Migrant Labour in South Africa's Mining Economy

Alan H. Jeeves,1985-06-01 In tracing the development of the recruiting system Alan Jeeves shows how a large proportion of the labour supply came to be controlled by private labour companies and recruiting agents who aimed both to exploit the workers and to extract heavy fees from the employing companies The gold industry struggled for years against the internal divisions which created the competition for labour until at last the Chamber of Mines with the support of the state succeeded in driving out the private recruiters and centralizing the system under its control This study of the interests involved in the struggle for control of the black labour supply reveals much about the forces which created and now entrench racial domination in South African s industrial economy

The History of

Geophysics in Southern Africa Johan H de Beer,2016-01-25 Geophysics is a comparatively young science which only evolved as a distinct discipline during the 19th century However its phenomena like earthquakes tsunamis volcanic eruptions and lightning had been objects of fear curiosity and speculation since ancient times In this book Johan de Beer and his research team reveal that geophysical activity in South Africa can be traced back to as early as 1488 This is a truly astonishing revelation which deserves to be firmly entrenched as part of the country s proud history The book also discusses the history and formation of South African geophysical institutions that made a huge and seldom acknowledged contribution to the technological development of southern Africa
