The Politics Of Management Consulting:

The Politics of Management Consulting Gerald L. Moore, 1984 Case study examining the intended and unintended effects of management consultancy intervention with an extended theoretical discussion reviews organization development management and behavioural sciences theories compares people oriented human relations and task oriented approaches discusses techniques and games used Bibliography The Politics of Management Knowledge in Times of Austerity Ewan Ferlie, Sue Dopson, Chris Bennett, Michael Fischer, Jean Ledger, Gerry McGivern, 2018-11-01 While the implementation of evidence based medicine guidelines is well studied there has been little investigation into the extent to which a parallel evidence based management movement has been influential within health care organizations This book explores the various management knowledges and associated texts apparent in English health care organizations and considers how the local reception of these texts was influenced by the macro level political economy of public services reform evident during the period of the politics of austerity The research outlined in this volume shows that very few evidence based management texts are apparent within health care organizations despite the influence of certain knowledge producers such as national agencies think tanks management consultancies and business schools in the industry Bringing together the often disconnected academic literature on management knowledge and public policy the volume addresses the ways in which preferred management knowledges and texts in these publicly funded settings are sensitive to the macro level political economy of public services reform offering an empirically grounded critique of the evidence based management movement Building the New Managerialist State Denis Saint-Martin, 2000 In the 1980s and 1990s the world of governance witnessed a far reaching change from the Weberian model of bureaucracy to the new managerialism a term used to describe the group of ideas imported from business and mainly brought into government by management consultants Over the past fifteen years the British French and Canadian governments have spent growing sums of money on consulting services and as a result policy makers inside the state have increasingly been exposed to the business management ideas that consultants bring into the public sector Nevertheless there are major differences in the extent to which reformers in the three countries embraced these ideas in the process of bureaucratic reform Accordingly this is a book about policy change and variation It seeks to explain why the changes produced by the new managerialism have been more radical in some countries than in others Building the New Managerialist State shows that the political reception given by governments to managerialist ideas has been significantly shaped by the openness of policy making institutions to outside expert knowledge and on the organization development and social recognition of management consultancy The Consulting Trap Chris Hurl, Leah B. Werner, 2024-05-13T00:00:00Z The Consulting Trap does a deep dive into how governments have become hooked on private consultancy firms with dire consequences for democratic decision making public accountability and accessible public services Hurl and Werner contend that firms like McKinsey Accenture KPMG and Deloitte increasingly take responsibility for core public services trapping governments in cycles of dependency Through orchestrating tax avoidance for the wealthy while engineering austerity for the rest these firms have created the foundations for the deepening privatization of the public services further entrenching their power Drawing on case studies from Canada and around the world Hurl and Werner investigate how big consultancies leverage social networks institutionalize relationships mine and commodify data and establish policy pipelines that facilitate the quick diffusion of ideas across jurisdictions Drawing from real world examples The Consulting Trap offers strategies for how these powerful firms can be resisted using people s audits public consultations access to information requests and social network analyses The Politics of Defense Contracting Gordon

Adams,2020-02-18 This is the first systematic study of the relationship between government and defense contractors examining in detail the political impact of the eight most powerful defense contractors It details ways in which Boeing General Dynamics Grumman McDonnell Douglas Northrop Rockwell International and United Technologies influence government from their basic contract activity corporate structure and research efforts to their Washington offices Political Action Committee campaign contributions hiring of government personnel and membership on federal advisory committees Adams concludes with specific recommendations for changes in disclosure requirements that would curb some of the political power corporations can wield It also suggests specific ways in which the Iron Triangle can be made subject to wider congressional and public scrutiny The Oxford Handbook of Management Adrian Wilkinson,Steven J Armstrong,Michael Lounsbury,2017-03-01 Management the pursuit of objectives through the organization and co ordination of people has been and is a core feature and function of modern society Some classic forms of corporate and bureaucratic management may be seen as the prevalent form of organization and organizing in the 20th century but in the post Fordist global knowledge driven contemporary world we are seeing different patterns principles and styles of management as old models are questioned The functions ideologies practices and theories of management have changed over time as recorded by many scholars and may vary according to different models of organization and between different cultures and societies Whilst the administrative corporate or factory manager may be a figure on the wane management as an ethos organizing principle culture and field of academic teaching and research has increased dramatically in the last half century and spread throughout the world The purpose of this Handbook is to analyse and explore the evolution of management the core functions and how they may have changed its position in the culture zeitgeist of modern society the institutions and ideologies that support it and likely challenges and changes in the future This book looks at what management is and how this may change over time It provides an overview of management its history development context changing function in organization and society key elements and functions and contemporary and future challenges The Politics of Structural Education Reform Keith A.

Nitta,2008-01-07 Education policymaking is traditionally seen as a domestic political process The job of deciding where students will be educated what they will be taught who will teach them and how it will be paid for clearly rests with some mix of district state and national policymakers This book seeks to show how global trends have produced similar changes to very different educational systems in the United States and Japan Despite different historical development social norms and institutional structures the U S and Japanese education systems have been restructured over the past dozen years not just incrementally but in ways that have transformed traditional power arrangements Based on 124 interviews this book examines two restructuring episodes in U S education and two restructuring episodes in Japanese education The four episodes reveal a similar politics of structural education reform that is driven by symbolic action and bureaucratic turf wars which has ultimately hindered educational improvement in both countries Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications United States. Superintendent of Documents,1984 February issue includes Appendix entitled Directory of United States Government periodicals and subscription publications September issue includes List of depository libraries June and December issues include semiannual index Consultants and Consultancy: the Case of Education Helen M. Gunter,Colin Mills,2017-02-27 This book is a comprehensive study into and about consultants doing consultancy and having influence in ways that generate concerns about an emerging consultocracy with privileged access to governments and public services It presents a detailed mapping of consultants and consultancy in education as a site of change and modernisation in public sector service provision It considers consultancy at a macro level of globalised policy at a meso level of national government policy and at a micro level with vivid descriptions and analyses of consultants at work The rapid rise of edubusinesses combined with the restructuring of public services in western style democracies has generated new types of knowledge actors within education policy Three main developments that have led to this change are the entry of education policy and service consultants from within major companies into the public education market place the emergence of celebrity entrepreneurial actors and private businesses who make interventions into Universities and schools and the rapid growth of small businesses based on individuals who have relocated their work from the public to the private sector Such knowledge actors and the complexities they bring to public education are as yet under described and largely un theorized Based on current research and drawing upon a range of theoretical tools this book fills the gap Gunter and Mills provide an invaluable contribution to scholarship on the neoliberal restructuring of public education by mapping and analyzing the under examined yet central role of corporate education consultants Their thoughtful and thorough discussion expands our understanding of how consultants promote and trade in the ideologies of corporate culture Gunter and Mills show how consultants are integral to both knowledge making practices in schools and a radical reform agenda for schools in the UK and around the globe This is an accessible and important volume for not just policy and politics scholars but anyone concerned about defending public forms of education and associated living at a moment when they are increasingly being positioned for pillage by profiteers Kenneth J Saltman University of Massachusetts Dartmouth USA The Feminine in Management Consulting S. Marsh,2008-11-28 Through live material from consulting practice and an historical review of advice giving to pre modern leaders this book uncovers a distinctive feminine discourse of management consulting This new lens challenges current literature on management consulting that relies on established masculine images
