Social World Of Drugs:

Drugs in Society Jane Fountain, Dirk J Korf, David Elliman, 2019-01-15 This title includes Foreword by Paul Griffiths Scientific Coordinator European Monitoring Centre for Drugs and Drug Addiction EMCDDA Portugal Provocative Stimulating Reflect s the diverse and eclectic nature of drug use in Europe and in doing so makes for a rich reading experience This book is about drug use as a dynamic social behaviour where understanding meaning and motivations and culture and context are as important as understanding the actions of chemicals on the brain or body It clearly illustrates the value of social research as a powerful tool for illuminating subjects that are too often overlooked in the discourse on the drug problem but also reminds us why such a detailed vision is important If you are feeling jaded and uninspired and have forgotten why this topic ever interested you in the first place if you simply want to read something provocative and different that reminds you of why the use of drugs is not only an important policy issue but also a fascinating area for social research this book is for you and these seem to me pretty good reasons for recommending a text Paul Griffiths in the Foreword Our Social World Jeanne H. Susanne MacGregor provides information on the drugs problem in Britain in the 1980s based on extensive research and experience and places it in its international and historical context The contributors to this book are all experts in this field and are drawn from a range of disciplines including epidemiology sociology social psychiatry social policy anthropology and history They share a social rather than a narrowly medical or individualistic perspective on drugs stressing that policy and practice about drugs must be based not on prejudice alarm or outdated ideas but on clear reliable and detailed evidence and the informed judgements of people who have a thorough understanding of the issues They explain the problem by referring it to its social and political context from the level of the local community and local services to the wider national and structural levels
