The Gift Economy David Cheal,2015-07-03 Until recently we have known more about gift giving practices in pre industrial societies than about those of industrial western society In this book first published in 1988 David Cheal shows that the process of present giving and receiving is a vital element in contemporary social life relevant to some of the most important theoretical traditions in sociology particularly those of Durkheim and Weber and to the social constructionism of Peter Berger and Thomas Luckmann This volume is the result of a major study of gift rituals carried out by David Cheal and his associates in which general themes are richly illustrated with details from individual case histories gathered during the research It is highly significant that in western society women are more active gift givers than men and while their voices explain how emotions and interests are interrelated within the gift economy the author shows how that in turn is related to current theories about family gender and religion Self-Interest: Volume 14, Part 1 Ellen Frankel Paul,Fred Dycus Miller,Jeffrey Paul,1997-05-28 T he good man should be a lover of self Aristotle wrote For he will both himself profit by doing noble acts and will benefit his fellows Yet in much of contemporary moral philosophy concern for one s own interests is considered a non moral issue while concern for the interests of others is paradigmatically moral Indeed a central issue in ethical theory involves the proper balance to be struck between prudence and morality between the pursuit of one s own good and the pursuit of the good of others When deliberating over what action to take should one weigh one s own interests more heavily than those of others Or is it possible to accommodate both self interest and regard for others to show that we have self regarding reasons for helping others The twelve essays in this volume written from a range of perspectives address these questions and examine related issues The Mennonite ,1923 Five Gifts of Pro-Aging Marcia

Mary Hayden Lemmons,2016-09-15 This first ever interdisciplinary study of woman as prophet shows that in these troubling times ordinary women especially Christian women need to function as prophets by proclaiming in word and deed the indispensability of lovingly seeking the welfare of others More specifically social science shows that the person centered love prophesied by women prophets is able to meet interpersonal challenges within the home and world while philosophy and theology establish that women are able to excel as prophets due to the virtuous dispositions inculcated by femininity the choice to be caring a God centered spirituality and a pro life humanitarian personalist feminism that welcomes male collaborators Facilitating the ability of Christian women to prophesy love are Baptismal graces Thomistic virtues and a much needed prophetic Marian ecclesiology based on what John Paul II calls the prophetism of femininity These interdisciplinary findings provide an essential resource for educators and students of humanity the theology of women and evangelization These findings emerge first from an investigation into the cognitive and ontological underpinnings of what John Paul II called the feminine genius A second set of findings emerges from exploring the prophetic dimensions of the feminine genius secular feminism s need to adopt the insights of Christianity and the ability of femininity s prophetism to recast both femininity and feminism as Marian prophecies A third set of findings arises from analyzing the spirituality of women prophets within the Christian tradition by considering the conditions necessary for prophesying explicating requisite Thomistic virtues and delving into the spirituality of Hildegard Catherine of Siena Julian of Norwich and Teresa of Avila A fourth set of findings arises from innovative studies of polarization secularization lust romantic love the conditions whereby mothers with careers can flourish and the ability of nuns to combat racism in a small Midwestern town Overall these interdisciplinary investigations explicate the theology of women and show that women who prophesy love either in the order of grace or nature can help heal lives families and culture All India Reporter ,1918 The Science, Politics, and Ontology of Life-Philosophy Scott M. Campbell,Paul W. Bruno,2013-07-04 Lebensphilosophie central to nineteenth century philosophical thought is concerned with the meaning value and purpose of life In this much needed study historical lebensphilosophie is returned to the core of philosophical investigations and revealed in the contemporary ascendancy of life in philosophical thinking Scholars from aesthetics bioethics and ontology examine how the notion of life has made its way into contemporary philosophical discussions They identify three main themes the shift toward biological and technological views of life altering Dilthey and Nietzsche s emphasis on historical life over biological life the relationship between biopolitics and political liberalism and the re emergence of the idea of life so important for the traditional life philosophers in recent discussions about care of the self existential gratitude skepticism and the emotions Anticipating new directions of philosophical thinking this study restores a vital school of thought to crucial discussions about the dangers of contemporary politics and the threat of new technologies Self's the Man John Davidson,1901
