SOCIAL SEMIOTICS as PRAXIS

Text, Social Meaning Making, and Nabokov's Ada

Paul J. Thibault

Social Semiotics Text Meaning And Nabokovs Ada

M.A.K. Halliday, Jonathan J. Webster

Social Semiotics Text Meaning And Nabokov's Ada:

Social Semiotics as Praxis Paul J. Thibault, 1990 In Social Semiotics as Praxis Paul J. Thibault rescues semiotics from terminal formalism by recognizing that the object of a semiotic inquiry is necessarily the way in which human beings individually and collectively make sense of their lives. Focusing on Vladimir Nabokov's Ada, he develops a conception of social semiotics that is a form of both social action and political praxis. Thibault's principal intellectual sources are among others Bakhtin, Volosinov, Derrida, Foucault, Gramsci, Habermas, and Halliday. Thibault combines the work of Halliday in particular with his own theories of semiotics to explore the dynamics of quoting and reporting speech and to develop a critique of the categories of self and representation. Thibault accounts for the meaningful relationships constructed among texts and elaborates on the two main themes of relational levels in texts and the dynamics of contextualization to give voice to a unifying discourse for talking about social meaning making.

Sounding the Abyss Roger V. Bell, 2004-01-01 Sounding the Abyss achieves an analysis that extends Cavell's already rich range of work into surprising new directions in postcolonialism, multiculturalism, and general cultural criticism. The work never strays from its concern with reassessing the divide between philosophy's analytic and Continental factions.

RePresenting Bisexualities Maria Pramaggiore, Donald E. Hall, 1996-07-01 Is bisexuality coming out in America? Bisexual characters are surfacing on popular television shows and in film. Newsweek proclaims that a new sexual identity is emerging. But amidst this burgeoning acknowledgment of bisexuality is there an understanding of what it means to be bisexual in a monosexual culture? RePresenting Bisexualities seeks to answer these questions, integrating a recognition of bisexual desire with new theories of gender and sexuality. Despite the breakthroughs in gender studies and queer studies of recent years, bisexuality has remained largely unexamined. Problematic sexual images are usually attributed either to homosexual or heterosexual desire, while bisexual readings remain unexplored. The essays found in RePresenting Bisexualities discuss fluid sexualities through a variety of readings from the fence, covering texts from Emily Dickinson to Nine Inch Nails. Each author contributes to the collection a unique view of sexual fluidity and transgressive desire. Taken together, these essays provide the most comprehensive bisexual theory reader to date.

Authorship in Nabokov's Prefaces Jacqueline Hamrit, 2015-01-12 Whereas literary criticism has mainly oscillated between the death of the author (Barthes) and the return of the author (Couturier), this work suggests another perspective on authorship through an analysis of Nabokov's prefaces. It is here argued that the author, being neither dead nor tyrannical, alternates between authoritative apparitions and receding disappearances in the double gesture of mastery without mastery, which Derrida calls exappropriation: that is, a simultaneous attempt to appropriate one's work, control it, have it under one's power, and expropriate it, losing control by loosening one's grip. The intention of this is to approach through one's experience of reading and interpreting the experience of self-effacement and impersonality pertaining to writing (cf. Blanchot). Prefaces are considered to be suitable places for the deconstruction of the classical image of Nabokov's arrogance through the unearthing of his reserve and vulnerability This work provides an account of the mere intuition which therefore does not pretend to be a conclusive and definitive interpretation of another image of Nabokov whose undeniable talent for deception seems in accordance with a need for discretion and secrecy

Bloomsbury Companion to Systemic Functional Linguistics M.A.K. Halliday, Jonathan J. Webster, 2009-07-18 Designed to be the essential one volume resource for students and researchers on Systemic Functional Linguistics

Professional Communication Winnie Cheng, Kenneth C.C. Kong, 2009-04-01 Professional Communication presents ten studies of communication practices in a variety of professional contexts By drawing on diverse methodologies from fields such as conversation analysis intercultural communication and organizational studies the essays here examine how language is constructed managed and consumed in various professional situations ranging from academic settings to business negotiations One important theme of the book is its emphasis on the collaboration between researchers and professionals The contributors strongly believe that such collaborative partnership will provide direct implications for improving workplace communication and enhance better understanding of the construction of professional identity and organizational behaviour This book will appeal to not only scholars and researchers in discourse analysis intercultural communication and professional studies but also practitioners in the related fields and disciplines

Distributed Languageing, Affective Dynamics, and the Human Ecology Volume I Paul J. Thibault, 2020-11-23 Language plays a central role in human life However the term language as defined in the language sciences of the 20th century and the traditions these have drawn on have arguably limited our thinking about what language is and does The two inter linked volumes of Thibault s study articulate crucially important aspects of an emerging new perspective shift on language the Distributed Language view that is now receiving more and more attention internationally Rejecting the classical view that the fundamental architecture of language can be localized as a number of inter related levels of formal linguistic organization that function as the coded inputs and outputs to each other the distributed language view argues that languaging behaviour is a bio cultural organisation of process that is embodied multimodal and integrated across multiple space time scales Thibault argues that we need to think of human languaging as the distinctively human mode of our becoming and being selves in the extended human ecology and the kinds of experiencing that this makes possible Paradoxically this also means thinking about language in non linguistic ways that break the grip of the conventional meta languages for thinking about human languaging Thibault s book grounds languaging in process theory languaging and the forms of experience it actualizes is always an event not a thing that we use In taking a distinctively interdisciplinary approach the book relates dialogical theories of human sense making to the distributed view of human cognition to recent thinking about distributed language to ecological psychology and to languaging as inter individual affective dynamics grounded in the subjective lives of selves In taking this approach the book considers the coordination of selves in social encounters the emergent forms of self reflexivity that characterise these encounters and the implications for how we think of and live our human sociality not as something that is mediated by over arching codes and systems but as emerging from the endogenous subjectivities of selves when they seek to coordinate with other selves and with the situations artefacts social institutions and technologies that populate the extended human ecology The two volumes aim to bring our understanding of human languaging closer to human embodiment experience and feeling while also showing how languaging enables humans to transcend local circumstances and thus to dialogue with cultural tradition Volume 1 focuses on the shorter timescales of bodily dynamics in languaging activity Volume II integrates the shorter timescales of body dynamics to the longer cultural historical timescales of the linguistic and cultural norms and patterns to which bodily dynamics are integrated

Styles of Meaning and Meanings of Style in Richardson's Clarissa Gordon Fulton, 1999-06-08 Using socially and culturally engaged discourse stylistics Fulton explores ideologies of social formation gender and sexuality in the novel The first part of the study Styles of Meaning discusses Richardson's use of the genres of sententiousness moral sentiments and proverbs to engage questions of ideology Fulton shows how Richardson draws on the socially significant difference between proverbs and maxims to develop contrasting styles in which his characters establish and defend personal identities in relation to family and friends The second part Meanings of Style explores ways in which meanings created through linguistic choices in the critical domains of gender and sexuality both sustain and sometimes betray characters struggling either to control or to resist being controlled by others A contribution to both critical discussion of eighteenth century fiction and to discourse stylistics committed to relating literary texts to their social and cultural contexts this study introduces a mode of literary stylistic analysis with exciting possibilities for cultural studies
