Paperbound Books in Print, 1991 Encyclopedia of Film Themes, Settings and Series Richard B. Armstrong, Mary Willems Armstrong, 2015-07-11

The first edition was called the most valuable film reference in several years by Library Journal. The new edition published in hardcover in 2001 includes more than 670 entries. The current work is a paperback reprint of that edition. Each entry contains a mini essay that defines the topic followed by a chronological list of representative films. From the Abominable Snowman to Zorro, this encyclopedia provides film scholars and fans with an easy-to-use reference for researching film themes or tracking down obscure movies on subjects such as suspended animation, viral epidemics, robots, submarines, reincarnation, ventriloquists, and the Olympics. Excellent, said Cult Movies. The volume also contains an extensive list of film characters and series including B movie detectives, Western heroes, made-for-television film series, and foreign film heroes and villains.

Deadly Fall Susan Calder, 2011

When a good friend is murdered, insurance adjuster Paula Savard launches an ill-considered investigation that quickly turns personal, leading her to doubt even her closest friends.

William Alwyn Ian Johnson, 2005

Ian Johnson's evaluation of Alwyn's film music places his achievement in the context of wider movements within the film industry. William Alwyn was a leading composer of British film music in the 1940s and 50s, a time when the British film industry was at its peak. His scores ranged from documentaries to almost 80 full-length feature films, including classics such as Fires Were Started, Desert Victory, Odd Man Out, The Fallen Idol, and The History of Mr. Polly; he was adept at any musical genre, from classical to cartoon slapstick, and in the process worked with legendary directors including Carol Reed, David Lean, Humphrey Jennings, and Anthony Asquith. Alone with Vaughan Williams, he was granted the distinction of a separate title credit; columnists mentioned him alongside Bliss, Bax, and Walton. However, as the reputation of the British film industry declined in the 1950s, so did musical snobbery against those who were its leading lights; it became unpleasantly raw. In recent years, however, with sensitive performances of his film and concert music available on CD, this most appealing of composers has enjoyed something of a renaissance. In this long-overdue reassessment, Alwyn's films are analysed and put into the context of his biography, the film industry, and of society at large; the author shows in particular this remarkably versatile composer developed a hitherto unrecognised grammar of film music which enhanced every film on which he worked. He also examines his work for war propaganda, radio, and the concert hall. The volume is enhanced by the most complete filmography, discography, and bibliography of the composer's works yet published, as well as listings of his concert and radio music.
