Summy, Robert Charles Elliot, 2010-07-24 Peace Studies Public Policy and Global Security is a component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Peace Studies Public Policy and Global Security provides the essential aspects and a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world such as Processes of Peace and Security International Security Peace Development and Environment Security Threats Challenges Vulnerability and Risks Sustainable Food and Water Security World Economic Order This 11 volume set contains several chapters each of size 5000 30000 words with perspectives issues on Peace studies Public Policy and Global security These volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Managing Water and Agroecosystems for Food Security Eline Boelee, 2013 Water protection food production and ecosystem health are worldwide issues Changes in the global water cycle are affecting human well being in many places while widespread land and ecosystem degradation driven by poor agricultural practices is seriously limiting food production Understanding the links between ecosystems water and food production is important to the health of all three and sustainably managing these connections is becoming increasingly necessary This book shows how sustainable ecosystems especially agroecosystems are essential for water management and food production Global Environment Outlook 4 United Nations Environment Programme, 2007 The fourth report in the Global Environment Outlook series provides a comprehensive scientifically credible policy relevant and up to date assessment of and outlook for the state of the global environment Environment for development is the GEO 4 underlying theme and the report pays special attention to the role and impact of the environment on human well being as well as to the use of environmental valuation as a tool for decision making GEO 4 s 2007 publication date marks the half way point for the Millennium Development Goals The environment as well as being the subject of MDG 7 is also a thread that runs through all the goals Includes Errata The Metabolic Pattern of Societies Mario Giampietro, Kozo Mayumi, Alevgül H. Sorman, 2011-10-12 It is increasingly evident that the conventional scientific approach to economic processes and related sustainability issues is seriously flawed No economist predicted the current planetary crisis even though the world has now undergone five severe recessions primed by dramatic increases in the price of oil This book presents the results of more than twenty years of work aimed at developing an alternative method of analysis of the economic process and related sustainability issues it is possible to perform an integrated and comprehensive analysis of the sustainability of socio economic systems using indicators and variables that have been so far ignored by conventional economists The book s innovative approach aims to provide a better framework with which we can face the predicaments of sustainability issues. It begins by presenting practical examples of the shortcomings of conventional economic analysis and examines the systemic problems faced when trying to use quantitative analysis for governance. In providing a critical appraisal of current applications of economic narratives to the issue of sustainability, the book presents several innovative concepts required to generate a post-Newtonian approach to quantitative analysis in the Musiasem approach. An empirical section illustrates the results of an analysis of structural changes in world and EU countries. Finally, the book, using the insight gained in the theoretical and empirical analysis, exposes the dubious quality of many narratives currently used in the sustainability debate. Overall, the performance of modern economies across different hierarchical levels of organization and across different disciplinary knowledge systems is fully analyzed, and a more realistic measure of happiness and well-being is devised. The book should be of interest to researchers and students looking at the issue of sustainability within a variety of disciplines.

Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers and NGOs Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth session Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Global Environmental Governance James Gustave Speth And Peter M. Haas, 2007-09 Global Environmental Governance examines ten major environmental threats climate disruption biodiversity loss acid rain ozone depletion deforestation desertification freshwater degradation and shortages decline of marine fisheries toxic pollutants and excess nitrogen and explores how they can be addressed through treaties governance regimes and new forms of international cooperation It also critically examines the serious shortcomings of current efforts and the underlying reasons for the persistence of disturbing trends This book presents key concepts in international law and regime formation in simple accessible language and describes the current institutional landscape lessons learned and new directions needed in international governance Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1995 Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation to Improve Food Security in South Asia Rafiq Islam, AHM Mustafizur Rahman, Heulin Thierry, Mannava Sivakumar, 2025-06-26 Both food security and agriculture contribute to and are affected by global climate change The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change reports that food production systems account for up to 37% of global greenhouse gas emissions At the same time these systems are increasingly vulnerable to climate change with extreme weather events such as rising temperatures flooding drought secondary salinity and land degradation threatening food security in South Asia Additionally the spread of weeds pests and diseases due to shifting climates exacerbates these challenges The strain on agriculture and food security from accelerated climate change is further worsening by rapid population growth Globally more than 820 million people suffer from hunger and by 2050 food production will need to double to meet global demands This intensification of farming combined with climate change will lead to greater reliance on reactive chemicals water and energy inputs potentially damaging agroecosystem services and becoming increasingly difficult to manage South Asia with its high population growth is particularly vulnerable to climate impacts such as flooding salinity droughts and solar dimming Rising sea levels and coastal erosion could result in the loss of 17% of land surface and 30% of food production by 2050 Agriculture and food systems must undergo innovative transformations to address these challenges A comprehensive Climate Change Adaption Framework is essential for fostering a supportive policy environment sharing information on climate impacts and adapting climate smart agriculture to enhance food security in South Asia This book based on the outcomes of the 2022 International Conference on Climate Change and Food security in South Asia held in Dhaka Bangladesh explores key challenges and innovative solutions for mitigating and adapting to the impact of climate change on food security
