The General Electric Story 1876-1986:

The General Electric Story Bernard Gorowitz, 2000

Antique Electric Waffle Irons 1900-1960 William F.

George, 2003-03-20 Finally A comprehensive collector's book and historical reference containing everything there is to know about antique and vintage electric waffle irons and the companies that made them The author a former science teacher precision scientific instrument maker and writer has for years collected researched restored and in some cases written about everything from antique pocket watches and cameras to old radios and vintage automobiles Bill's passion for antique electric appliances has led to this first of its kind book The author's collection of waffle makers all meticulously restored to like new condition numbers in the hundreds In this book he shares with the reader everything he's learned over the years about these little marvels and the companies and people that created them This 258 page book is profusely illustrated with never before published materials about waffles and waffle irons including patent drawings historic paintings factory issued literature and vintage photos and advertisements Also included are hundreds of informative photos of restored waffle irons from the author's personal collection along with rare and unusual examples from the collections of noted toaster and appliance aficionados from around the country This is no ordinary collector type picture book It's the culmination of hundreds of hours of research into the history of the electric appliance industry in 20th century America Through exclusive interviews with the heirs of company founders with former employees and with archivists historians and librarians the author has been able to compile in depth histories of over 85 appliance manufacturers and retailers For the first time the reader will find detailed biographies of many of the men who founded and ran the companies that gave the world the toasters the ovens the grills and the other kitchen appliances that today we all take for granted

Refrigeration Carroll Gantz, 2015-07-13 For thousands of years humans coped with heat by harvesting and storing natural ice and devising natural cooling systems that utilized ventilation and evaporation By the mid 1800s people began developing huge refrigeration machines to manufacture ice By the early 1900s engineers developed electric domestic refrigerators which by 1927 were affordable convenient household appliances By then an increasingly sophisticated public demanded more modern looking appliances than engineers could produce and a new breed of designers entered the manufacturing world to provide them During the Depression modern designs not only increased sales but resulted in the kitchen appliances we now use Today refrigeration preserves perishable food for worldwide distribution makes tropical climates habitable for millions saves lives with medical applications and enables space flight

Open Doors Christopher Bo Bramsen, 2013-11-05 On one level this is an intriguing account of expat life in Shanghai's International settlement in the early 20th century On another level is charted the introduction and growth of new western technologies and companies in China And the backdrop to these stories is early 20th century China itself the hopes fears turmoil and grandeur of the age

Inventing Structures for Industrial Research Kees Boersma, 2002 The early history of the Philips National Laboratory began in the winter of 1913 when Gerard Philips and his brother Anton founded a research organization as a separate part of their company in Eindhoven The Philips brothers hired Gilles Holst and others to carry out scientific experiments in order to improve existing light bulb technology and later to create new products such as x ray tubes and radio sets Holst became the leader and organizer of the research laboratory Scientists who worked under him proved the business value of industrial research for the Philips company The National Laboratory story indicates that it was not enough for Philips to simply have a tradition of innovation the company also needed to create a culture and structure that permitted the coordination between people and resources that was necessary for developing innovations in an industrial context These innovations spawn such diverse topics as irradiation of plants with artificial light and creating an agricultural research network of particular interest is comparisons drawn between Philips and General Electric Kees Boersma shows that the National Laboratory history in the first decades of the twentieth century can be seen as part of a broader development internationally During the function of the industrial research laboratory became institutionalized The institutionalization process of industrial research involved an intentional structuring of the research organization in the company in which various persons worked together in specific business contexts At a local level Philips people headed by Holst reinvented the research function It is exactly this process that is central this book This will be a welcome addition to the literature on business history informed as it is by a sense of social theory and social organizations Kees Boersma is a historian who works as a researcher in the group of Culture Organization and Management of the Faculty of Social Studies at the Free University of Amsterdam His research expertise is grounded in the areas of science technology culture and organization studies

Studies in Material Culture Research Society for Historical Archaeology, 2000 Control Your Destiny Or Someone Else Will Noel M. Tichy, Stratford Sherman, 1995 Acknowledged as the outstanding business leader of the late twentieth century Jack Welch made General Electric one of the world's most competitive companies This dynamic CEO defined the standard for organizational change creating more than 400 billion in shareholder value by transforming a bureaucratic behemoth into a nimble scrappy winner in the global marketplace Here Tichy and Sherman extract the enduring leadership lessons from the revolution Welch wrought at GE Of these the most essential is the limitless power of learning Leadership has its mysteries but it is a skill that anyone can acquire and enhance Above all great leaders select great people and lure them into an endless process of learning and adaptation Jack Welch's Six Rules Control your destiny or someone else will Face reality as it is not as it was or as you wish it were Be candid with everyone Don't manage lead Change before you have to If you don't have a competitive advantage don't compete Pentacom Philippe Malaval, Jean-Marc Décaudin, 2012-04-27 Une approche globale et une synthèse rigoureuse actuelle et attractive des théories et pratiques de la communication Cette édition actualisée traite des nouveaux outils de communication web et interactifs America at Home Victoria Kasuba Matrangola, 1997 Design Chronicles Carroll Gantz, 2005 Here are the design stories of everyday material stuff from cars to Dustbusters phonographs to DVDs that makes our lives easier more exciting and more comfortable through mass production Descriptive vignettes and
