Barton Palmer,David Boyd,2011-09-01 The adaptation of literary works to the screen has been the subject of increasing and increasingly sophisticated critical and scholarly attention in recent years but most studies of the subject have continued to privilege literature over film by taking the literary sources as their starting point Rather than examining the processes by which a particular author has been adapted into a diversity of films by different filmmakers the contributors in Hitchcock at the Source consider the processes by which a varied range of literary sources have been transformed by one filmmaker into an impressive body of work Throughout his career Alfred Hitchcock transformed a variety of literary sources novels plays short stories into what is arguably the most coherent and distinctive narratively stylistically and thematically of all directorial oeuvres After an introduction surveying the nature and diversity of Hitchcock s sources and locating the current volume in the context of theoretical work on adaptation nineteen original essays range across the entirety of Hitchcock s career from the silent period through to the 1970s In addition to addressing the process of adaptation in particular films in terms of plot and character the contributors also consider less obvious matters of tone technique and ideology Hitchcock s manipulation of the conventions of literary and dramatic genres such as spy fiction and romantic comedy and more general problems such as Hitchcock s shift from plays to novels as his major sources in the course of the 1930s      The Gaynor Women Virginia Coffman,1979-07-01      Library Journal ,2009      Fiction, 1876-1983: Authors R.R. and most dynamic Australian pulp publisher to emerge after World War II Although best known for its cheaply produced sometimes luridly packaged softcover books Horwitz Publications played a far larger role in mainstream Australian publishing than has been so far recognised particularly in the expansion of the paperback from the late 1950s onwards Horwitz Publications Pulp Fiction and the Rise of the Australian Paperback examines the authorship production marketing and distribution of Horwitz pulp paperbacks It includes ground breaking material on the conditions of creative labour the writers artists and editors involved in the production of Horwitz pulp The book also explores how Horwitz pulp paperbacks acted as a local conduit for the global modern the ideas sensations fascinations technologies and people that came crashing into the Australian consciousness in the 1950s and 1960s Michael Moorcock Mark Scroggins, 2016-01-05 Prolific popular and critically acclaimed Michael Moorcock is the most important British fantasy author of his generation His Elric of Melniboné is an iconic figure for millions of fans but Moorcock has also been a pioneer in science fiction and historical fiction He was hailed as the central figure of the New Wave in science fiction and has won numerous awards for his fantasy and SF as well as his mainstream writing This first full length critical look at Moorcock's career from the early 1960s to the present explores the author's fictional multiverse his fantasy tales of the Eternal Champion his experimental Jerry Cornelius novels the hilarious science fiction satire of his End of Time books and his complex meditations on 20th century history in Mother London and the Colonel Pyat tetralogy A Female Poetics of Empire Julia Kuehn, 2013-10-30 Many well known male writers produced fictions about colonial spaces and discussed the advantages of realism over romance and vice versa in the art of fiction debate of the 1880s but how did female writers contribute to colonial fiction This volume links fictional non-fictional and pictorial representations of a colonial otherness with the late nineteenth century artistic concerns about representational conventions and possibilities The author explores these texts and images through the postcolonial framework of exoticism arguing that the epistemological dilemma of a self encountering an other results in the interrelated predicament to find poetic modalities mimetic realistic and documentary on the one hand romantic fantastic and picturesque on the other that befit an exotic representation Thus women writers did not only participate in the making of colonial fictions but also in the late nineteenth century artistic debate about the nature of fiction This book maps the epistemological concerns of exoticism and of difference self and other home and away familiarity and strangeness onto the representational modes of realism and romance The author focuses exclusively on female novelists travel writers and painters of the turn of the century exotic and especially on neglected authors of academically under researched genres such as the bestselling novel and the travelogue The Spectacular Fiona Davis, 2024-07-23 From the New York Times Bestselling Author of The Magnolia Palace A thrilling story about love sacrifice and the pursuit of dreams set amidst the glamour and glitz of Radio City Music Hall in its mid century heyday New York City 1956 Nineteen year old Marion Brooks knows she should be happy Her high school sweetheart is about to propose and sweep her off to the life everyone has always expected they'd have together a
