Vision ,1890 The Gift of the Barking Frog , Robin And The Giant, Robin MacBlane, Larry Whitler,Larry Whitler,2007-03-01 56 short stories for children and other deep thinkers These stories were written by Robin And The Giant also known as Robin MacBlane and Larry Whitler

for their children's radio program Onward, 1913 Memory as Space Jennifer Jean Day, 2001 This dissertation treats the oeuvres of Vladimir Nabokov 1899-1977 and Iosif Brodskij 1940-1996 in the context of the important literary and cultural traditions of the city of St Petersburg referred to here as the Petersburg Theme Petersburg has always been a city where the written word plays a particularly strong role in shaping the daily lives and consciousness of its inhabitants The Petersburg writer can thus be said to create his city in an ongoing continuation of the work of its strong-willed founder Peter the Great Both natives of St Petersburg Leningrad Nabokov and Brodskij were each forced to leave the city and to re-establish their lives and careers in permanent emigration and in a different language Despite their physical removal from Russia and despite the city's own struggles to retain its identity during cataclysmic social and political changes in the twentieth century each writer continued to rely upon a clearly defined Petersburg aesthetic in his works Using selections from Nabokov's poetry, short stories and novels and from Brodskij's poetry and essays this study focuses on the city of Petersburg as both an image with a very specific set of spatial attributes and also as a memory which activates these writers' creative consciousness The city with all its negative and positive attributes continues to influence the way they think and write as in turn these authors continue to create Petersburg although they are far removed from the city space itself Each writer develops in a significant way the trajectory of the Petersburg Theme in the twentieth century confirming that the city is as much a mental and creative construct as it is a physically perceptible space Specifically for Nabokov Petersburg space is related to the powers of a transcendent creative consciousness while for Brodskij Petersburg space is the source of his poetic strategy of negative presence Thus the city not only functions as an image in their works but also underlies their creative vision as a whole

Leaf vii-viii These Are the Gifts I'd Like to Give to You Douglas Pagels, 1999-09 With full color illustrations this imaginative book is comprised of gentle whimsical and optimistic messages to bring serenity and happiness to life The Harvard Graduates' Magazine William Roscoe Thayer, 1904 Healing Autumn's Heart Renee Andrews, 2011-10-01 Little Autumn barely speaks and rarely smiles So as a fresh start for both himself and his daughter widowed doctor Matt Graham moves to a small Southern town There they happen across a lovely young woman named Hannah Taylor Something about Hannah awakens the girl and suddenly Autumn is full of sweet chatter and laughter In remission from the very illness that took so much from Matt and Autumn Hannah seems to understand what the family of two needs She's healed his daughter's heart But can he open his enough to accept her love Mabel Cheung Yuen-Ting's An Autumn's Tale Stacie Lee Ford, 2008-04-01 This study of An Autumn's Tale argues that Hong Kong films are a window into understanding the shared pasts and ongoing connections between Hong Kong and other globalized cities Viewed through the lens of transnational American Studies the film sheds important insights on both Hong Kong and U.S. history, culture and identity Through this important film from a woman director the author explores the way Hong Kong and the U.S. have been and continue to be connected through flows of people, ideas and events that make their impact known on both sides of the Pacific The book reminds readers of the importance of seeing Hong Kong films as cultural texts that address historical events socio economic shifts and the impact of those events on individual lives With its focus on migration and migrants An Autumn's Tale especially benefits from the transnational American studies perspective that Dr Ford brings to her examination This exciting new field draws from the best of many disciplinary perspectives as well as interdisciplinary perspectives in cultural and postcolonial studies with an eye towards understanding how national identity is both fluid and resilient even in these global times The book is readable and teachable for those looking to understand connections between the U S and Asia during the closing years of the twentieth century during a dynamic period the 1980s in both Hong Kong and New York

An Autumn's Journey Craig D. Lounsbrough, 2017-11-15 WE LIVE IN A CULTURE THAT IS DESPERATE TO AVOID LOSS We choose to fight it because we assume that it has come only to unfairly steal and inflict terrible pain Loss is seen as the rogue enemy and heartless foe rather than an opportunity for immense and improbable growth It's in loss that some of the richest and rarest of life's lessons lay buried eagerly waiting to be deeply mined and unearthed In the deepest pain God does the deepest work An Autumn's Journey Deep Growth in the Grief and Loss of Life's Seasons does not loosely gloss over loss or provide shallow prescriptions and weak formulas for our grieving Rather it aggressively embraces both grief and loss bringing fresh eyes to these times in our lives in order to draw out of them the marvelous riches that we all too often miss
