The Genesis Of Narrative In Malory's Morte Darthur:

The Genesis of Narrative in Malory's Morte Darthur Elizabeth Edwards, 2001 A study of the structure of the Morte focusing on Malory's adaptation as both redactor and translator of traditional Arthurian material The Manuscript and Meaning of Malory's Morte Darthur Kevin Sean Whetter, 2017 An examination of the rubricated letters in the Morte makes a convincing case for the design being by Malory himself The red ink names that decorate the Winchester manuscript of Malory's Morte Darthur are striking yet until now no one has asked why the rubrication exists This book explores the uniqueness and thematic significance of the physical layout of the Morte in its manuscript context arguing that the layout suggests and the correlations between manuscript design and narrative theme confirm that the striking arrangement is likely to have been the product of authorial design rather than something unusual dreamed up by patron scribe reader or printer The introduction offers a thorough account of not only the textual tradition of the Morte but also the ways in which scholarship to date has not done enough with the manuscript contexts of Malory's Arthuriad The book then goes on to establish the singularity and likely provenance of Winchester's rubrication of names In the second half of the study the author elucidates the narrative significance of this rubrication pattern outlining striking connections between manuscript layout and major narrative events characters and themes He suggests that the manuscript mise en page underscores Malory's interest in human character and knighthood creating a memorializing function similar to the many inscribed tombs that dominate the landscape of the Morte's narrative pages In short Winchester's design creates a memorializing tomb for Arthurian chivalry K S WHETTER is Professor of English at Acadia University Canada Malory's Morte D'Arthur C. Batt, 2016-04-30 This study innovatively explores how Malory's Morte D'Arthur responds to available literary vernacular Arthurian traditions which the French defined as theoretical in impulse the English as performative and experimental Negotiating these influences Malory transforms constructions of masculine heroism especially in the presentation of Lancelot and exposes the tensions and disillusion of the Arthurian project The Morte poignantly conveys a desire for integrity in narrative and subject matter but at the same time tests literary conceptualizations of history nationalism gender and selfhood and considers the failures of social and legal institutionalizations of violence in a critique of literary form and of social order Vision and Gender in Malory's Morte Darthur Dr. Molly Martin, Molly Anne Martin, 2010 This study of vision in Morte Darthur examines the role played by sight seeing and being seen in its construction of gender highlighting also the influence of the romance genre in this process Forging Chivalric Communities in Malory's Le Morte Darthur K. Hodges, 2005-06-04 Forging Chivalric Communities in Malory's Morte D'Arthur shows that Malory treats chivalry not as a static institution but as a dynamic continually evolving ideal Le Morte D'Arthur is structured to trace how communities and individuals adapt or create chivalric codes for their own purposes in turn codes of chivalry shape groups and their customs Knights loyalties are torn not just between lords and lovers but also between the different codes of chivalry and between different communities Women too choose among the different roles they are asked to play as queens counsellors and even quasi knights

Malory's Library Ralph C. Norris, 2008 Ralph Norris collects the results of over 100 years of scholarship providing new discussions of the major sources of the eight tales recognised in the standard edition of Sir Thomas Malory's Morte d'Arthur He reveals much about how the work was created and about Malory himself

Malory's Contemporary Audience Thomas Crofts, 2006 This book seeks to place Malory's Morte Darthur more firmly in its cultural and historical context Its composition in the mid to late fifteenth century took place at a time of great upheaval for England a period beginning with the loss of Bordeaux and the Hundred Years War and ending with the rise of Richard III During this time the Morte was translated from numerous French sources copied by scribes and finally in July 1485 printed by William Caxton The author argues that in this unique production history are reflected the ideological crises which loomed so massively over England's ruling class in the fifteenth century and that the book is in fact inseparable from these crises delivers fascinating material across genres periods and theoretical issues TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT Arthurian Literature XXXIX Megan G. Leitch, K. S. Whetter, 2024-06-04 Delivers fascinating material across genres periods and theoretical issues TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT This volume is a special issue dedicated to Professor Elizabeth Archibald who has had such an impact on and made so many significant contributions to the field of Arthurian Studies It maintains its tradition of diverse approaches to the Arthurian tradition albeit on this occasion with a particular focus on Malory appropriately reflecting one of Professor Archibald's main interests It starts with the essay awarded this year's D S Brewer Prize for a contribution by an early career scholar which considers the little known debt owed by early modern sailors to Arthurian knighthood and pageantry The essays that follow begin with a wide ranging account of manuscript decorations and annotations in Geoffrey of Monmouth's Historia before turning to the Evil Custom trope in Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Further contributions explore the formalities of requests and conditions in Malory's Tale of Gareth emotional excess and magical transformation in several scenes across the Morte Darthur tensions between public and private and self and identity in Malory's Sankgreal and friction between the external and imposed law and internal and subjective but honourable code of chivalry especially apparent in Malory's final Tales The last article examines the ways in which Mordred's origins in modern Arthurian fiction build on Malory's false or forgotten promise to relate Mordred's upbringing The volume closes with a short tribute to Elizabeth Archibald highlighting her leadership in the field and her encouragement of scholarly collaboration and community

The Continuations of Chrétien's Perceval Leah Tether, 2012 The Continuations of Chrétien de Troyes Perceval are here examined as constituting a discrete genre of medieval literature The notion of Continuation in medieval literature is a familiar one but difficult to define precisely Despite the existence of important texts which are commonly referred to as Continuations such as Le Roman de la Rose Le Chevalier de la Charrette and of course the Perceval Continuations the mechanics and processes involved in actually producing a Continuation have found themselves indistinguishable from those associated with other forms of medieval literature The Perceval Continuations composed c 1200-1230 constitute a vast body of material which incorporates four separately authored Continuations each of which seeks to further in some way the unfinished Perceval of Chrétien de Troyes though they are not merely responses to his work Chronologically they were composed one after the other and the next in line picks up where the previous one left off they thus respond intertextually to each other as well as to Chrétien and only one actually furnishes the story as a whole with an ending Here these fascinating texts are used as a lens for examining defining and distinguishing the whole concept of a Continuation the author also employs theories as to what constitutes an end and what is unfinished alongside scrutiny of other medieval ends and Continuations Dr Leah Tether is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Cultures of the Digital Economy Institute Anglia Ruskin University
