Social Research On Children And Adolescents Vol 133 Ethical Issues:

Ethical Issues in Mental Health Research With Children and Adolescents Kimberly Hoagwood, Peter S. Jensen, Celia B. Fisher, 2014-06-03 Studies involving children with mental emotional or behavioral problems or their families have to meet certain standards of research ethics This book contains chapters on the kinds of ethical dilemmas that typically occur in different types of studies of children and then presents 65 real world cases from experts who study children's mental health These experts offer practical suggestions for how to handle these dilemmas Chapters on the perspectives of parents regulators and bioethicists provide additional points of view on these issues Written in down to earth language this book will be useful for professionals who study children for those who train students in research methods and for parents who are thinking about participating in research studies In attempting to bridge the apparent gap between ethics and science the editors close this volume on a note commonly sounded by researchers more research is needed Yet in this area a new kind of research is required The science of scientific ethics must be developed and expanded and better understanding of the determinants and circumstances under which children can comprehend and evaluate risks and benefits is needed Likewise fuller knowledge of the contextual factors affecting children's and families consent to participate in research is essential In particular development of scales to assess children's ability to comprehend risk benefit issues studies of families reactions to research procedures and empirical data on the impact of various forms of participant reimbursement will advance both science and ethics This volume should spur further research serving as a guide for current investigators participating families institutional review boards and policymakers who shape the research enterprise

Researching Children and Youth Ingrid E. Castro, Melissa Swauger, Brent Harger, 2017-03-17 This volume seeks to directly address the problems and pitfalls that often accompany researching children and youth in today's society This volume addresses participatory and feminist ethnographic approaches digital mining children's agency and navigating IRBs Themes of space location and identity run throughout this volume

Life-Span Development and Behavior David L. Featherman, Richard M. Lerner, Marion Perlmutter, 2014-01-14 This volume continues the tradition of the Life Span Development Series presenting overviews of research programs on a variety of developmental topics Research and theory in life span development have given increased attention to the issues of constancy and change in human development and to the opportunities for and constraints on plasticity in structure and function across life Acknowledging the need for and existence of interconnection between age and developmental periods it focuses on conditions for possibly discontinuous development that emerge at later periods Contributors to this series are sensitive to the restrictive consequences of studying only specific age periods such as old age infancy or adolescence Each scholar attempts to relate the facts about one age group to similar facts about other age groups and to move toward the study of transformation of characteristics and processes over the life span
