Reshaping True Crime Stories from the Global Margins Francesca

Borrione, Heather J. Macpherson, 2024-12-03 Reshaping True Crime Stories from the Global Margins Voicing the Less Dead uses criminal cases news stories and media analysis from around the globe to reflect upon the thousands and thousands of missing and murdered individuals from marginalized communities Contributors ask readers to consider How do we see these human beings compared to others and how are they viewed by law enforcement and government officials These vulnerable populations are often rendered invisible so how do the media decide what story is told to the public and which one is neglected Drawing on Steven Egger's concept of the less dead this collection provides an interdisciplinary global perspective on how vulnerable groups are erased and demonstrates ways their stories can be made visible

Modernity and Global Biopolitics Sheldon H. Lu,2007-05-31 This ambitious work is a multimedia interdisciplinary study of Chinese modernity in the context of globalization from the late nineteenth century to the present Sheldon Lu draws on Chinese literature film art photography and video to broadly map the emergence of modern China in relation to the capitalist world system in the economic social and political realms Central to his study is the investigation of biopower and body politics namely the experience of globalization on a personal level Lu first outlines the trajectory of the body in modern Chinese literature by focusing on the adventures pleasures and sufferings of the male and female body in the writings of selected authors He then turns to avant garde and performance art tackling the physical self more directly through a consideration of work that takes the body as its very theme material and medium In an exploration of mass visual culture Lu analyzes artistic reactions to the multiple uneven effects of globalization and modernization on both the physical landscape of China and the interior psyche of its citizens This is followed by an inquiry into contemporary Chinese urban space in popular cinema and experimental photography and art Examples are offered that capture the daily lives of contemporary Chinese as they struggle to make the transition from the vanishing space of the socialist lifestyle to the new capitalist economy of commodities Lu reexamines the history and implications of China's belated integration into the capitalist world system before closing with a postscript that traces the genealogy of the term postsocialism and points to the real relevance of the idea for the investigation of everyday life in China in the twenty first century

Career Dynamics in a Global World

Premarajan Raman Kadiyil, Anneleen Forrier, Michael B. Arthur, 2020-05-29 Career Dynamics in a Global World takes on a major question in the global research and practice of career development and adopts a distinctive approach in response The authors address the question of how and to what extent a predominant influence of Western thinking about careers interferes with our understanding of careers in other parts of the world The approach involves identifying career topics for further exploration recruiting teams of Indian and Western scholars on each topic to share their insights and laying out those insights to help both careers researchers and practitioners see their significance
