Tales Of Africa Ii Tales Of Africa Two:

Queer Africa 2: New Stories Makhosazana Xaba, Karen Martin, 2017-08-08 In Queer Africa 2 New Stories the 26 stories by writers from Kenya Nigeria Rwanda Sierra Leone Somalia South Africa Uganda and the USA present exciting and varied narratives on life There are stories on desire disruption and dreams others on longing lust and love The stories are representative of the range of human emotions and experiences that abound in the lives of Africans and those of the diaspora who identify variously along the long and fluid line of the sexuality gender and sexual orientation spectrum in the African continent Centred in these stories and in their attendant relationships is humanity The writers showcase their artistry in storytelling in thought provoking and delightful ways A Tale of Two Cratons A. G. Jones, R.W. Carlson, H.S.

Grütter, 2004-03-11 Given the established nature of geoscientific knowledge of the Kaapvaal craton compared to the Slave craton and given the exciting new interdisciplinary results coming from the Kaapvaal Project and from Slave craton studies scientists working on both cratons were brought together in a workshop to compare and contrast the nature of these two cratons Of the 54 papers presented at the workshop 24 are included in this volume There are clearly major similarities and differences between these two Archean cratons The crust of both was predominantly formed in the Mesoarchean Both contain crustal sections consisting of terranes of different ages welded together by Archean accretionary events Both crustal sections are underlain by lithospheric mantle sections consisting of peridotites that experienced extensive partial melt extraction between 2.9 Ga and 3.2 Ga but this is where the similarities between the cratons end One of the most striking differences between the Slave and Kaapvaal cratons is the apparent seismic homogeneity of the Kaapvaal craton's SCLM whereas the Slave craton is seismically layered The seismic layering in the centre of the craton correlates laterally and with depth with electrical layering and geochemical layering Taken together these differences suggest that SCLM formation was different for the two cratons implying that the search for a single causative formation process is bound to fail Reprinted from the journal Lithos Volume 71 numbers 2-4 Far Off; Or, Asia and Australia Described. (Pt. 2 Africa and America

Described.) By the Author of "The Peep of Day" [i.e. F. L. Bevan, Afterwards Mortimer]. Fourth Thousand, 1852 The Oral-Style South African Short Story in English Craig MacKenzie, 1999 This study deals with a particular kind of short story in South African English literature a kind of story variously called the fireside tale tall tale skaz narrative or the term used here the oral style story Most famously exemplified in the Oom Schalk Lourens narratives of Herman Charles Bosman the oral style story has its roots in the hunting tale and camp fire yarn of the nineteenth century and has dozens of exponents in South African literature most of them long forgotten Here this neglect has been addressed A W Drayson's Tales at the Outspan 1862 provides a point of departure and is followed by discussions of works by William Charles Scully Percy FitzPatrick Ernest Glanville Perceval Gibbon Francis Carey Slater Pauline Smith and Aegidius Jean Blignaut all of whom used the oral style story genre In the work of Herman Charles Bosman however the South African oral style story comes into its own In his Oom Schalk Lourens figure is invested all of the complexity and double voicedness that was latent and largely dormant in the earlier works Bosman demonstrates his sophistication particularly in his metafictional use of the oral style story The study concludes with a discussion of the use of oral forms in the work of more recent black writers among them Bessie Head Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Njabulo Ndebele

Tales from the Basotho Minnie Postma, 2014-08-04 They say that the eldest of the chief's daughters So begins a tale from the Basotho unfolded by the meager light of a dung fire that burns smokily behind the reed screen sheltering the entrance of the hut The old ones of the tribe wait until dark before telling their stories for everyone knows horns will grow from the head of one who tells a story during daylight hours Tales from the Basotho abounds with elements familiar to folk narrative The heroes and heroines are the chiefs and their wives their sons and their daughters Fantastic creatures frequent the narratives exhibiting their awful powers Rustic peace and beauty pervade the stories as Minnie Postma amply demonstrates in her versions of the tales Something fearful may be occurring the dreaded Koeoko pulling the only son of the chief under water but at the same time girls with babies tied to their backs are searching for edible bulbs in the veld and an old woman dreams in the gentle sunlight in front of the huts These tales from the Basotho are for entertainment only There is a tabu against telling tales while the sun shines because daylight hours must be saved for work The telling itself is the reason the story exists for the audience is already aware of the outcome of each tale As Wm Hugh Jansen emphasizes in his foreword text and context are often easily interpreted and made accessible in a translation but Tales from the Basotho is ultimately successful for its rendering of texture And texture is doubly hard to convey when the telling itself is of primary importance Minnie Postma and Susie McDermid have transferred the art of the Basotho raconteur onto the printed page All the simple understandable formulas exclamations and repetitions used so skillfully by the native storyteller are present Rhythm is an important element in the tales and a word a phrase even a whole paragraph will be repeated until the rhythm satisfies the storyteller in turn increasing the appreciation of the listeners

Two Questers in the Twentieth-century North Africa Imen Ayari Cozzo,2016-09-23 This book offers a unique exploration of the work of Paul Bowles and Ibrahim Alkoni and reveals timely insights into the relationship between the West and the Orient showing that they both challenge and extend existing scholarship on this subject It builds on a sound theoretical platform which serves as a solid foundation for the analysis of the overarching theme Theories of place representation Orientalism and post colonialism are discussed in depth and are linked to the deconstruction and analysis of the selected literary texts helping the reader understand the various quests and motivations of the protagonists of the works of Bowles and Alkoni The first part of the book looks into the work of Bowles and is based on the fact that many of the author s texts revolve around the theme of encounters between Western and Eastern cultures It adopts a specific focus on the North African space which is depicted from a number of different points of view including native French English and American perspectives The second section discusses the work of the Libyan author Ibrahim Alkoni as a quester for a Mythical Identity It introduces the reader to the significance of the desert in both classical and modern Arabic literature and its place in the Arabic cultural imaginary This work is highly original both in its approach and subject matter and as such it constitutes a valuable contribution to the study of comparative literature Arabic literature and postcolonial magical realist literature It offers many original insights into this little studied field demonstrating a successful venture into less trodden terrain

The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt,Corinne Sandwith,2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity

This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimagined in the present. Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles, interviews, and personal reflective pieces, the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form. Finally, the book considers the place of the short story in twenty-first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post-apartheid or post-transitional. The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa, this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature.
