The Gasmakers Historical Perspectives On The Irish Gas Industry:

The Gasmakers Charles J. O'Sullivan,1987 British Shareholder Meetings in the Long Nineteenth Century Timothy Alborn,2023-12-19 This collection of reported British shareholder meetings originally published between 1800 and 1920 provides scholars and students new insight into the development of big businesses in the world today Although such meetings comprised only one of many facets of companies intersections with their publics during the nineteenth century they regularly provide a rich insight into each industry This collection offers a breadth of examples including utilities land companies and theatres as well as mining insurance banking and transport to allow readers to gain a sense of the protean nature of incorporation during the long nineteenth century Following a general introduction the book is divided into four sections Doing the Business on day to day financial operations Politics on corporate activities than intersected with British political and imperial concerns Failure on the communication and reception of financial ruin and Mergers and Acquisitions on shareholders responses to proposed mergers Short introductions to each document provides the necessary information about each company and its constituents This title will be of great interest to students of History Business and Finance The Lamplighters of the Phoenix Park James Flanagan, Frank Flanagan, Donal Fallon,2023-10-19 The Phoenix Park in Dublin holds a special place in the collective memory of Irish people From the assassinations of 1882 and the destruction of several imperial monuments to the arrival of Douglas Hyde as Ireland s first president and Pope John Paul s 1979 visit it has been at the centre of Irish society for centuries But the park is also part and parcel of daily life for many Dubliners none more so than the Flanagan family who have been lighting the gas lamps within its walls since 1890 Here historian Donal Fallon speaks to brothers Frank and James Flanagan lamplighters of the park to give us a snapshot of a fading tradition and a unique history of one of Ireland s most beloved places With stunning photographs historical events and personal stories The Lamplighters of the Phoenix Park shines a light on the park at the centre of our national identity through the prism of this singular family whose histories have been intertwined for more than 150 years It's Part of What We Are - Volumes 1 and 2 - Volume 1: Richard Boyle (1566-1643) to John Tyndall (1820-1893); Volume 2: Samuel Haughton (18210-1897) to John Stewart Bell (1928-1990) Charles Mollan,2007-11-15 Biographies of more than 100 Irish scientists or those with strong Irish connections in the disciplines of Chemistry and Physics including Astronomy Mathematics etc describing them in their Irish and international scientific social educational and political context Written in an attractive informal style for the hypothetical educated layman who does not need to have studied science Well received in Irish and international reviews Technology and the Big House in Ireland, C. 1800-c. 1930 Charles John Thomas Carson,2009 By the beginning of the nineteenth century over ninety five percent of all the productive land in Ireland was in the hands of Anglo Irish landowners They lived in the big houses some of which still exist today resplendent within their walled estates Many others are now only gaunt ruins silhouetted against somber Irish skies victims of the troubles in the 1920s There is a continuing fascination with the history of the big house in Ireland Much of this interest stems from the Anglo Irish living in places apart in their estates often in remote areas of an undeveloped and hostile land Part of the appeal is in the characters neither wholly English nor Irish who made up this landowning class in Ireland However another part largely ignored until this study is how many of these landowners not only met these challenges but achieved remarkable levels of self sufficiency It was their exploitation of technology that hugely bolstered their status and independence and enabled them to lead an exotic lifestyle in Ireland Although much has been written regarding the social and political history of the Anglo Irish in Ireland little research has been conducted into the practical problems of living there At a time when there were few roads no railways and sailing ships were the unreliable connection with England existence might have been very basic indeed Charles Carson uncovers and explains in simple terms the technologies employed to not only make life bearable but in some case to become a triumph over seemingly impossible odds An appreciation of this background helps to explain the sense of status and independence that emanates from the big house in Ireland until their demise in the late twentieth century Interdisciplinary investigative methods were used in this work These included extensive archival research of estate papers throughout Ireland fieldwork involving examination and photography of still extant big house technology and the use of published fictional and biographical big house material Much additional insight and suggestions for further research resulted from visits to various big house locations Owners often descendants of the original families or managers and ground staff provided important local knowledge Climbing amongst stored artefacts in cellars barns and subterranean tunnels helped to bring the past alive Something of the ambiance of these explorations informs this book thus helping towards an understanding of the fundamental importance of technology in underpinning the status and independence of the big house in Ireland By examining the range costs and changing nature of the technologies employed this book makes an important contribution to a deeper understanding of life in the big house in Ireland circa 1800 to circa 1930 Brief descriptions accompanied by drawings or photographs are employed to explain the operation limitations and improvements of many of the installations and techniques These include water closets pumps cisterns boilers and firefighting equipment open fires hot air stoves and central heating walled gardens hot walls and beds warm air steam and hot water heating of glasshouses the construction location stocking and use of ice houses and ice daylight enhancement candle oil gas and electric lighting an optical telegraph a church spire engine driven equipment on the estate farm as well as mapping of bogs and their reclamation by wooden railways Technology and the Big House in Ireland c 1800 c 1930 is an important reference source for Irish study groups worldwide

A New History of Ireland Theodore William Moody, Francis X. Martin, Francis John Byrne, 1976 A New History of Ireland in nine volumes provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the middleages down to the present day Back cover Irish Economic and Social History ,1987 The Industrial Archaeology of Cork City and Its Environs Colin

Rynne,1999 Dublin's Suburban Towns, 1834-1930 Séamas Ó Maitiú,2003 In the nineteenth century the expanding Dublin middle class deserted the city for the suburbs creating nine independent townships This book examines the impact that these suburban towns had on the greater Dublin area The author explores the civic achievements of the townships in the areas of water supply main drainage public lighting road building refuse disposal electricity supply and the provision of town halls public libraries technical schools and public baths The reaction at township level to the huge political changes in the 1914 1922 period is also explored as are the attempts by Dublin Corporation finally successfully in 1930 to extend its boundaries to include the townships Publisher s description Industrial Ireland 1750-1930 Colin Rynne,2006 This book by a leading authority is the first comprehensive survey of Ireland s industrial archaeology Divided into five main sections the subject is detailed in nineteen chapters each dealing with a major industrial activity its technology and important surviving sites Fully referenced and illustrated throughout this will become the standard work on the subject Writings on Irish History ,1987 Irish Towns William Nolan,Anngret Simms,1998 The Municipal Revolution in Ireland Matthew Potter,2011 However after Independence the progress of the municipal revolution was stifled by the establishment of an over centralised administrative machine that belittled the role of cities and towns in Irish life in favour of the rural and agricultural Bibliographies on European Urban History Walter Prevenier,Peter Stabel,1996 Saothar ,1992 Irish Publishing Record ,1988 Books Ireland ,1989 Current Geographical Publications University of Wisconsin--Milwaukee. Library,1988 Ireland Cormac Ó Gráda,1994 This book offers a fresh comprehensive economic history of Ireland between 1780 and 1939 Its methodology is mould breaking and it is unparalleled in its broad scope and comparative focus The book unites historical research with economic theory in this book Petroleum Review ,1984
