The Gender Of Modernity:

The Gender of Modernity Rita Felski, 1995-08-21 In an innovative exploration of the complex relations between women and the modern Felski challenges conventional male centered theories of modernity and calls into question feminist perspectives that have demonized the modern as inherently patriarchal or else assumed a simple opposition between men's and women's experiences of the modern world Gender, Modernity, and the Popular Press in Inter-War Britain Adrian Bingham, 2004-07-08 Journalists often claim that they write the first draft of history but few historians examine the press in detail when preparing later drafts This book demonstrates the value of popular newspapers as a historical source by using them to explore the attitudes and identities of inter war Britain and in particular the reshaping of femininity and masculinity It provides a fresh insight into a period of great significance in the making of twentieth century gender identities when women and men were coming to terms with the upheavals of the Great War the arrival of democracy and rapid social change The book also deepens our understanding of the development of the modern media by showing how newspaper editors in the fierce competition for readers developed a template for the popular press that is still influential today Gender, Modernity and Male Migrant Workers in China Xiaodong Lin, 2013-07-18 Rural urban migration within China has transformed and reshaped rural people's lives during the past few decades and has been one of the most visible phenomena of the economic reforms enacted since the late 1970s Whilst Feminist scholars have addressed rural women's experience of struggle and empowerment in urban China in contrast research on rural men's experience of migration is a neglected area of study In response this book seeks to address the absence of male migrant workers as a gendered category within the current literature on rural urban migration Examining Chinese male migrant workers identity formation this book explores their experience of rural urban migration and their status as an emerging sector of a dislocated urban working class It seeks to understand issues of gender and class through the rural migrant men's narratives within the context of China's modernization and provides an in depth analysis of how these men make sense of their new lives in the rapidly modernizing post Mao China with its emphasis on progress and development Further this book uses the men's own narratives to challenge the elite assumption that rural men's low status is a result of their failure to adopt a modern urban identity and lifestyle Drawing on interviews with 28 male rural migrants Xiaodong Lin unpacks the gender politics of Chinese men and masculinities and in turn contributes to a greater understanding of global masculinities in an international context This book will be of great interest to students and scholars working in the fields of Chinese culture and society gender studies migration studies sociology and social anthropology Shortlisted for this year's BSA Philip Abrams Memorial Prize Doing Time Rita Felski, 2000-09-01 Contemporary theory is full of references to the modern and the postmodern How useful are these terms What exactly do they mean And how is our sense of these terms changing under the pressure of feminist analysis In Doing Time Rita Felski argues that it makes little sense to think of the modern and postmodern as opposing or antithetical

terms Rather we need a historical perspective that is attuned to cultural and political differences within the same time as well as the leaky boundaries between different times Neither the modern nor the postmodern are unified coherent or self evident realities Drawing on cultural studies and critical theory Felski examines a range of themes central to debates about postmodern culture including changing meanings of class the end of history the status of art and aesthetics postmodernism as the end of sex and the politics of popular culture Placing women at the center of analysis she suggests has a profound impact on the way we think about historical periods As a result feminist theory is helping to reshape our vision of both the modern and the postmodern To Try Her Fortune in London Angela Woollacott,2001-08-30 Between 1870 and 1940

thousands of Australian women were drawn to London their imperial metropolis and the centre of the art publishing theatrical and educational worlds This study examines connections between whiteness colonial status and modernity

Material Spirituality in Modernist Women's Writing Elizabeth Anderson,2020-03-19 For Virginia Woolf H D Mary Butts and Gwendolyn Brooks things mobilise creativity traverse domestic public and rural spaces and stage the interaction between the sublime and the mundane Ordinary things are rendered extraordinary by their spiritual or emotional significance and yet their very ordinariness remains part of their value This book addresses the intersection of spirituality things and places both natural and built environments in the work of these four women modernists From the living pebbles in Mary Butts's memoir to the pencil sought in Woolf's urban pilgrimage in Street Haunting the Christmas decorations crafted by children in H D's autobiographical novel The Gift and Maud Martha's love of dandelions in Brooks's only novel things indicate spiritual concerns in these writers' work Elizabeth Anderson contributes to current debates around materiality vitalism and post secularism attending to both mainstream and heterodox spiritual expressions and connections between the two in modernism How we value our spaces and our world being one of the most pressing contemporary ethical and ecological concerns this volume contributes to the debate by arguing that a change in our attitude towards the environment will not come from a theory of renunciation but through attachment to and regard for material things Magazine

Movements Laurel Forster,2015-02-26 All women's magazines are not the same content outlook and format combine to shape publications quite distinctively While magazines in general have long been understood as a significant force in women's lives many critiques have limited themselves to discussions of mainstream printed publications that engage with narrowly stereotypical representations of femininity Looking at a range of women's magazines Cooperative Correspondence Club and Housewife and magazine programmes Woman's Hour and Houseparty Magazine Movements not only extends our definition of a magazine but most importantly unearths the connections between women's cultures specific magazines and the implied reader The author first outlines the existing field of magazine studies and analyzes the methodologies employed in accessing and assessing the cultural competence of magazines Each chapter then provides a case study of a different kind of magazine different in media form or style of presentation or audience connection or all three Forster not only extends our definition of a magazine but most importantly unearths the connections between women's culture-specific magazines and the implied reader. In this way, fresh insights are provided into the long-standing importance of the magazine to the variety of feminisms on offer in Britain from the mid-twentieth century to the present day.

Unmanning Modernism Elizabeth Jane

Harrison, Shirley Peterson, 1997. Arguing for a radical re-evaluation of the modernist aesthetic, the essayists consider how women writers created their own version of modernism through the use of sentimental and domestic subject matter by writing about maternal concerns and through experiments with plot, voice and points of view.

Gender and Modernity

Yōko Hayami, Akio Tanabe, Yumiko Tokita-Tanabe, 2003. Drawing on a wealth of ethnographic fieldwork, this anthology examines the complexities of identity formation and self-positioning in post-colonial contexts ranging from the impact of Christian missionaries on the women of Aboriginal Australia to the re-masculinization of post-colonial subjects in Eastern India from the negotiation of gendered spaces in Indonesia and Thailand to the ways in which Japanese popular culture plays with gender identities.

Dandy in Irish and American Southern Fiction Ellen Crowell, 2007-11-19

This book identifies and interprets the longstanding ideological and aesthetic dialogue between the literary imaginations of Anglo-Ireland and the Anglo-American South. It offers a rich comparative examination of nineteenth and twentieth-century Irish and American Southern plantation literatures and their respective representations of race and nation, gender and sexuality, region and landscape, and the gothic imagination. Pairing major writers from both traditions including Maria Edgeworth, William Faulkner, Oscar Wilde, Katherine Anne Porter, and Elizabeth Bowen, the book shows how this transatlantic dialogue coalesced around questions of power, supremacy and gentility. Writers in Anglo-Irish and Anglo-Southern literary traditions recognized and spoke to each other through the discourse of aristocracy. As the book demonstrates from the early nineteenth century onwards, Irish and Anglo-Southern writers conducted a sustained exploration into constructions of aristocracy through the figure of the dissipated deviant gentleman or lady, the dandy. By augmenting literary analysis with a variety of historical, biographical, archival and visual materials including nineteenth-century trade cards, original letters and twentieth-century photographic portraits, the book offers readers a wide-ranging interdisciplinary illumination of transatlantic modernism.

Modernist Women Writers and War Julie Goodspeed-Chadwick, 2011

In Modernist Women Writers and War, Julie Goodspeed-Chadwick examines important avant-garde writings by three American women authors and shows that during World Wars I and II a new kind of war literature emerged, one in which feminist investigation of war and trauma effectively counters the paradigmatic war experience long narrated by men. In the past, Goodspeed-Chadwick explains, scholars have not considered writings by women as part of war literature. They have limited war writing to works by men such as William Butler Yeats's poem An Irish Airman Foresees His Death (1919), which relies on a male perspective: a pilot contemplates his forthcoming flight, his duty to his country and his life in combat. But works by Djuna Barnes, H.D. and Gertrude Stein, set in wartime, reveal experiences and views of war markedly different from those of male writers. They write women and their bodies into their texts thus creating space for female war writing insisting on female presence in wartime and perhaps most significantly critiquing war and patriarchal politics often in devastating fashion Goodspeed Chadwick begins with Barnes who in her surrealist novel Nightwood 1936 emphasizes the actual perversity of war by placing it in contrast to the purported perverse and deviant behavior of her main characters In her epic poem Trilogy 1944 1946 H D validates female suffering and projects a feminist spiritual worldview that fosters healing from the ravages of war Stein for her part in her experimental novel Mrs Reynolds 1952 and her long love poem Lifting Belly 1953 captures her experience of the everyday reality of war on the home front within the domestic economy of her household In these works the female body stands as the primary textual marker or symbol of female identity an insistence on women's presence in both the text and in the world outside the book The strategies employed by Barnes H D and Stein in these texts serve to produce a new kind of writing Goodspeed Chadwick reveals one that ineluctably constructs a female identity within and authorship of the war narrative

Modernité en transit - Modernity in Transit Richard Dubé, Pascal Gin, Walter Moser, Alvaro Pires, 2010-10-27 En 1979 Jean François Lyotard a articulé la condition postmoderne annonçant la fin de la modernité Mais la modernité nous tient encore et se réinvente dans des nouvelles périodisations Il nous incombe de reprendre la réflexion sur ce paradigme la fois historique culturel et social et ceci partir de notre condition de puérils de la modernité Tel est le programme de réflexion de cet ouvrage collectif qui privilégie une approche interdisciplinaire et internationale

Women's Experience of Modernity, 1875-1945 Ann L. Ardis, Leslie W. Lewis, 2003-05-22 A collection of essays on women's history and literary production at the turn of the twentieth century that centers the feminine phenomena Analyzing such cultural practices as selling and shopping political and social activism urban field work and rural labor radical discourses on feminine sexuality and literary and artistic experimentation this volume contributes to the rich vein of current feminist scholarship on the gender of modernism and challenges the assumption that modernism rose naturally or inevitably to the forefront of the cultural landscape at the turn of the twentieth century During this period women's experience was a rallying cry for feminists a unifying cause that allowed women to work together to effect social change and make claims for women's rights However it also proved to be a source of great divisiveness among women for claims about its universality quickly unraveled to reveal the classism racism and Eurocentrism of various feminist activities and organizations The essays in this volume examine both literary and non literary writings of Jane Addams Djuna Barnes Toru Dutt Radclyffe Hall H D Pauline Hopkins Emma Dunham Kelley Amy Levy Alice Meynell Bram Stoker Ida B Wells Rebecca West and others Instead of focusing exclusively or even centrally on modernism and literature these essays address a broad array of textual materials from political pamphlets to gynecology textbooks as they investigate women's responses to the rise of commodity capitalism middle class women's entrance into the labor force the welfare state's invasion of the working class home and the intensified eroticization of racial and class differences

Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female

Marshall, 2013-06-28 In this book Barbara Marshall argues that the debates around both modernity and postmodernity neglect the role of women and significance of gender in the formation of contemporary societies     Modernism Michael H. Whitworth, 2008-04-15 This guide helps readers to engage with the major critical debates surrounding literary modernism A judicious selection of key critical works on literary modernism Presents a critical history from the earliest reviews to the most recent theoretical assessments Shows how modernist writers understood and constructed modernism Shows how succeeding generations have developed those constructions and brought new interpretations to bear on the subject Discusses how modernism relates to modernity and modernization and to other literary and cultural movements Texts have been selected for their relevance to the questions surrounding modernism and for their accessibility to readers with a limited knowledge of the modernist canon Includes a glossary and an annotated bibliography     Writing Back Susan Winnett, 2012-09-18 The migration of American artists and intellectuals to Europe in the early twentieth century has been amply documented and studied but few scholars have examined the aftermath of their return home Writing Back focuses on the memoirs of modernist writers and intellectuals who struggled with their return to America after years of living abroad Susan Winnett establishes repatriation as related to but significantly different from travel and exile She engages in close readings of several writers in exile including Henry James Harold Stearns Malcolm Cowley and Gertrude Stein Writing Back examines how repatriation unsettles the self construction of the returning absentee by challenging the fictions of national and cultural identity with which the writer has experimented during the time abroad As both Americans and expatriates these writers gained a unique perspective on American culture particularly in terms of gender roles national identity artistic self conception mobility and global culture Joseph A Boone University of Southern California

Rereading Modernism Lisa Rado, 2012-08-21 Until about 1986 feminists generally considered modernism a reactionary misogynist and hegemonic mire not worth investigating Since then enough studies of modernism have appeared that 17 feminist critics can now review and debate their treatment of the period They evaluate the progress and goals of the new era of modernist scholarship As the authors in this volume suggest instead of condemning writers for not practicing or portraying an acceptable politics of gender we ought instead to show how their assumptions about the nature of the sexes inform their texts both in their creation and in their reception This also allows examination of the complex and changing relationship between human subjectivity and aesthetics This volume is a highly reflective dialogue introspective and evaluative at a moment of crisis within modernist studies and feminist studies The analysis of critical work on early twentieth century literature not only helps reread and redefine a definition of modernism it also intends to redirect and reintegrate feminist theory
