The God Self Revelation For The New Millennium:

The Godself Patricia Jepsen Chuse,1998 Apocalypse For A New Millennium Benjamin Williams,2013-09-04 Here we are in the millennium that wasn't supposed to happen as another generation of end time authors and bible prophecy specialists have proven wrong Again the Book of Revelation has been brought into disrepute Can Christians take back the book and read John's Apocalypse with fresh eyes Dr Williams argues that the prophet John saw in the events of his own day a larger drama playing out the ultimate struggle between God and evil Because human nature never really changes the same great themes speak to every age including our own In all the bad news of today's headlines the Apocalypse unveils the good news that undergirds all human history and drives it forward toward its intended destiny If you find the Book of Revelation only confusing or even frightening this book is for you Missions in a New Millennium W. Edward Glenney,William H. Smallman, What does the changing face of missions look like What challenges will appear in the years to come A number of key missionaries mission agency leaders seminary professors and pastors present insightful presentations of missions past and present seeking to revitalize the future of world evangelism Reflections: A Journey To God Gary Eby,2017-06-09 Our disclaimer you are completely free to reject everything we have to say about spirituality What we believe in is not that important What really counts is what you believe that gives your life meaning direction and purpose This book is about our personal stories with Spirit and what we've learned along our journeys We're sharing it with you because it might help you on your own journey to God We only ask that you read this book with an open mind and heart We suggest you pick one of these spiritual essays Ponder it meditate for a while even read it out loud Allow yourself to feel the words and the light which may lead you to discover the better life you truly deserve Reformed Theology for the Third Christian Millennium Brian Albert Gerrish,2003-01-01 This book is comprised of the 2001 Sprunt Lectures at Union Theological Seminary and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education The pieces address differing aspects of Reformed theology from a variety of views each focusing on an important issue that engages Reformed thought at the beginning of the third Christian millennium Perspectives and contexts for the essays are provided in the Introduction by B A Gerrish one of the most distinguished contemporary Reformed theologians Liberating Christianity Thomas C. Sorenson,2008-11-01 Christianity is in crisis in our North American context especially among the cultural elite and people with progressive views The reasons for the faith's loss of credibility have to do in large part with the dominant philosophical materialism of our culture and with the understanding of the faith almost universally held by Americans both inside the churches and outside them In this book Thomas C Sorenson calls this understanding Biblicism by which he means the belief that the Bible is to be understood only literally and that in one way or another its authority comes from its claimed origin with God Many enlightened people also reject Christianity because the only Christianity they know is the judgmental socially conservative faith that the most vocal and visible advocates of the faith among us so loudly espouse This book offers a different understanding of the faith It begins with a discussion of the universal human experience of the spiritual dimension of reality. It then discusses symbol and myth as the necessary language for communicating that experience. The book shows that all human experience is necessarily subjective and that religious truth is thus also necessarily subjective. Therefore religious truth is relative, not universal and absolute. The work argues that the Bible is a human work expressing its authors' experience of the divine. The book then discusses other obstacles to faith and offers a different understanding of the issues they raise. The book replaces the classical theory of atonement with a theology of the cross based mainly on the work of Douglas John Hall. It redefines salvation as having to do with this life, not with the afterlife. It closes with a section that replaces the dominant social conservatism of popular Christianity with Jesus's teachings of nonviolence, economic justice, and radical inclusivity.

God on Broadway Charles Anthony Gillespie, 2025-11-18 God on Broadway explores the theological questions cracked open by commercial theatre. It shows how the Great White Way, that apex of consumerism and a synonym for the business of spectacle, can be a place for theophany and critical reflection on religion. Looking for God on Broadway is a way of doing theology, a method for talking about God. Provided by publisher.

Revitalizing Theological Epistemology Steven B. Sherman, 2010-03-25 In Revitalizing Theological Epistemology, Steven B. Sherman addresses questions about what evangelical theology ought to be doing in light of the changing cultural situation. He wonders if the Christian faith should continue to be presented and defended mainly according to Enlightenment principles when growing criticism of modern thought is affecting virtually every discipline, and if evangelicalism and its intellectual leaders ought to wait it out or whether they should revise their theology. This book is about contemporary evangelical approaches to the knowledge of God, considering and suggesting ways Christian philosophers and theologians envision and make use of theological knowledge in the postmodern context.

Starstruck Albert A. Harrison, 2007 We live in an era of exploding scientific knowledge about the universe and our place and future within it. Much of this new knowledge conflicts with earlier wisdom, and some has frightening implications. Cosmic evolution, space exploration, the search for extraterrestrial life, and concerns about humanity's future prompt us to seek new answers to old existential questions: Where did we come from? Why are we here? Are we alone? What will become of us? In our search for answers, we turn to science, religion, myth, and varying combinations thereof. Exploring an ambiguous region between recognized findings and unfettered imagination, Starstruck explores the multifaceted, far-reaching, and often contentious attempts of people with contrasting worldviews to develop convincing and satisfying interpretations of rapidly accumulating discoveries in physics, astronomy, and biology.

Activism and the Literary Self in 20th and 21st-Century Literature Jeffrey F. Keuss, 2024-12-26 Exploring how Shusaku Endo, Ta Nehisi Coates, Thomas Merton, Marilynne Robinson, Cormac McCarthy, and Octavia E. Butler engage with social justice and activism, this book explores the significant role that literature plays in the formation of justice. Jeff Keuss foregrounds literature and the role of poetics as both a method and a frame by which justice can not only be understood but uniquely positioned to transform and redeem the moral call on individuals in ways that some recent philosophical and ethical projects do not. He examines how these authors are representative of a theme in literature which is the turn to justice as a literary form and discusses how these authors' engagement with activism challenges isolated and anxious models of contemporary selfhood. Demonstrating how these writers utilize fiction across different contexts of race, gender, culture, and theological denominations to present themes of justice in communion with others, Keuss provides new insights into communal selfhood and shows how we can use this idea to shape our ideas of ethics, morality, activism, and justice.

The Cost of Moral Leadership Geoffrey B. Kelly, F. Burton Nelson, 2003 In our current context, given what we are learning about the high cost of failed moral leadership, it is more urgent than ever to seek and study models for the formation of exceptional leaders. Readers who missed Burton Nelson and Geoffrey Kelly's groundbreaking, insightful, painstakingly researched, and substantially encouraging study of what Dietrich Bonhoeffer teaches us about moral leadership when it was first published will be copiously rewarded by studying it now. This is a book to read for yourself and recommend to students, congregants, colleagues, and others whom you would like to draw into profound and fruitful meditation on Christian moral leadership.

A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P., 2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self-realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term, which ranges from abstract philosophical/theological theories to practical psychological/spiritual applications.

Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a persons own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being

The Last Things Donald G. Bloesch,2010-03-23 In The Last Things Donald G Bloesch takes up difficult and sometimes controversial themes such as the coming of the kingdom of God the return of Jesus Christ the life hereafter the millennial hope the final judgment hell heaven purgatory and paradise Wrestling with biblical texts that often take metaphorical form Bloesch avoids rationalistic reductionism as well as timid agnosticism While he acknowledges mystery and even paradox Bloesch finds biblical revelation much more than sufficient to illuminate the central truths of a Christian hope articulated throughout the history of the church The Last Things is not just a review of past Christian eschatology but a fresh articulation of the grace and glory of God yet to be consummated The triumph of the grace of Jesus Christ and the dawning of hope beckon us to reach out in the power of the Spirit to receive that blessed future and the promise to renew the life of the church universal today
