paul Knox explores how extreme versions of this dream have changed the American landscape Increased wealth has led America's metropolitan areas to develop into vast sprawling regions of metroburbia fragmented mixtures of employment and residential settings combining urban and suburban characteristics Upper middle class Americans are moving into larger homes in greater numbers which leads Knox to explore the relationship between built form and material culture in contemporary society He covers changes in home design real estate the work of developers and the changing wishes of consumers Knox shows that contemporary suburban landscapes are a product of consumer demand combined with the logic of real estate development mediated by design and policy professionals and institutions of governance Suburban landscapes not only echo the fortunes of successive generations of inhabitants Knox argues they also reflect the country's changing core values Knox addresses key areas of concern and importance to today's urban planners and suburban residents including McMansions traffic disasters house

design homeowner s associations exclusionary politics and big box stores Through the inclusion of examples and photos Metroburbia USA creates an accessible portrait of today s suburbs supported by data anecdotes and social theory It is a broad interpretation of the American metropolitan form that looks carefully at the different influences that contribute to where and how we live today Geographies of Disability Brendan Gleeson,2002-09-11 This book explains how space place and mobility have shaped the experiences of disabled people both in the past and in contemporary societies The key features of this insightful study include a critical appraisal of theories of disability and a new disability model case studies to explore how the transition to capitalism disadvantaged disabled people an exploration of the Western city and the policies of community care and accessibility regulation Brendan Gleeson presents an important contribution to the major policy debates on disability in Western societies and offers new considerations for the broader debates on embodiment and space within Geography Disability Rights Peter Blanck,2017-05-15 There is great diversity of definitions causes and consequences of discrimination against persons with disabilities yet there are fundamental themes uniting countries in their pursuit of human rights policies to improve the social and economic status of those with disabilities In this volume are twenty five important articles examining historical contemporary and comparative issues crucial to the advancement of disability rights The volume foreshadows the future of disability rights as a medium for ensuring that those living with disabilities participate as equal citizens of the world Mind and Body Spaces Ruth Butler,Hester Parr,2005-07-08 Mind and Body Spaces highlights new international research from Britain USA Canada and Australia on bodily impairment mental health and disabled peoples social worlds The contributors discuss a variety of current issues including historical conceptions of the body and behaviour contemporary political activism matters of identity and employment accessible housing parenthood and child carers psychiatric medication use masculinity and sexuality autobiography social exclusion and inclusion The contributors are Hester Parr Ruth Butler Rob Imrie Michael L Dorn Deborah Carter Park John Radford Brendan Gleeson Isabel Dyck Edward Hall Pamela Moss Gill Valentine Christine Milligan Flora Gathorne Hardy Jane Stables Fiona Smith and Vera Chouinard

Full Circles Cindi Katz,Janice Monk,2014-02-04 Full Circles describes the very different lives and expectations of women in post industrial and developing countries from childhood to old age Analysing how class ethnicity nationality and individual values intersect with the experience of the life course the book explores the futures open to women in diverse and changing locations Geographies of Care Christine Milligan,2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2001 As care services in Britain have moved from institutional to community based environments there has been a simultaneous shift in those agencies concerned with the provision of such care and support this new environment of care is a complex one involving numerous different actors and agencies that operate across various different spatial and organizational levels of the policy process The implementation and success of care policies depend in part on the inter relationships between these various players This book examines these inter relationships illustrated by an in depth empirical study of policy makers and informal care providers concerned with the frail elderly in Scotland Taking the voluntary sector as a lens through which these interrelationships are explored it analyzes how voluntary support is affected by differing local contexts of care and what this means in terms of locally based care outcomes
