Politics of Knowledge, 2003 The Politics of East European Area Studies Gareth Dale, Katalin Miklossy, Dieter Segert, 2017-09-13 Following the end of the Cold War and European Union enlargement in what sense does Eastern Europe continue to exist as a meaningful geo political concept In addressing this question contributors to this volume Alex Cistelean Robert Bideleux Katalin Mikl ssy and Dieter Segert tease out the implications for an Area Studies approach to the region They examine its contradictory situation within discourses of orientalisation on one hand posited as the underdeveloped pendant to its western neighbours on the other largely Christian by religion and an integral part of a continent that dominated the world They uncover the roots of area studies in the colonial paradigm by which great powers promote the creation of predictive problem solving knowledge that is immediately apprehendable for decision makers helping them to take advantage of a region s resources and strategic position but which tends to homogenise the region s geography and history For critical inquiry they argue the challenge is to delineate transparently the reasons underlying Eastern Europe s construction as an area of study to identify the epistemological interests of motivated organisations such as funding agencies and political bodies and to counter the ongoing orientalism of Western perspectives toward the East This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary Central and Eastern Europe

Racializing Humankind: Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Practices of 'Race' and Racism Julian T. D.

Gärtner, Malin Wilckens, 2022-02-14 Debates on historical and contemporary racism have recently become the subject of increasing public interest The Black Lives Matter movement as well as the Covid 19 pandemic have underlined the importance and urgent necessity of examining racism in society from a multidisciplinary angle The many facets of racism in the past and present also challenge the way we deal with history historical culture in a globalized world Rather than focusing on the history of ideas and its discursive development this volume will focus on the practices of actors It examines how and which practices especially practices of comparing are constitutive in the construction of race and manifestations of racism This edited volume brings together interdisciplinary contributions from history sociology political science American studies literary studies and media studies An important focus lies on the social asymmetries created by racialization including inequalities and violence The chapters foreground historical and contemporary practices of racism and discuss their appearance in different epochs and locations Middle East Studies for the New Millennium Seteney Shami, Cynthia Miller-Idriss, 2016-11-15 Few world regions today are of more pressing social and political interest than the Middle East hardly a day has passed in the last decade without events there making global news Understanding the region has never been more important yet the field of Middle East studies in the United States is in flux enmeshed in ongoing controversies about the relationship between knowledge and power the role of the federal government at universities and ways of knowing other cultures and places Assembling a wide range of scholars immersed in the transformations of their disciplines and the study of this world region Middle East Studies for the New Millennium explores the big picture issues affecting the field from the geopolitics of knowledge production to structural changes in the university to broader political and public contexts Tracing the development of the field from the early days of the American university to the Islamophobia of the present day this book explores Middle East studies as a discipline and more generally its impact on the social sciences and academia Topics include how different disciplines engage with Middle East scholars how American universities teach Middle East studies and related fields and the relationship between scholarship and U S Arab relations among others Middle East Studies for the New Millennium presents a comprehensive authoritative overview of how this crucial field of academic inquiry came to be and where it is going next Observing the Observer Zahid Bukhari, Sulayman Nyang, 2012-01-01 THE collection of papers in this volume documents the study of Islam in American Universities Over the last few decades the United States has seen significant growth in the study of Islam and Islamic societies in institutions of higher learning fueled primarily by events including economic relations of the U S with Muslim countries migration of Muslims into the country conversion of Americans to Islam U S interests in Arab oil resources involvement of Muslims in the American public square and the tragic events of 9 11 Although there is increasing recognition that the study of Islam and the role of Muslims is strategically essential in a climate of global integration multiculturalism and political turmoil nevertheless the state of Islamic Studies in America is far from satisfactory The issue needs to be addressed particularly as the need for intelligent debate and understanding is continuously stifled by what some have termed an Islam industry run primarily by fly by journalists think tank pundits and cut and paste experts Methodology and Research Practice in Southeast Asian Studies M. Huotari,J. Rüland,J. Schlehe,2014-07-29 This book addresses the question of how to ground research practice in area specific yet globally entangled contexts such as Global Southeast Asia It offers a fruitful debate between various approaches to Southeast Asia Studies while taking into consideration the area specific contexts of research practice cross cutting methodological issues Scholars and Prophets Roland Lardinois,2017-07-14 The book deals with the long and rich scholarship on India in France since the beginning of 19th Century with particular reference to the work of Louis Dumont It considers the works of scholars and the essayists poets or esotericists who published on India and shows that Dumont has been influenced by both groups The book draws on archives and empirical material
