

Authenticity and Genuineness

- Authenticity is what we want in a historical document: we want to know if what it says is substantially true.
- Showing that the document is genuine helps to establish that it is authentic, because it helps to rule out rival theories (e.g., that the document is a late mythical composition).

The Genuineness And Authenticity Of The Gospels

Peter L P Simpson

The Genuineness And Authenticity Of The Gospels:

The Genuineness and Authenticity of the Gospels Burke Aaron Hinsdale, 1872 The Internal Evidence of the Genuineness and Authenticity of the Gospels. An Essay James Clarke FRANKS, 1817 The Gospels of the New Testament: Their Genuineness and Authenticity Robert Jarratt Crosthwaite, 1882 The Evidences of the Genuineness of the Gospels Andrews Norton, 1868 The Evidences of the Genuineness of the Gospels Andrews Norton (Professor of Sacred History in the Howard University, Massachusetts.), 1847 Observations on the Authenticity of the Gospels Peleg Whitman Chandler, 1867 The Evidences of the Genuineness of the Gospels Andrews Norton, 1848 The Gospel Records Wilhelm Nast, 1866 A Summary of the Evidence for the Genuineness, Authenticity, Uncorrupted Preservation, and Inspiration of the Holy Scriptures Thomas Hartwell Horne, 1861 The Authenticity of the Gospels Peter L P Simpson, 2019-04-16

That the Gospels are the writings of their traditional Apostolic authors was long held to be settled truth It was also long held that Matthew was first and as early as the 40sAD followed by Mark and Luke and lastly by John and that all were written before about 70AD These views have been doubted or denied by New Testament scholars from about the end of the 18th Century The dominant view is that the Gospels were not written by eyewitnesses though they depend on material that may go back to eyewitnesses Mark is said to have been written first and not much before 70AD Matthew and Luke are later and depend on Mark and some unknown sources John is last follows an independent tradition and could be as late as 100AD The reason for this change of views is the so called historical critical method which claims to be scientific and up to date in literary criticism and the detection of different temporal layers in written texts The method also assumes that reports of miracles and other supernatural phenomena are not historical but later inventions added for religious purposes This book shows that the historical critical method is not historical or critical or even a method For the method assumes but cannot prove that supernatural happenings are unhistorical it ignores the historical evidence about the origin and authorship of the Gospels its literary criticism is unimaginative and its application of it to questions of dating arbitrary There is no reason to accept its results as well founded or even believable The traditional dating and authorship of the Gospels is the only account that makes sense Nevertheless elements of the historical critical method have a legitimate use if they are applied fairly and taken along with the historical evidence and the fact well established by eyewitnesses of supernatural realities When these elements are so used they can be shown to give plausible and defensible accounts of the origin in particular of the Gospels of Mark and Luke which along with Matthew show signs of dependence and overlap If the historical evidence is taken seriously and if literary criticism is applied fairly a plausible account can be given of the origin in particular of the Gospel of Mark of how it arose from the preaching of Peter relative to the older Gospel of Matthew and to the newer Gospel of Luke sponsored by the Apostle Paul This alternative account of the origins of Mark and Luke is a fine example of how historical evidence and literary criticism can be used to explain otherwise puzzling phenomena This account is perhaps not the only one to save all the phenomena But it shows how the traditional authorship and dating of the Gospels contrary to the historical critical method make excellent sense of all the phenomena literary historical and rational The traditional view about the Gospels is the only sensible view to adopt *The Genuine and Apocryphal Gospels Compared.
