The Blue Dragon: A Tale of Recent Adventure in China Kirk Munroe, 2017-05-16      The United States Marines in North China, 1894-1942 Chester M. Biggs, Jr., 2010-06-25 Like most foreign troops stationed in China the United States Marines mission was to protect the American embassy and American consulates missionaries tourists and other citizens in China During the half century covered by this book the Marines saw China as it would never again be The Opium Wars and Boxer Rebellion gave the Europeans a certain standing with prerogatives and privileges that were looked upon by everyone even the Chinese as a natural order of existence The author discusses early military operations in north China the early legation guards the Boxer Rebellion in 1900 and the Marine legation guard in Peking also in 1900 It also discusses Seymour's relief column Waller's column the capture of the Walled City of Tien Tsin the siege of the legations at Peking the relief of Peking and the Marines return to Peking      Marines, 1998      Mystical Tales of the Oceans and Seas Muska Ayir, 2025-04-23 Exciting Tales of the Oceans and Seas takes readers on a fascinating journey through Earth's vast and mysterious waters blending history legend and science Covering over 70% of the planet oceans and seas hold untold stories from ancient myths and epic voyages to modern discoveries This book explores the unique traits and rich histories of major bodies of water like the Pacific Mediterranean and Indian Oceans as well as smaller seas like the Caribbean and Red Sea Each chapter reveals how these waters have influenced human culture trade exploration and survival From Polynesian navigators to present day marine scientists the stories reflect our deep connection to the ocean With vivid narratives and insights into marine biodiversity environmental challenges and cultural significance this collection encourages readers to see oceans as living entities It celebrates the power mystery and beauty of the seas inspiring awe and respect for the waters that shape our world      The Story of the China Inland Mission Mrs. Howard Taylor, 1894      The Marine Biology of the South China Sea III Brian Morton, 1998-07-01 The first conference on the Marine Biology of the South China Sea was convened in Hong Kong in 1990 to celebrate the opening of the Swire Institute of Marine Science The second was convened in Guangzhou China in 1993 The third conference returned to Hong Kong in 1996 and in a continuing pattern of growth was attended by 127 scientists and students from 14 countries and territories Of the 104 keynote addresses papers and posters presented at the meeting 42 are published here following critical peer review under the symposium categories of Taxonomy and Biological Diversity Biology and Ecology and Coastal Zone Management and Conservation of the Biological Resources of the South China Sea Each conference sets its own symposia themes but in view of the rapid perceived decline in the marine environment of the South China Sea and the overexploitation of its resources the 1996 meeting focused its attention on these issues There are many meetings related to marine science convened by the countries of the South China rim Some are national others are international but most are typically convened by agencies and attendance is restricted to an invited few usually senior scientists Europe hosts a European Marine Biology Symposium that is convened in a different country each year and which sets the meeting's themes. The proceedings of those meetings constitute one of the most authoritative accounts of the marine biology of European waters. The meeting itself provides a forum for scientists and students so that international collaborative research is now a key feature of European marine science. First convened in 1996, the 32 symposia are a tribute to international co-operation in research in a marine environment that of itself knows no boundaries. The South China Sea countries also need such a forum free of political dogma. This conference proceedings is the third to help promote such an event, hopefully one day at a greater frequency than three years. The fourth conference is to be convened in the Philippines in 1999. This volume then is an international perspective on the South China Sea by scientists who research it and are concerned for its future. It contains information that should appeal to marine biologists throughout the world and in particular to those in Asia.

In the Ruins of Empire Ronald Spector, 2008-07-08. The New York Times said of Ronald H. Spector's classic account of the American struggle against the Japanese in World War II: No future book on the Pacific War will be written without paying due tribute to Eagle Against the Sun. Now Spector has returned with a book that is even more revealing. In the Ruins of Empire chronicles the startling aftermath of this crucial twentieth-century conflict. With access to recently available firsthand accounts by Chinese, Japanese, British, and American witnesses and previously top secret U.S. intelligence records, Spector tells for the first time the fascinating story of the deadly confrontations that broke out or merely continued in Asia after peace was proclaimed at the end of World War II. Under occupation by the victorious Allies, this part of the world was plunged into new power struggles or back into old feuds that in some ways were worse than the war itself. In the Ruins of Empire also shows how the U.S. and Soviet governments, as they secretly vied for influence in liberated lands, were soon at odds. At the time of the peace declaration, international suspicions were still strong. Joseph Stalin warned that crazy cutthroats might disrupt the surrender ceremony in Tokyo Bay. Die-hard Japanese officers plotted to seize the emperor's palace to prevent an announcement of surrender, and clandestine relief forces were sent to rescue thousands of Allied POWs to prevent their being massacred. In the Ruins of Empire paints a vivid picture of the postwar intrigues and violence. In Manchuria, Russian liberators looted, raped, and killed innocent civilians, and a fratricidal rivalry continued between Chiang Kai-shek's regime and Mao's revolutionaries. Communist resistance forces in Malaya settled old scores and terrorized the indigenous population, while mujahideen holy warriors staged reprisals and terror killings against the Chinese. Hundreds of innocent civilians were killed on both sides. In Indochina, a nativist political movement rose up to oppose the resumption of French colonial rule; one of the factions that struggled for supremacy was the Communist Viet Minh, led by Ho Chi Minh. Korea became a powder keg with the Russians and Americans entangled in its north and south. And in Java, as the Indonesian novelist Idrus wrote, people brutalized by years of Japanese occupation worshipped a new God in the form of bombs, submachine guns, and mortars. Through impeccable research and provocative analysis, as well as compelling accounts of American, British, Indian, and Australian soldiers charged with overseeing the surrender and repatriation of millions of Japanese in the heart of dangerous territory Spector casts new and startling light on this pivotal time and sets the record straight about this contested and important period in history
