Stories Jovita González Mireles, 2000-01-01 The writer Jovita González was a long member and ultimately served as president of Texas Folklore Society which strived to preserve the oral traditions and customs of her native state. Many of the folklore-based stories in this volume were published by González in periodicals such as Southwest Review from the 1920s through the 1940s but have been gathered here for the first time. Sergio Reyna has brought together more than thirty narratives by González and arranged them into Animal Tales such as The Mescal Drinking Horse, Tales of Humans, The Bullet Swallower, Tales of Popular Customs, Shelling Corn by Moonlight, Religious Tales, The Guadalupe Vine, Tales of Mexican Ancestors, Ambrosio the Indian, and Tales of Ghosts. Demons and Buried Treasure. The Woman Who Lost Her Soul. Reyna also provides a helpful introduction that succinctly surveys the author's life and work, analyzing her writings within their historical and cultural contexts.

Race and Gender in the Making of an African American Literary Tradition Aimable Twagilimana, 2014-01-14 This book examines the ways in which race and gender have shaped and continue to inform African American literature. African American texts create a black literary and cultural identity, interpreting and recording the survival of their cultures shattered by years of slavery. Black women writers who have to deal with both racism and sexism use additional strategies to undo this double reduction. They strive to invent a new language to talk about their experience and their lives as black and as women. After a typology of the African American text, the book proposes a reading of major African American writers including Phyllis Wheatley, Olaudah Equiano, Frederick Douglass, Harriet Jacobs, Harriet Wilson, Charles Chesnut, Booker T. Washington, James Weldon Johnson, Zora Neale Hurston, Alice Walker, and Toni Morrison.

The Exiles and Other Stories Horacio

Quiroga, 2013-05-15 *Tales of risk and danger, suffering, disease, horror, and death. Tales also of courage and dignity, hard work and human endurance in the face of hostile nature and the frequent brutality of men. And tales flavored with piquant touches of humor and bemused irony. These are the stories of the Uruguayan writer Horacio Quiroga, here presented in an important compilation of thirteen of his most compelling tales sensitively selected and translated by J. David Danielson. Author of some two hundred pieces of fiction, often compared to the works of Kipling, Jack London, and Edgar Allan Poe, Quiroga set many of his stories in the territory of Misiones in northeastern Argentina, the subtropical jungle region where he spent much of his life. Included here are stories from Los desterrados 1926, often said to be his best book, as well as others from Cuentos de amor, de locura y de muerte 1917, Anaconda 1921, and El desierto 1924. The publication of this selection marks the first appearance in English of all but two of the thirteen stories. Quiroga here presents a wide range of characters: parents and children, servant girls and prostitutes, landowners and lumber barons, foremen and laborers, natives and immigrants in stories pervaded by a vision of life that is elemental, incisive, and essentially tragic. The Exiles and Other Stories shows the versatility and skill that have made him a classic Spanish American writer. It complements and illumines The Decapitated Chicken and Other Stories.*
