

Goobabs: The start of the Giggler evolution, this is when the goobab becomes sentient and starts forming a face.

Gunks: The "gooey" evolution, this is when the similarities start to take shape. (color, eye and mouth shape, circular shape)

Squagglies: The caveman of the evolution, the reason as to why squagglies take shape of a square is due to it being hard to have infinite points in such primitive state, they also start to lose their shading and start getting a gradient.

Gigglers: The most common evolution, The squaggly limbs get carried but more advanced, they can hide their limbs since their head can also act like an organic shell.

Glagglers: The end of the Giggler evolution, this is when the gradient gets more lighter, the head gets smaller and isn't a shell anymore and the glagglers growing a torso and start to wear clothing.
