Heller,1999-04-01 Reading Writing Connections From

Theory to Practice is an extraordinary language arts methods text that enables elementary and middle school teachers to create classroom environments where all students can become lifelong readers and writers. Focusing on developmentally appropriate methods and materials, this remarkably readable book empowers a new generation of teachers to integrate reading, writing, listening, and speaking in K-8 classrooms. Heller's highly accessible writing style makes this book suitable as a primary text for undergraduate and graduate courses in language arts, reading, writing, and literacy. Special features of this second edition include a vision of how to transform cutting edge theory and research into classroom practice that utilizes integrated language arts instruction, a unique developmental perspective with separate chapters on teaching methods and materials for kindergarten, primary 1-3, intermediate 4-6, and middle grades 7-8, instructional guidelines that offer generous, detailed suggestions for applying theory to practice, plus "For You to Try" and "For Your Journal" exercises that encourage critical thinking and reflection, and a wealth of classroom vignettes, examples of students' oral and written language, illustrations, and figures that accentuate interesting and informative theory, research, and practice. In addition, Reading Writing Connections offers expanded content on the impact of sociocultural theory and the whole language movement on the teaching of reading and writing across the curriculum, greater emphasis on cultural diversity, including new multicultural children's literature booklists that complement the general children's literature bibliographies, and current information on alternative assessment, emerging technologies, the multigrade classroom, reader response to literature, and thematic teaching.

30 Big-Idea Lessons for Small Groups Michael Rafferty, Colleen Morello, Paraskevi Rountos, 2016-04-13 30 Big Idea Lessons for Small Groups provides an amazing framework with a bank of engagement tools that gets students interacting with texts. Follow this unique 4-part process to develop students' literal, inferential, evaluative, and analytical skills: Engage Before Reading, Students use a tactile tool like a topic card or a pyramid; Discuss During Reading, Students read and mark up a short text; Deep See Think After Reading, Students re-read and revise their interpretations together; Connect After Reading, Students begin to transfer their understandings to other texts. Developing Voice Through the Language Arts Kathryn Henn-Reinke, GERALYN A. CHESNER, 2007 Let every voice be heard. Developing Voice Through the Language Arts shows prospective teachers how to use the language arts to connect diverse students to the world around them and help them develop their own literate voices. This book considers the integrated nature of the primary language arts: reading, writing, listening, speaking, viewing, and visually representing. Authors Kathryn Henn-Reinke and GERALYN A. CHESNER encourage preservice and inservice teachers to take a reflective, balanced approach in preparing to teach language arts. Children's Literature in Action Sylvia M.
