Social Life Of Things Commodities In Cultural Perspective:

The Social Life of Things Arjun Appadurai, 1988-01-29 The meaning that people attribute to things necessarily derives from human transactions and motivations particularly from how those things are used and circulated The contributors to this volume examine how things are sold and traded in a variety of social and cultural settings both present and past Focusing on culturally defined aspects of exchange and socially regulated processes of circulation the essays illuminate the ways in which people find value in things and things give value to social relations By looking at things as if they lead social lives the authors provide a new way to understand how value is externalized and sought after Containing contributions from American and British social anthropologists and historians the volume bridges the disciplines of social history cultural anthropology and economics and marks a major step in our understanding of the cultural basis of economic life and the sociology of culture It will appeal to anthropologists social historians economists archaeologists and historians of art

The Social Life of Sound Sophia Maalsen, 2019-01-28 The Social Life of Sounds argues for the agency of sounds and music and the acceleration of their social lives in the Digital Age Drawing upon research with composers producers record collectors DJs and record labels the book problematises the notion of artistic authorship as it is framed in Western systems of property Acknowledging that things sounds samples and recorded music and people are co constituted and that personhood is distributed through things and their reuse Maalsen makes a case for understanding sound as multibiographical and challenges the possessive individual that is the basis of artistic copyright Design History Kjetil Fallan, 2010-01-01 Design History has become a complex and wide ranging discipline It now examines artefacts from conception to development production mediation and consumption Over the last few decades the discipline has developed a diverse range of theories and methodologies for the analysis of objects Design History presents the most comprehensive overview and guide to these developments The book first traces the development of the discipline explaining how it draws from Art History Industrial Design Cultural History and Material Culture Studies The core of the book then analyses the seminal methodologies used in Design History today The final section highlights the key issues concerning knowledge and meaning in Design Throughout the aim is to present a concise and accessible introduction to this complex field A map to the intellectual landscape of Design History the book will be an invaluable guide for students and a very useful reference for scholars

The Other Kuala Lumpur Yeoh Seng Guan, 2014-02-05

Kuala Lumpur like many Southeast Asian cities has changed very significantly in the last two or three decades expanding its size and modernising and globalising its built environment For many people these changes represent progress and development This book however focuses on the more marginalised residents of Kuala Lumpur Among others it considers street hawkers and vendors refugees the urban poor religious minorities and a sexuality rights group and explores how their everyday lives have been adversely affected by these recent changes The book shows how urban renewal the law and ethno religious nationalism can work against these groups in wanting to live and work in the capital city of Malaysia

Mapping the Postcolonial Domestic in the Works of Vargas Llosa and Mukundan Minu Susan Koshy, 2020-12-16

This book is among the first works to engage with postcolonialism through the lens of the domestic in its totality encompassing multifarious aspects such as domestic space objects family and servitude among others The study foregrounds the inadequacy of Western theories on the domestic in explaining the postcolonial situation and proposes alternate methods of analysing the inner realm of colonial experience Structured within the framework of comparative literary studies the work serves to contribute to the tri continental model of comparative literature establishing mutually illuminating connections between the continents The study provides scope for a widening of the epistemological base of critical inquiry especially in the domains of postcolonialism area studies and comparative literature It explores new avenues in cross cultural studies contributing to the transnational diffusion of cultures and literatures by focusing on what has been termed minor the domestic and its rhythms in postcolonial cultures
