

THE PRINCE OF THE QUOTIDIAN

Paul Muldoon

The Fear of the Elephant.
It's been so mild the bare of mullet strung up for the finches is all but gums: a few inches
of snow, one hard frost, might draw the deer
out of the forest to prune the vines from the pocket fence or vault the five foot chicken-wire cordons round our herb-garden.

Ciaran Ross

The Prince Of The Quotidian:

The Prince of the Quotidian Paul Muldoon, 1994 Questions raised by the The Annals of Chile published concurrently with The Prince of the Quotidian are resolved in the confidential clarifying contexts of this journal recounting one month in the poet's life

Sub-versions Ciaran Ross, 2010 From Swift's repulsive shit flinging Yahoos to Beckett's dying but never quite dead moribunds Irish literature has long been perceived as being synonymous with subversion and all forms of subversiveness But what constitutes a subversive text or a subversive writer in twenty first century Ireland The essays in this volume set out to redefine and rethink the subversive potential of modern Irish literature Crossing three central genres one common denominator running through these essays whether dealing with canonical writers like Yeats Beckett and Flann O'Brien or lesser known contemporary writers like Sebastian Barry or Robert McLiam Wilson is the continual questioning of Irish identity Irishness going from its colonial paradigm and stereotype of the subaltern in MacGill to its uneasy implications for gender representation in the contemporary novel and the contemporary drama A subsidiary theme inextricably linked to the identity problematic is that of exile and its radical heritage for all Irish writing irrespective of its different genres Sub Versions offers a cross cultural and trans national response to the expanding interest in Irish and postcolonial studies by bringing together specialists from different national cultures and scholarly contexts Ireland Britain France and Central Europe The order of the essays is by genre This study is aimed both at the general literary reader and anyone particularly interested in Irish Studies

Tongue of Water, Teeth of Stones Jonathan Hufstader, 2021-12-14 In a 1984 lecture on poetry and political violence Seamus Heaney remarked that the idea of poetry was itself that higher ideal to which the poets had unconsciously turned in order to survive the demeaning conditions Jonathan Hufstader examines the work of Heaney and his contemporaries to discover how poems combining conscious technique with unconscious impulse work as aesthetic forms and as strategies for emotional survival In his powerful study Hufstader shows how a number of contemporary Northern Irish poets including Seamus Heaney Derek Mahon Michael Longley Paul Muldoon Tom Paulin Ciaran Carson and Medbh McGuckian explore the resources of language and poetic form in their various responses to cultural conflict and political violence Focusing on both style and social contexts Hufstader explores the tension between solidarity and art between the poet's need to belong and to rebel He believes that an understanding of the power of lyric points towards an understanding of the source of social violence and of its cessation Romantic Generations Robert F. Gleckner, 2001 These essays express a common belief that the study of Romantic literature must be at once professionally serious and personally engaging Topics discussed range from Wordsworth to Lady Caroline Lamb and from Blake and Burke to the contemporary Irish poet Paul Muldoon Each essay also offers close readings of essential works on English and Irish Romanticism Introducing the collection is a tribute by the celebrated Romanticist Peter Manning

The Life of Words David-Antoine Williams, 2020 Studies the role that etymologies and etymological thinking have played in the works of English language poets including

Seamus Heaney R F Langley J H Prynne Geoffrey Hill and Paul Muldoon Samuel Beckett's Poetry James Brophy, William Davies, 2022-12-22 The first book length study of Samuel Beckett's complete poetry combining new work from major literature critics and new critical perspectives Paul Muldoon Tim Kendall, Peter McDonald, 2004-01-01 The essays in this book testify to the fascination of Paul Muldoon's poems and also to their underlying contentiousness The contributors see Muldoon from many different angles biographical formal literary historical generic but also direct attention to complex moments of creativity in which an extraordinary amount of originality is concentrated and on the clarity of which a lot depends In their different ways all of the essays return to the question of what a poem can tell us whether about its author about itself or about the world in which it comes into being The contributors even in the degree to which they bring to light areas of disagreement about Muldoon's strengths and weaknesses continue a conversation about what poems and poets can tell us Writing Home Elmer Kennedy-Andrews, 2008 The idea of place and of being displaced is a powerful leit motif in Northern Irish poetry It is here explored in depth from the 1960s to the present day Ideas of home place and identity have been continually questioned re imagined and re constructed in Northern Irish poetry Concentrating on the period since the outbreak of the Troubles in the late 1960s this study provides a detailed consideration of the work of several generations of poets from Hewitt and MacNeice to Fiacca and Montague to Simmons Heaney Mahon and Longley to Muldoon Carson Paulin and McGuckian to McDonald Morrissey Gillis and Flynn It traces the extent to which their writing represents a move away from concepts of rootedness and towards a deterritorialized poetics of displacement mobility openness and pluralism in an era of accelerating migration and globalisation In the new readings of place inherited maps are no longer reliable and home is no longer the stable ground of identity but seems instead to be always where it is not The crossing of boundaries and the experience of diaspora open up new understandings of the relations between places a new sense of the permeability and contingency of cultures and new concepts of identity and home Professor ELMER KENNEDY ANDREWS teaches in the Department of English at the University of Ulster Poetry, Publishing, and Visual Culture from Late Modernism to the Twenty-first Century Natalie Pollard, 2020 Exploring works by Djuna Barnes David Jones F T Prince Denise Riley Paul Muldoon and Ted Hughes this volume traces the relationship between twentieth century poetry and art to question the role of art in society Paul Muldoon in America Alex Alonso, 2021 A study of the later career of the poet Paul Muldoon who left his native Northern Ireland for the United States in 1987 and acquired US citizenship The volume explores how the move to the US influenced Muldoon's work especially concerning themes of departure and return Constitutions of Self in Contemporary Irish Poetry Wit Pietrzak, 2022-11-22 Constitutions of Self in Contemporary Irish Poetry explores the figure of the lyrical self in the work of six contemporary Irish poets Paul Muldoon Vona Groarke Sinéad Morrissey Caitríona O'Reilly Alan Gillis and Nick Laird By focusing on the self this study offers the first sustained exploration of what is arguably one of the most distinctive features of Irish poetry Readings utilise the latest theories of the lyric filtered through the work of such philosophers as Jacques Derrida Umberto Eco Slavoj i ek Giorgio Agamben and Zygmunt Bauman and connect an interdisciplinary approach with attention to the operations of the poetic text to bring out aspects of the self in Irish writing that have been given only cursory critical attention so far The Etymological Poetry of W. H. Auden, J. H. Prynne, and Paul Muldoon Mia Gaudern, 2020-07-10 This book defines analyses and theorises a late modern etymological poetry that is alive to the past lives of its words and probes the possible significance of them both explicitly and implicitly Close readings of poetry and criticism by Auden Prynne and Muldoon investigate the implications of their etymological perspectives for the way their language establishes relationships between people and between people and the world These twin functions of communication and representation are shown to be central to the critical reception of etymological poetry which is a category of difficult poetry However resonant poetic etymologising may be critics warn that it shows the poet s natural interest in language degenerating into an unhealthy obsession with the dictionary It is unavoidably pedantic in the post Saussurean era to entertain the idea that a word s history might have any relevance to its current use As such etymological poetry elicits the closest of close readings thus encouraging readers to reflect not only on its own pedantry obscurity and virtuosity but also on how these qualities function in criticism As well as presenting a new way of reading three very different late modern poet critics this book addresses an understudied aspect of the relationship between poetry and criticism Its findings are situated in the context of literary debates about difficulty and diction and in larger cultural conversations about the workings of language as a historical event Ageing Masculinities in Irish Literature and Visual Culture Michaela Schrage-Früh, Tony Tracy, 2022-07-14 This book engages with ageing masculinities in Irish literature and visual culture including fiction drama poetry painting and documentary Exploring the shifting representations of older men from the early twentieth century to the present the contributors analyse how a broad range of literary and visual texts construct reinscribe or challenge perceptions of older age In doing so they trace a shift from depictions of authority figures often symbolising patriarchal dominance and oppression to more nuanced complex and heterogeneous explorations of older men s embodied subjectivities and vulnerabilities Exploring artists and writers such as Se n Keating J M Synge Teresa Deevy Marina Carr Seamus Heaney Paul Muldoon Derek Mahon Kate O Brien John Banville Colm T ib n Bernard MacLaverty Mike McCormack Anne Griffin and Claire Keegan the chapters in this book attend to the symbolic as well as social significance of older men in Irish cultural expression Malaysian Literature in English Mohammad A. Quayum, 2020-05-15 This collection of essays brings together work by some of the most internationally acclaimed critics of Malaysian literature in English from different parts of the world including Australia Canada Japan Malaysia Singapore and the US It investigates the works of major writers of the tradition in the genres of drama fiction and poetry from its beginnings to the present focusing mainly on thematic and stylistic trends The book pays particular attention to issues such as gender ethnicity nationalism multiculturalism diaspora hybridity and transnationalism which are central to the creativity and imagination of these writers The chapters collectively address the challenges and achievements of writers in the English language in a country where English first introduced by the colonisers has experienced a mixed fate of ups and downs in the post independence period due to the changing and sometimes strikingly different policies adopted by the government The book will be of interest to readers and researchers of Malaysian literature Southeast Asian studies and postcolonial literatures Crisis and Contemporary Poetry A. Karhio,S. Crosson,C. Armstrong,2010-11-24 What are the means available to poetry to address crisis and how can both poets and critics meet the conflicts and challenges they face This collection of essays addresses poetic and critical responses to the various crises encountered by contemporary writers and our society from the Holocaust to the ecological crisis “All Will Be Swept Away” Wit Pietrzak,2022-11-04 The book offers the first comprehensive study of Paul Muldoon s mourning verse Considering not only the celebrated elegies like Yarrow Incantata or Sillyhow Stride but also the elegiac impulse as it develops throughout Muldoon s entire work All Will Be Swept Away charts a large swathe of Muldoon s poetic landscape in order to show the complexity with which he approaches the themes of death and mourning Using archival material as well as a vast array of theoretical apparatuses the book unveils the psychological literary and political undertones in his poetry all the while attending to the operations of the poetic text its form its music and its capacity to console warn and censure Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry Rachel Buxton,2004-05-27 In this incisive and highly readable study Rachel Buxton offers a much needed assessment of Frost s significance for Northern Irish poetry of the past half century Drawing upon a diverse range of previously unpublished archival sources including juvenilia correspondence and drafts of poems Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry takes as its particular focus the triangular dynamic of Frost Seamus Heaney and Paul Muldoon Buxton explores the differing strengths which each Irish poet finds in Frost s work while Heaney is drawn primarily to the Frost persona and to the sound of sense it is the studied slyness and wryness of the American s poetry the complicating undertow which Muldoon values This appraisal of Frost in a non American context not only enables a fuller appreciation of Heaney s and Muldoon s poetry but also provides valuable insight into the nature of trans national and trans generational poetic influence Engaging with the politics of Irish American literary connections while providing a subtle analysis of the intertextual relationships between these three key twentieth century poets Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry is a pioneering work The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Peter Robinson,2013-09-26 The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry offers thirty eight chapters of ground breaking research that form a collaborative guide to the many groupings and movements the locations and styles as well as concerns aesthetic political cultural and ethical that have helped shape contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland The book s introduction offers an anthropological participant observer approach to its variously conflicted subjects while exploring the limits and openness of the contemporary as a shifting and never wholly knowable category The five ensuing sections explore a history of the period s poetic movements its engagement with form technique and the other arts its association with particular locations and places its connection with and difference from poetry in other parts of the world and its circling around such ethical issues as whether poetry can perform actions in the world can atone redress or repair and how its significance is inseparable from acts of evaluation in both poets and readers Though the book is not structured to feature chapters on authors thought to be canonical on the principle that contemporary writers are by definition not yet canonical the volume contains commentary on many prominent poets as well as finding space for its contributors enthusiasms for numerous less familiar figures It has been organized to be read from cover to cover as an ever deepening exploration of a complex field to be read in one or more of its five thematically structured sections or indeed to be read by picking out single chapters or discussions of poets that particularly interest its individual readers
